Good question.

Hope I can reserve a spot for YT views. My videos are currently getting views from a panel so I don't want to interfere or else the view counter is gonna be all messed up on the panel.

These are actually botted views according to you guys. We have services where Retention comes into the picture. It called HR Views & Normal Views.
Normal views just give you counts. HR views gives you watchtime + bonus likes.

No seller in this market can guarantee you for profit through adsense on youtube.
