Money cannot buy happiness, look at rich people for example.

Find where you fall in the cycle and make a change to break the cycle.

Do your hardest to stay within and not let your surroundings hurt your deeply. Wake up and know your blessed to have another day and just like that, in one random day your life can change and do a 360.. Wish you the best.

Yeah I'm agree with you "money also can't buy foods"?, I'm asking why I'm poor, not why I am not happy.

Really you're poor ? I'm wondering why you are thinking such, unless have any disability. Don't waste a sec by despair thinking. Don't be upset with your current situation. Before thinking these, start doing something better.

Like they say, I'd rather cry in a Lamborghini with heated seats.

You cannot deny that being rich takes away most of life's struggles/worries.

People keep saying this, but if you were broke on the street you'd be miserable and if someone randomly gave you 1 million dollars you'd be happier than you were broke.
