Please PM me for more details.

The website is https://rubydl.com and I posted a couple other threads briefly describing it!

Looking for a promotional partner with a decent amount of influence, seniority, or responsive activity on Hackforms!

If you can send send me more information about the project, And how you are planning to pay them out and if you have the funds to do so. I might be intrested

Not looking to work with a network that relies on a diff network to pay you first before you lay your affliates.

Hope that makes sense
