Thread: Email Doxer / Roxer Dox / Epic--Doxer / Whatever

Zer0Fact0r - February 20, 2011, 10:16 pm

Many of you have probably seen the Doxer offered in this thread.

Screenshot:Spoiler (Click to View)[img]http://i.min.us/ilQLcg.jpg[/img]

Well this is what it does...

It goes to http://www.hotgiftzone.com/rd_p?p=141017&t=1373 then puts in the email you entered and parses the response. Try it yourself with an email such as john@yahoo.com. That's all there is to it.

The reason it works with some emails is because [speculation] hotgiftzone saves the information you put in when doing one of their surveys. In other words, this will only work on emails that have been submitted into the hotgiftzone database, likely via a survey/offer. [/speculation].

Of course. The program relies on people putting in their real information into surveys.

Yeah... who puts real info into surveys?

Someone tried to sell dox from roxer doxer yesterday...

Zer0Fact0r - February 20, 2011, 10:23 pm

Indeed there have been many people trying to sell this program on HackForums:

Great job, and people put in fake shit while doing surveys anyways.

Stenography - May 5, 2011, 7:57 am i don't get it, could you explain 'lil bit more whats it basicly do ?

Starburst - May 5, 2011, 8:00 am

When someone enters an email into the program, it'll connect to the website in the first post, enter the email, and then pull the info generated from pre-saved surveys.

It relies on people already doing a survey on hotgiftzone, as it saves the information.

Follow the OP's advice and put john@yahoo.com in, it'll display "dox" for the email.

You don't need the program, simply use the link, that's all the program is.
