There aren't any of those hacks, but there are such things as "habbo scripters" which i believe don't even work anymore either.

No there aren't. You can hack the MySQL tables..
Its not easy and illegal

You could always RAT them. Also the likelyhood of u actually getting a slave is very slim.

Scripting is not dead. Scripting just was reborn by Jose the almighty god.

OP: No. There was a tool back in 2013 made by a German hacker who found a SQLi vulnerability in Habbos login system, you could edit your credits back then. At least for around 6 to 7 hours, then the tool was patched.
This won't happen again though in near time (I guess), so just stay with RATting and cracking.

Phishing is still the best way to get free stuff on Habbo

Source?
If there was a SQLi hole, I'm sure it would be used for better things that giving yourself credits.

Not sure about hacks, but I know that half of the dumbasses on this game would fall for anything, so you could easily make a fake website and then gain their info.

I can't find it, it went viral back then through all these habbo fanpages etc (at least in Germany). I'll try to find his YouTube channel again, you can see the tool in use, screenshots of him and some staff in his rooms, screenshots of the newsletters on the fanpages etc. - it's no fake, I was active in Habbo myself back then.
I'll try to find it.

And to the part for "wouldn't use it for giving yourself credits': true that, there were some Spanish guys on a later point in 2013 who found a SQLi, but they didn't use it for blackhat activity. However, there are two types of hackers out there on the net.

Phishing is the classic way to hack habbo accounts, very easy to trick young noobs.

That's not a hack, this is just a Watch & Earn tool that only gives you junk and if your lucky maybe you get a bronze coin or 1 week HC.

I do reckon something about a security issue which led to emails being leaked. Also a Spanish guy once redirected Habbo.es to his own site, so everyone thought he hacked Habbo, which he didn't, it was the domain registers fault.

I've never heard anything about sqli on Habbo, I believe it would get more attention if it actually happened. It's a very big deal.

I am going to repeat this, yet again. There is no possible way to hack Habbo accounts, unless having a keylogger on the Targets' machine, or if the target somehow shares his login info.

I know a hack where I can become a MOD AND STEAL EVERYONES FURNI!
