Yeah he was selling a source claiming that they offered BTC for your PP 1:1 but lied

Mr. Robot - October 21, 2015, 5:16 pm

Isn't asking for a remove basically the same thing as asking for rep?

ThemezzzzzzI only seen modern blue and purple. Where can I set that theme?

Wirt - October 21, 2015, 5:21 pm
People say "you change yours I will change mine"

and that's allowed afaik so I would assume this is allowed too

its a userscript, not a HF layout o.o

Bluffer - October 21, 2015, 5:22 pm
I'm pretty sure you are allowed to ask to have the rep removed. You could always remove the neg and change it to a neutral instead.

Not sure then, he might just have it for himself.

He didn't actually do anything wrong, rep4rep isn't allowed but there really isn't anything for remove4remove.

I'll be watching this thread for Omni's response because a lot more people do stuff like this than you would think.

Bl?ckhat - October 21, 2015, 5:40 pm
Who gives a fuck if he did anything wrong? You can never anyone for anything whenever you want as long as it isn't flaming, etc and you don't directly call him a scammer, that's not the debate here guys.

Rep4rep technically isn't allowed but this is an odd case, I'd just tell him to fuck off and leave it there

Not the same thing really. I haven't read the rules for a while but I remember it saying no asking for rep, not the other way around.

!!* Alone Vampire *!! - October 22, 2015, 2:35 am

Asking for reps to be removed is not against the rules.
