Thread: So, who's freezing my MSN?

Vexes - March 22, 2011, 11:30 am

Alright, this is starting to piss me off. Last night I got my GT jacked, today I found that I have a mrsa infection. And now it turns out someone is freezing my fucking msn. How about you fucking lay off and let me have one good god damn day?

The Stig - March 22, 2011, 11:31 am

Sad to hear mate, do you know how to unfreeze it ?

I can show you how ;)

Vexes - March 22, 2011, 11:32 am

I would love to know Stig, I'm just wanting something to go my way. Can't wait for Levi to DOX the fag that jacked my GT though, that will be even more satisfying.

Nyx- - March 22, 2011, 11:36 am

you are letting them win by showing you care it got frozen. i totally stopped using MSN because skids think they are cool by freezing it 24/7

Vexes - March 22, 2011, 11:37 am

But Nyx- I have alot of friends on that MSN that I can't really re-add. I'm pissed about the MRSA, my GT being stolen, and now this. WTF is wrong with people. D:

Jaxon - March 22, 2011, 11:37 am now that really sucks :(ive had it happen to me too

Vexes - March 22, 2011, 11:39 am

I need someone who can unlock this fucking MSN.

If you have a custom msn address, contact hotmail customer service explaining why you can't login. Just don't use the term "Freezing" because they'll just advice you to scan your pc for virusses. They'll ask you for verification and your MSN should be accessable again. If you don't have a custom email address you won't be able to correspond directly so there's a bit longer way lol.

Well contact microsoft about you're hack and also if you need your shit cleaned from the virus I can do that for you.

MaxPain - March 22, 2011, 12:24 pm

Go to hotmail.com and try to login from there some times or you will be infected by a startup virus which freezing you :))

Yeah, he's gonna call microsoft because some idiot out there is freezing his MSN with a program he didn't even make.

Grizz - March 22, 2011, 12:26 pm

MRSA? Ouch! I had that one while working as a Surgical Technologist.

I did read the OP, but I didn't know what a GT was.

Vexes - March 22, 2011, 9:21 pm

I'm still wondering who did this.

My exact first thoughts when I entered this thread. Making this thread was basically giving the freezer the okay to keep going.
