Thread: Swap my Gaming Pc + Asus T100 for a gaming laptop?

ManBra - February 12, 2015, 10:48 am

I actually hate sitting at a desk for long periods of time. Do you guys think I can get a decent (Slim[er]) gaming laptop for what I have to offer?

Asus T100 Tablet Excellent Condition

A really Slim gaming Pc

Asus GTX 670 Mini 2GB
Intel i5 3330
128Gb Kingston SSD
ASUS Mini-ITX Mobo

its almost the size of the Xbox One, a little bit bigger.

Just need some opinions.

A slim pc is bad. If you want to upgrade parts you'll get in trouble so they're not worth that much. And the tablet won't be worth that much either. Gaming laptops are quite expensive. I have a laptop with 8 gigs of ram and a decent Graphics card priced at $800. I don't know what games you want to play on it?

Coherent,

What opinions are you looking for?

Do you want us to give you pricing?

That's not going to work because we do not know the condition of the computer and tablet you are selling. We do not have a clue how much wear and tear either products have.

You set the price and the marketplace will decide if your prices are reasonable by buying it from you.

Both items are in excellent condition. My brother just got the new Lenovo Gaming Laptop Y50 or something like that. Possibly looking for that.
