Escrower's

Help keep the community scam free!

I can openly say that not only me, but hundreds of other members are tired of newbies coming here, making a new account and scamming people. Users depend 95% of the time on the word of other user that he wont scam. But lets face the facts. HARDLY anyone can be trusted but few. This group is made to protect daily users like you. Be it currency exchange, or buying any items. It can be ebook or anything, please use escrower's for escrow. A middle man is a MUST in order to make the deal safer. Only few selected trusted members will be able to join this group. The goal is simple. Make the community as scam free as possible. We will do ANY escrow deals. From eBooks, to currency exchanges, to iPod or even Ferrari's!

This group is still unofficial, but all the members recruited have to have the escrow badge on the signature.

Looks like an interesting group. I doubt, for the sake of trust, Escrow will become an official group, but the idea is very good. Best of luck with recruitment!

I signed up last month but I have found people here that I know from other forums, and when I joined I had asked them if there is an official escrow service in HF and they told me that HF does not allow escrow anymore due to some big scam that happened in the past. That's all I know. I just posted so that you don't get warned or smth.

More like try using the "Search Button" and see if any topic/post says Escrow is no longer allowed to be mention or banned from HF. Never trust random people, always learn to use the "Search Button".

lol... not bitching or anything, but I don't see how "Lion Heart" was accepted, I have more sellers vouch than him and I'm assuming you're actually doing a background check on these applicants right?

I thought this was a fairly decent group until the founder accepts his friends over others.

I don't know Lion Heart at all. I am not friends with him nor I have anything to do with him.

Incredible lives in India that means most of his accounts like PP and AP are not working anymore.

According to me so does support. I may be wrong. But they can apply for this group if they want too.
