Thread: How can i view someones websites database

dbandit - April 3, 2011, 8:04 pm

Im not a newbie on this forum.. I have an old account here but i forgot my username and pw! lol!

Anyway

I dont have too much knowledge on hacking but i did a little research in google on how to view hidden file of someones website. But this solution doesn't give me the right answer.

The tutorial said just type the url and include robots.txt at the end. You will see the hidden files of a site. But no luck.

Can someone help me find the database of a certain site. Just need their email list.

Thanks

You cant find the Database in the way you described.

It is a service running on their server

True (Yoshi-).

I'd say you should peep this video:

He talks about how to go about finding the database type (which is the first thing you should probably go for) and then using that info to poke around.
