CODERS HEAVEN

Hi guys.

Here I'm again feeling lonely and broke down by coding. I want to code but you know I think I don't get motivational competition , enthusiastic people and many other things. So, if you feel like me, you should join me. We together will make great team.

What we do:

- > Focus on enhancing coding skills.
- > Newbies are also allowed.
- > Helping each other to achieve their best.
- > Will you achieving a professional coding carrier.
- > Will do group projects to explore concepts.

Requirements for applying:

- > No flaming and scam reports against. We don't want them.
- > You have to be damn active.
- > You should be respectful to every one.
- > Ready to help.

Applicaton:

About Me

-!`--!`--!`--!`--!`--!`--!`--!`--

I thought I would add a little section about myself so you may get a better understanding of me! =)

I am currently attending a tech school for 'Network Security' major, so I ve been introduced to 2 intro programming classes so far, which include a C++ semester and currently am studying C# Visual Basic.

I don't have a huge grasp of programming languages, but with my private time lately I have been just researching forums, viewing tuts about random misc computer related topics (hacking / programming / webdesign / etc)

A few years ago I use to play with Photoshop alot (mostly making sigs) and I was really hoping on improving my programming skills but also possibly torrent PS again and work on website / graphics as well.

Basically my free time other than my school work (which includes some research time :P) I hope to sit at my computer alot more, and learn... I hope to make a career for myself somewhere along the lines...

Thanks for the read! =)

Another About Me:?

I think it's important to say somethings:

Since i was 6 that i use my computer and i since then i'm becoming more interested in Internet and computers. At the age of 10, i started learning some HTML, but not much though. All those years i was just gaming, but always knew that coding would be my future, thats want i want to do! So i went to a course this year where they have coding. Started to learn pascal and now i'm very interested in learning much more with intelligent people. Knowledge, Knowledge and Knowledge, that's all i want! Btw, the thing that made me really know that coding/hacking is want i want was the Hacker's Manifesto, never felt anything so true!!!

Sorry for the big text but i just wrote what i felt. ?
