Couldn't you just post this in your original thread? Thanks anyway..

Emilnerd - April 18, 2011, 9:41 am

Nope, hoping for more views here :), and it was alot of bad comments ther :/

Give more information. Multithreaded? WebBrowser, HttpWebRequest, API?

Mr. Anderson - April 18, 2011, 9:51 am

Thanks for the source, downloading now.

Emilnerd - April 18, 2011, 9:52 am

No problem m8 :)

Btw, if u use no need to credit me.

H3x0S - April 18, 2011, 10:00 am

Great source, but I don't like that you are communicating with server over URL specialized for that. It would be much better if you used a "real" login page (<https://www.google.com/accounts/ServiceLoginAuth>)

Emilnerd - April 18, 2011, 10:07 am

Ok :), u can fix the things u dont like then repost :D!

Get your facts right. Idiot.

ender - April 19, 2011, 12:27 pm

i tried this, but when i try to upload, it gives me an error saying: Invalid or missing username...

i already checked that login works, this error comes from the upload method, i was searching around and i saw that we need to give youtube username when using ClientLogin method, can someone help me?

thanks
