Thread: Where can I host my exe for a direct link?

I used GitHub but they're taking it down and closing the accounts. Discord do not let me upload because it's flagged as a virus, even though it's FUD. Please let me know.

ha you are the guy who post exe on git-hub projects masquerade as source code leak, don't fck with github there is so many other spread ur exe choose and for the reason you losing your fud people like me who like to github clean always report the exe spoofed as sln file in project and submit to virustotal

Best suggestion i could give you is use your own private hosting or even shelled accounts to host it, thus giving you more then one way to keep it there a while.

You could use slack, maybe some sort of hosted gitlab, maybe host it on an already ratted machine with ngrok.
