Thread: [\[TUT\] Getting music from iPod to Computer using i-FunBox](#)

OFWGKTA ! - March 16, 2011, 6:09 pm

Well I don't know if this is already posted or known but I'll do it anyways.

Items Needed:

i-FunBox

iTunes

A working brain.

Step one:

Download iFunBox from the link above or the website <http://www.i-funbox.com/>.

Step two:

Open up iFunBox, make sure your apple device is connected to the computer the screen should look like this.

Uploaded with ImageShack.us

Step three:

On the sidebar you will see Raw File System, Expand that by clicking the (+) sign next to it. Next, Click the (+) sign next to itunes control. Then click " Music ".

Step four:

Highlight all of the files on the right side of the program (These are your music files.)

Step five:

After highlighting the all of the folders, at the top click " Copy To PC ". Select a place where you can find them in the later date. Then, click save and wait till the files are done transferring.

Step six:

Open iTunes, Go to File>Add Folder To Library...> Find the " Music " folder we retrieved earlier. If it did not save as a whole select all of the music folders that came from early that we retrieved from your iPod Device.Then, Click upload or Select folder at the bottom.

Step seven:

Congrats you should be done all of the files should have transferred completely with ease.

Additional Notes:

You can also use the iFunbox Application to transfer wallpapers and what not for JailBroken iPods or iPhones.

Once again I don't know if this is already posted or known. If it was no flaming please.

?Remember to say Thanks if I helped.?

When I did it, it had weird file names, like random letters and numbers..

How can I fix that?

Lmao! Do you not see where it says "recovery music and video?" What do you think that is for? :P I've always liked using iFunBox compared to anything else. Nice tutorial, but it could be in less steps lol

That's cause that's how they're stored on your iDevice. When you transfer them back it'll come up with names of songs like normal.
