Decided not go give out more than 1 as I've already had so many sales.

Released a new version of the stub including a small change of the % of the system resources it uses for mining.

It looks similar to tee plow's miner, but some of the options have been moved around.

"Thread Closed". Could it possible be because I purchased the whole project from him?

Hello,

i just bought your miner builder, and have a few remarks (hopefully constructive) :
- the loader say "i have a new update", and when i try to apply it, the loader crash
- some options (antibot or persistence) , when checked, seems to break the main functionality, mining !
- when deployed, i get some strange hash drops (like, for 60 clients, from 2kH/s to 0 for a few minute, very regularly), on all of my hosts ===> Fixed, came from my proxy.

Any thought ?

Regards !

The update problem is on our License system's side and will hopefully be fixed soon.
I will have a look at the Botkiller and Persistence.

Don't miss this great opportunity to mine Monero before the difficulty is too high to profit.

Decentral - August 14, 2018, 9:41 am
So in order to make this profitable I need to get spread it and then it uses their PC to mine monero for me?

Just checking to see if I have the right impression.

You can do that or you can mine on servers with good CPU or a combination of both, it's up to the buyer.

Will no longer be selling separate builds from now on. The lifetime subscription of the builder is what's available.
