Thread: Selling Hashflare Account 63 Th

thepwnman33 - December 21, 2017, 1:21 am

Hello guys

I am selling my Hashflare 63Th account, the contract will last over 11.5 months as it was purchase less than 2 weeks ago. Recently the prices have been raised to 225$ Th/s and the stock is limited in Hashflare, it wont be long until there are no mining contracts left.

I am willing to sell at a discount of 160$ per Ths which roughly puts the account value at 10k

I understand I have a newbie account but dont let that detract you, I am willing to go through escrow.com use a trusted middle man, sign an agreement with scans of our passports and even meet face to face if you live in Spain. As long as its also safe for me I will accept any solution to have a successfull transaction

I am an investor in multiple startups and games, so I have a certain persona/reputation that I can share with the interested buyers.

I suppose for those interested the reason for selling is that I have access to buy physical mining equipment, which I prefer. I dont really want to address people concerned with the legitimacy of HashFlare please do your own research, they have been active for 3 years.

I am selling 63 TH at a considerable lower price that you will be able to get probably ever.
