Thread: 17th Anniversary award?

LMPara - May 8, 2024, 2:39 pm
Just logged in and seen that I received a 17th anniversary award. Pretty cool, but how did I get it? Did everyone get one? I seen quite a few folks have it but also quite a few not have it, so I am unsure. Still cool though!

It was randomly pulled from posts. Random posts numbers were selected and one of them was yours. Congratulations, a lot of us have been wanting to get the lucky horseshoe award!

Congratulations on your new award! I see it's your first award too, so that's a nice accomplishment. How did you get it? There was a contest, and you just happened to be one of the lucky winners! Pretty dope, right? You can thank the Site Owner for that one... that's all his work, and kind doings!

Pass the blessing on to someone else! Doesn't have to be necessarily an award, but bless someone else in your life... or could even be out of your life, with something they weren't expecting.. you'll be surprised how much you make their day. Spread more positivity, and less of the negativity that plagues our world, you'll be surprised how much blessing others, turns around blesses you in the long run... Try it a find out for yourself!

You can still win yourself an award... plenty of them available for winning, just by being active on the forum. If you haven't already, check out - https://hackforums.net/awardgoals.php and see where you are on the score board for reaching an award.

Is the award thing every year for the anniversary? I guess that does make sense, never thought about it. Are the stipulations for the contest the same every year..? Basically make as many posts as you can for that months, and whoever gets picked randomly wins? Or do the rules change every year?

I didn't even know this existed. Is it still actively being given out?

Yeah, it's a really cool one.
Main ones I'm aiming for is the Ghost award (personal favorite) and the FPS award (Since I'm a monster on cod ?).

Yeah haha, got a new death comms coming soon. I got A LOT of clips of just getting cussed out.
Even recently damaged 2 tiktoker cod players that were completely dodging $500 cmg challs.

How many rolls/spins did it take you before you got your dice award? It's something about that award, that I really like. I think it's the colors, and how it looks good from both a distance and up close. Whoever designed that one, did a great job.

What?!?! Under 50? Mane, you got lucky. I've heard of some members not getting it until after xx,xxx spins on the slot machine. Maybe blackjack is the one I need to be playing.. or better yet, I'll play both and double my chances of getting it. You got lucky!!

Yep under 50 :O I just checked my bytes history and sorted it to blackjack.

I got the PM from Stanley on the 29th March at 7:15 PM saying I got the award from blackjack.

I have around 15 winning hands this timestamp, can’t see the losing hands but it’s probably not higher because I didn’t have many bytes so I would even say under 40 hands. Crazy lucky shit.
