Here's a simple tutorial on bypassing adf.ly timer so that you dont have to wait to get the direct link

So here it goes:

Visit any adf.ly link in your webbrowser which has javascript enabled.

Example: <http://adf.ly/sdsasdasdsrdasoG>

While the page is loading paste this in the url tab:

Code javascript:showSkip();

[img]http://screensnapr.com/e/LxcvAn.png[/img]

Thats it and you will get "SKIP AD" Button. (The 5,4,3, etc seconds will be disappeared! :D)

Enjoy

FreeHugs - April 5, 2011, 8:24 am

I'd rather wait the 5 seconds, but I'm just lazy lol.

^this.

I would just wait 5 second instead of copying/typing that code into the adress bar takes about 5 second to do,or just go do something else on another tab and when your come back you can press skip. But nonetheless nice small tut.

National Anthem - April 5, 2011, 8:30 am

Well, it's only 5 seconds. I mean some people will spend more time doing that then actually just waiting.

Nice share anyway.

That's why you can bookmark and use it so you'll save about 1-3 seconds?! :D Thanks for the comment through =].

L0lz Go0D W0rk T0 Kill The Timer Muhahaha xD

fckpro - April 5, 2011, 9:46 am

What a great share :D

WE CAN SAVE 1-3 SECONDS OF OUR LIFES ! :O Thanks bro for tut, it saves a lot of my time :P

Let's say it saves 2seconds each time.

So if i visit an adf.ly link - 1800 times, i save 1 hour ,

- 18000 times, i save 10 hour.

Don't argue on it, it's a very useful tutorial. :D

Hopsin - April 5, 2011, 9:50 am

@rapidfire08

Thanks,it can't become more simple than it is :p

@fckpro

I lol'd 10 minutes about your calculation,anyway thanks for the interesting & nice comment =D!

PhineasPhreak - April 5, 2011, 9:52 am

Ahh damn! I was going to post that method aswell just now.

Oh well at least the community knows, good share!

Hopsin - April 5, 2011, 10:12 am

@PhineasPhreak

Aha,conclusion:Faster always wins. Thank you anyways mate!

Simba™ - April 5, 2011, 10:18 am

Nice little 'script' but I guess people would rather wait the 5 seconds.

Well, no actually, I would rather just click the little Bookmarklet and skip the timer all together.

If anyone has Firefox or Chrome, go to the Bookmarks toolbar and make a new bookmark, name it AdFly Skip, when it asks for the URL or address of the website put Quote:j a v a s c r i p t :showSkip(); [remove the spaces in javascript]
ITS THAT SIMPLE!

You're a beast OP.
Thanks alot.

Existence - April 5, 2011, 10:21 am

That't pretty funny but I won't remember that ?

chester1997 - April 5, 2011, 10:24 am

Wait I'm a n00b at Adf.ly like do you get paid for every new ip or just you can sit there and click your ass of all day?, that way I could make some kind of bot that does that.

zzGoWR - April 5, 2011, 10:25 am

AdFly tracks the IP.

Definitly not a good idea to mass-click your links.
Put it in your signature with a little message like
"HELP ME GET UB3R / L33T, CLICK THIS LINK! AdFly link"

vqs - April 5, 2011, 10:31 am

Already shared on HF and its not your creation.Anyways thanks for reminding that :P

Hopsin - April 5, 2011, 10:54 am

@Simba™

Well,thank you. I guess so.

@zzGoWR

No problem mate,enjoy!

@MuiltYhunter

It's funny somehow when it's so easy and still boring :p

@vks_6

I didn't say i created nor this has been posted at HF. If so,LINK ME TO THE THREAD! Also credits were given,from where i got this tut from. =]

@chester1997

You can find your answer at zzGoWR's reply,after you.

aspirin - April 5, 2011, 10:57 am

Thank you for sharing this. Will help me get rid of those annoying ads.

base32 - April 5, 2011, 10:58 am

Didnt work for me. Whenever i posted the "javascript:showSkip();" it just shows the button but i can't click until 5seconds. Maybe they patched it.-

Hopsin - April 5, 2011, 11:00 am

@ushpiy

No problem mate,enjoy!

@base32

I don't know mate,maybe you do something wrong? Because it worked fine for me 5 minutes ago. It'll show you the "SKIP AD" instead of 5,4,3,2 etc so you click the button and magic reveals! :D :p
Also it's : Code javascript:showSkip();! NOT ":jshowSkip();"

Azido - April 5, 2011, 11:01 am

You can make a bookmark button on chrome with this, and then just click it.

Hopsin - April 5, 2011, 11:03 am

@LIUZ

Correct but not only google chrome but almost in every browser like FireFox,Safari,Opera and more! :D

fckpro - April 5, 2011, 12:22 pm

@Hopsin

Hehe xD Calculated for only to make it clear, because 2sec doesn't mean so much to people , but 1hour is a good saving for everyone :D (even though only after 1,8k links)

Hopsin - April 5, 2011, 12:28 pm

@fckpro

Well, i am glad you've posted the results of your calculation,saves lot's of time in general. One javascript = save hours from your life~ :p That's how i look at it.

dheluxe - April 5, 2011, 12:32 pm

I'd rather than to wait for 5 sec. :D

Hopsin - April 6, 2011, 3:52 am

@dheluxe

Oh well,it's up to you mate! Some people going to use this javascript and some not,just like you. :p

Hate Sleeping Alone - April 6, 2011, 4:32 am

thank you for this tutorial

Barneyyz™ - April 6, 2011, 6:43 am

Nice find bro! this rocks x)

Hopsin - April 6, 2011, 7:13 am

@xbiiimalx3

No problem at all.

@motapartikp

Stop spamming,works fine. Go test it yourself,kid.

@Barneyyz

Thanks mate,enjoy! =]

GDK Rum - July 31, 2011, 6:30 pm

Thanks, i tried to use many scripts to try to change the time on the timer, but i never actually considered simply displaying the skip button! LOL

Wings of Redemption - July 31, 2011, 9:37 pm

I tried this, but I don't think this works. The Skip Ad button is not clickable before the 5 sec mark.

CandyHacker - July 31, 2011, 11:02 pm

Thank you for the tutorial.

NathanGFX - July 31, 2011, 11:41 pm

Can't you just take away <http://adf.ly/> and just have http://sdsasdasdsrdasoG

Hopsin - August 1, 2011, 4:05 am

No problem,enjoy mates. Have fun :D

toxicangel91 - August 1, 2011, 4:22 am
