Thread: Would people be interested to purchase a "$120 bing gift codes generation method"?

Hey guys,
So basically, I own a [private] method on how to generate $120 BING GIFT CODES, along with creating the account safely to get through bing's manual approval and then use your bing gift code on the account. Codes can be used for various purposes like promoting your own website, monetizing CPA traffic, etc.
Thinking about like $20/license without reselling rights. Would people be interested? This can't be found on the internet.

NOTE: THIS IS NOT A SALES THREAD, MERELY WONDERING WHETHER THIS TYPE OF FORUM WOULD BE INTERESTED IN SUCH PRODUCT.

Unfortunately I don't have the reputation at this moment to post in the marketplace and I'm really wondering whether you guys would be interested in such product, considering that there are many marketing experts and webmasters on the forum.

Hell no lmao! These codes easily go for $5 ea and you can't even abuse them easily anymore without domains getting flagged/accounts getting banned. You're late to this scene. Bing coupon abuse is 2013 shit + they hate CPA content and manually check your content now before you push ads.

Your better off making these codes yourself then selling them on ebay for 50% off you could easily make enough amount of money.
If I were you i'd just sell it to people on ebay.

Personally, with the method I use to create bing accounts safely to afterwards apply a bing gift code onto the account, I've never encountered problems. Maybe it's the way HOW you create the account you apply the code to. Personally I'm an IM expert and have been in the CPA scene for 4 years so far and I can tell that my method works and will work for a long time, unless the government decides to remove the online privacy law, but then lots of thing won't work. Due all respect, most likely you were using an outdated method to make accounts safely/generate bing gift codes.

I'm looking forward to selling many products on Hack Forums and build an reputation in the market here, additionally, I'm willing to provide one vouch copy to prove that me and my method is legitimate.

The guys are right, since you are very new it seems a little fishy.

Problem is the risk of getting banned more than the risk of losing 20$. Since I own an online shop and don't do CPA this might be quite interesting.
