Why would it have to be FUD if it is a cracker?

Vafliis404 - February 15, 2011, 4:47 am well it's a cracker that infects you , so it has to be fud otherwise you'll detect it's a malware 0_o ?

That is exactly what I was thinking.

I will download it and post a virus scan to verify.

cOld fus1on - February 15, 2011, 4:48 am

This is a very nice share, even tho, it's been posted before...

One of the best cracking tools there is!

I use it alot, but it's pointless for someone to download if they don't know how to use it, it just doesn't give you usernames n passwords, it takes awhile to crack...

EDIT: And it's not malware, unless you binded it....

If you scan a crypted virus there it ruins the crypter.

You don't understand. The point he's trying to make is that what is "undetectable" could mean a binded and FUD server.exe. You can't bash someone's comment without first acknowledging their view.

So what?

If It's not malicious (which It shouldn't be), just disable your AV when using It, and enable again when finished. No need to worry about false positives.

Asenjo - April 9, 2011, 2:41 am

Doesn't even work, when double-clicked and then nothing happened, probably malware

??h™ - April 9, 2011, 3:27 am

This. Is. Awesome! Downloading now!!!! :P

waabbit - May 10, 2011, 3:24 pm

People saying it doesn't work when double clicked, you probably havn't registered the OCX...

Anyway, I'm having trouble doing just that :S

I save the prjchameleon.ocx to system32 folder, open cmd. (rightclicking&runasadmin)
Change directory to System32 and use the "regsvr32 prjchameleon.ocx" command... I just get an error saying, Make sure the binary is stored at the specific path... which it is... I tried being more specific with my commands also, and running via the regsvr.exe executable, no luck :/

Any help is appreciated, since scouring the internets found me nothing.

Where i Can Dowload Ocx Files?

Silas Botwin - January 14, 2013, 8:32 pm

I searched for an Apex cracker here on hackforums and found this thread. I read that it was FUD and thought that it was strange that he even mentioned that. At the time of the post, it was FUD or by Sonic's scan was detected by 1 AV. I didn't think this was strange because it was a cracking program however when I scanned it just now it was detected by 11/46.

I am not grave digging I just want users who find this thread to know that you must download with caution because this seems to be like the member is trying to infect us.

Doesn't look like it was a viruses, no outside connection, didn't pin itself to start up, etc
