Thread: Ebook sellers and their shitposting - How is this allowed?

It is just pages of him shitposting, just like on all of his other threads and like all of the other sellers. They are pointless, meaningless shit to boost the threads' post count. They literally could have been written by a bot. How is this allowed? The last actual comment was four days ago and that was about inquiry/delivery. It also allows him to bury comments such as these:

lmao and to add to the irony, he tells a member he's gunna get banned for shitposting on the same thread ??

Sigh... buddy vouching.Lol, yeah.

Love how the staff warn me for bumps on my own thread but these buddy vouches don't ever get warned.

Pretty sure that's against the rules. To my knowledge your bumps have to be educational or HQ I.e.

informing of a new feature or sale etc

Why not PM Omni or staff will proof of it

E-book is a messed up market, but I guess the admins would do something regarding it if someone broke the rules.

Most eBooks are trash, except Black Shadow's bustabit guide for 10k/week.

I hate to be that guy "defending" someone who buddy vouches like that... But, look at the dates.
Omni's thread was made much later. He never buddy vouched on that thread after Omni made the thread.

Yeah and see where that got him... ?

Can vouch for his methods 10/10.

Thank you for the report, it'll be dealt with accordingly. Do note that not all bumps violate the marketplace thread bumping rules, and that they're valid if they do add something new to the sales thread.
