Hi,
as you read in my thread title,
i want your help to hack my university web site...
So i see they use Asp as programation language in their development...
All what i need from you, is: tools that i need it. Some advices and little help.
Here is the link:

People on this forum won't help you to hack a website for free however you could read up on RFI,LFI,SQL Injection,XSS, and Rooting Servers to help you hack websites.

you don't just use a tool where you put in the website to hack it....it's a bit more complicated then that. As with that i reccomend you not try anything because you're obviously not even on a proxy and will get busted and kicked out.
