I would be very cautious to buyers AND sellers. If you are a seller, I highly suggest you update your ToS and say that ban waves MAY occur on accounts due to scam reports that may occur. And to sellers, be wary of the news.

Shame, all my accounts are bogged so slowly they can't tell the difference

Regardless, you should update your ToS as a seller so buyers are aware and any scam report that is opened is invalid due to your ToS

I hope they set fourth a huge ban wave - that'd be fun.

Hope they do ban it because people will just get triggered

I'm glad I could sell all my accounts before the ban wave comes

Already had this in my thread before the news and reports of any bans. Tried to cover my ass on all bases haha

My accounts are not botted and are level one. I should be fine. Depends on if they go after mass account creation though.
