If you’re looking for a product that gets bought a lot, i think your best option would be something related to Sports—especially football (as in soccer), target Arabs (United Emirates, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and all those wealthy arab countries) because they’re obsessed with football, easy to gain their attention, most of the population can afford to buy something that lets them watch certain football matches on their TV.

I think it’d be really profitable because of the World Cup.

Yup.

Some networks (Such as CPAHub) has special Worldcup offers which are only available in those countries.

Convert great! :D

Well I just so happen to speak Arabic fluently, so I think it’d be good if we can work together. Speaking the customers’ language would bring in more sales. If interested, PM me (can’t PM due to ranking).

You convert more if you're able to bring the product to your customer. Helping them understand your product increases conversion.
