Your creations are great, I must admit I've never seen anything like this hehe.
I don't know much where I entered (besides I already took out the page) but it was great, the spheres, shapes, heart and other things, it was great, although I couldn't play, the truth is it was fun to see :3

Impressive.

You're a shell guru. ?

You don’t need to thank me at all—your creations are awesome! I hope I can make something like that in the future; I’m still just getting started with Linux and learning about computers. I wish you lots of success with your projects, and if you ever start making arcade-style games and put together a website for them, I’d be thrilled to take a look, haha. Good luck! :3
