Thread: Voting: January 2011

Crow - February 2, 2011, 12:10 pm

We have our finalists for the past month. Check this thread for more info on MOTM. You can take the next 5 days to vote for whoever you think was the most contributing member last month.

The main qualities you should focus on should be: Posting high quality threads (tutorials, tools, etc.)

Helping members out

Politeness and good grammar

Activity But you can also take in consideration your personal opinion on other ways the member might have contributed to the site. Feel free to post in this thread noting your reason for your vote, but it's not necessary.

The voting is anonymous and will go on until the end of February 6th, 11:59 PM GMT.

Good luck ;)

Stringer - February 2, 2011, 12:15 pm

Good luck to all contestants.

Ally Mac - February 2, 2011, 12:16 pm

Silver got my vote; as at least in my opinion he is the only one even remotely worthy of it. Good luck to all though.

His thread- <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1019892>

My Response- <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1019937>

He also admitted to putting a hidden exploit in his source that he was selling. Which is against the HF rules. In case he try's to delete his post:

He was also a little upset about me having rights to sell his source, so he decided to ruin my shell booter sales by ddosing our site.

He did what he felt was right and now he isn't staff, I am sure he still holds to his beliefs.

Don't go off on a rage now because he may win, he contributes quite a bit. How do you think he got invited onto staff? Not by just posting on random threads on HF, but instead he contributed even before staff.

Why does everyone have to always bring up the past, the past has no reflection on his contributions now.

Nope, Basically Omniscient says to be leniant on donaters, and Nuk3r has been doing so, but has seen constant rep abuse from prodigy and his "crew" so he repfucked them all for a lesson, and Omni got bitchcomplaints by Prod and his crew, and so Omniscient told Nuk3r to make a public apology thread, and nuk3r said he does not want to as he would rather risk his staff and lose it as to lie to the forum and say it was his fault when he says its not, and I know that aswell.

He rep fucked a bunch of people for gang repping this guy who gave people free signatures. He posted in the thread, which led to the gang repped, and told people to remove the rep by a certain time, or they would be rep fucked. Those who didn't remove it got rep fucked. Prodigy made a thread complaining about the situation, Phire was asked to create an apology, and never did.

Classic case of Ub3rs using their ability to give reputation, to hurt another member without reason. Normally happens with users that can't revenge rep.

Classic case of Ub3rs using their ability to give reputation, to hurt another member without reason. Normally happens with users that can't revenge rep. It was actually because the guy had been using a Signature generator and saying he made them, when Glamour exposed this, they all -3ed him because they had +3ed him for the siggy, but he really didn't deserve the +3s
