Thread: someone to sign up on multiple forums

UDP - October 4, 2013, 2:11 pm
HF! If someone is able to sign up to 100 plus specific forums for me I will be more than able to pay them a reasonable amount through my PayPal account. I'm just really lazy at the moment and don't really have any motivation to do anything on the web really.

If and when someone is able to do this please post on the thread how much your willing to pay and what you think is a reasonable amount for me to give you.

1# He dont have money on his Paypal account.

2# He offered me money at begin to make some accounts like 60 bucks for 50 accounts but now on skype he offered me instead of money DosS attacks or even to share together his profit with me, he claims that he could make like 500$/day with these accounts and when i asked him why you just make these accounts if they are going to change your life he told me he is lazy. (Doesnt make sense to me)

Be carefull, i am not going to waste my time to make 100 forum accounts and get back nothing.

Good luck.

I'm very lost.. You want people to make accounts for you and you pay them? Why do we need to give you money?
