Hello, I am Ankur, 15 years old, from India.
It's my first post here and it's a review request, sorry, I get very less time after working on my forum and going to school. I will definitely contribute to HF if I get time, sorry.

There are thousands of Webmaster forum out there lol.
I know there are thousand of forums out there but I can guarantee you that this one is the most friendly. I am continuously adding features to make it unique. So far, I have added anonymous system, hashtag system, mentor-student system and some more. I have coded these myself. I have some big plans that no other webmaster forum offers. I love my users and can do everything to help them.

You're just 15, first learn, then teach lol.
I am learning since I was 13. I have read/written many guides and have played with many web scripts. I am part of the development team of an Arcade script. I am good in school studies too?

Are you dedicated to your forum?
I have two lives, my school and my forum. I will promote my forum and work for it till my death.

What will I get if I join your forum?
A friend. I can't pay, sorry.

I want to add that I am one of the worst theme makers. If you have good designing skills, I request you to join my team.
I am developing a "Domain Worth Checker" Script, if you want you can help.

I am going to add some services to the WC Shop (you can buy things for the points you earn while posting around the forums).

I own some tools like Sparkol, SEO Powersuite, Senuke XCR etc.. etc.. and I'll be using these tools to provide services (I will also give out domains and hosting on WC shop in a few months). What do you guys think about this? Feel free to suggest.
