so i stumbled on this anime: Rainbow - Nisha Rokubo no Shichinin which honestly after watching the first episode, it makes me want to watch the rest of it :P

any of you watched it, and if u have,...what is your thoughts about it?

HOLY FUCK, This is inhuman...i just watched episode 2, my god this is fucked up and depressing as hell. But that is what makes it more interesting!

im going to put it in a spoiler, even thoe there is no spoiling in there, but incase some people bitch about it :P

Spoiler (Click to View)

it is about 7 people who get in prison...most of them are 15-17. most of their crimes are really minor crimes like theft or what not. while in the prison, they recieve the shittiest treatment of all time and by shittiest, i mean get the shit beaten out of them for no reason or atleast i don't know the reason yet!. and they got a doctor who likes to fucking anal those kids and smell his fingers after (Im not joking). oh and another scary shit in it, there is one kid who is blond with a blue eyes, he used to live in an orphanage, the lady who owns it used to lock his sister, and won't let him see her unless she have sex with him. and he was really young like 10 or 11 young, regardless whether he had a boner or not! (How? i don't know!)

oh, and the list goes on and on. and every episode, they show each persons past life and how shitty they were treated!

but honestly it is well written and very interesting!

i just finished the show, and honestly all i can say...VERY AWESOME and absolutly should be watched!

you will defently like this show if u enjoy seinen type of anime.

and one more thing, the second season isn't as deperesing as the first!

I remember it. My God, it hit my top 10 animes. It was a great watch and I loved the intro. One of the only anime I watched the intro through the whole show.
