Thread: [\[VB.NET\] MinuteTimer \[Timer from ms to minutes\]](#)

A minute timer is a timer that allows you to have the interval in minutes instead of milliseconds.

Such as.

Code Timer1.Interval = 60000 ' 1 Minute is now

Code MinuteTimer1.Interval = 1 ' 1 Minute

Enter this code into your project in a new class.

Code Public Class MinuteTimer

Inherits System.Windows.Forms.Timer

Private _Minutes As Integer = 0

Public Shadows Property Interval() As Integer

Get

Return _Minutes

End Get

Set(ByVal value As Integer)

If value < 0 Then value = 0

_Minutes = value

Try

MyBase.Interval = _Minutes * 60000

Catch : Throw

End Try

End Set

End Property

End Class[IMG][http://i27.\[censored\].com/30wqasg.jpg](http://i27.[censored].com/30wqasg.jpg)[IMG]

Save your project, Build your project, Then look at the top

You will see a component called "MinuteTimer"

Coding them MinuteTimer1 is the same as a real timer,

Except the Milliseconds to Minutes and instead of just Timer1 It's MinuteTimer1.

Code MinuteTimer1.Interval = 5 ' 5 Minutes

Hey, this is good. First time i've ever seen someone post a component here. keep 'em coming.

Thanks for the good feedback.

As I said above, This is a great component for using long timed timers in projects that don't want to do functions every 2 minutes or less.

or trying to figure out your milliseconds and looping it to be more than 65000ms.

lol ... nice ...

i even don't know that ...

Thanks !

Yeah, There are a bunch of things people can do in vb2008 that people don't know don't use or don't learn, and to be honest, A lot of them are pretty cool.
