So I've been playing Rocket League a lot so made a steam group for it.

Might host tournaments or something later, join the group if you like to play along.

Can PC players play with console players or is that still not a thing?

Yes we can but not in an organized way. I can't invite PS4 or XB1 players to my group but we can run into one another.

EDIT: I stand corrected by Mr Kewl

My housemates play this game on PS4 a ton and are actually pretty good at it.
I can't even keep my focus on the ball while steering correctly.
