Thread: How do you handle a situation when they ask for verification and you can't prove it?

I came across various sorts of asked verifications like: fingers crossed next to tattoo, sucking finger with tattoo on it. What do you do if they ask something like that?

I'm really new so I'm trying to learn.

That's a good one, keeping that in mind.
Thanks!

Try getting a pack that has all kinds of verifications.
Or when a verification is hard just say things like "what do u think im your play-clown to give previews like that?" <--- worked a few times for me lol.

usually in that situations i try to fast my fingers to write name on paper when they asking to verify which u cannot do i told them i already done but not that what u asking then i send them pic their name on paper sometimes i get them confuse in that way & engaged them but sometimes need to block them depends on customer
