What you need is some previous work you've done.
That will definitely throw this thread together well.

To be completely honest with you, I'm quite new to making thread designs and signatures. I'd probably make 2 or 3 ub3rs some graphics at half price if they let me use it as examples once done.

If I were you, I'd give out two vouch copies. A thread design, and a signature just so people know what you're capable of. Goodluck with your sales nonetheless.

Was waiting for this to be honest. It's just a nice quote for a graphic design shop, doesn't mean anything. Also, if you would like a free design, I'll give you the last vouch copy.. ?

Well, nice quote you have there. Sounds a bit dramatic to me, I like it.
As for the vouch copy, thanks but no thanks, I don't really need any design now and if I needed one I'd make it.

You seem to be honest, a lot of people here lack honesty. Best of luck, you have my sympathy.

Is this a team or one man operation. Stick with one throughout the copy, because your grammar is a little misleading.

Do not try to be bigger than you actually are.
