Thread: Add a homework Section?

????Chicago Bulls - October 10, 2012, 4:26 pm
I know this is Hackforums,
But we range from The market place,
to the lounge, to the marketplace, and even sports.

I was suggesting about adding a homework Section,
maybe wherever you please?

I think as big of a community as we are, People could get helped quite a bit.
Just my opinion , I'm being serious, not to be a troll, Give me your opinion .

That could be a good idea tbh. If anyone is studying programming and dont no who to ask this forum would be perfect for them!

Not everyone has homework that they have to worry about all year.

Yes, but it's a way of helping.

A few of my teachers are dumb and only like to get paid and don't care about their students.

She assigns us Homework and expects Us to get everything right.

And i'm talking about Math.

I was considering buying Wifi's group and turning it into a Home Work group, Bought a 52" LED TV, 7.1 Surround Sound HD audio System, and a few other things.

Ahhh borat, thanks for the information.
Dang thats a bummer.

I can understand tho.

No, because even if that sec was made, you cannot put "sales" threads in places not in the Marketplace, and people would put all of there HW sales threads there.

Although it is almost dead, Omni suggests using this site.

Been suggested before a lot.
Not sure what the response was.
