Now Recruiting

IMPORTANT TECHSPERTS UPDATE

Requirements Must have at least 500 posts.

Must have a warning level of 0%

No open/unresolved scam reports.

A good attitude, and dedication.

You may have negative reputations but they will be reviewed on a case to case basis.

Introduction
We are the Techsperts, we're a group of knowledgeable members that are dedicated to giving back to HF in more positive ways than donating cash. If you are accepted, you will find out everything that we will do in Techsperts.

Once accepted, you are to read all the stickies in our forum and post in each saying you have read them and understand everything fully. If you don't understand a thread fully, please post and say that you don't in order to receive further explanations, or if it's not appropriate to post saying you understand, follow the instructions in the OP.

This is the only person who can either accept or decline you from the group. However, Qwazz and or Repuhlsive will also be taking turns with the acceptance/denial process.

What to do after you apply
1. Do not apply via User CP.
2. Do not private message leaders if your application hasn't been dealt with.
3. If you have any questions feel free to post them here.
4. Every application will be dealt with in a timely manner.
5. If declined feel free to reapply in 2 weeks unless instructed otherwise.
6. If accepted read all of the stickies before posting.

Remember joining a group is strictly a privilege, leaders are not obligated to accept new members.

Lets say a user gets a warning while in Techsperts, or perhaps gets limited while in Techsperts, will he+she get kicked? Curiousity.

Good luck to all those that are going to apply.

A warning while in the group won't necessarily result in a kick, but it depends what it is for. Same goes for the limitation/ban.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
I would love to join the Techsperts because it seems like a very High Quality user group that is dedicated to helping out others. It is possibly has one of the active sub forum, which is great for me because I am higly active on this Forum.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Graphics using Photoshop + InDesign CS5, Social Egineering, Gaming, Modding, Ratting.

What can you do to contribute to the group:
Upon joining this group, members will receive my full dedication towards them. I will help, support or even just goof around with them. I treat others with respect, and always avoid arguments.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
This was my first eBook on Social Egineering, and I'm currently writing another one.
Xbox 360: Social Egineering: https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1239617
I have also helped numerous members to Bruteforce accounts, did a couple over Teamviewer and MSN chat.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in:
One of my specialties is Social Engineering, I do it over the phone and in real life at anywhere from my local videostore to the fast food joint. I've got so many things for free and it still continues!
Gaming is another one of my specialities. Everyone probably says they're "amazing" at games, but I was playing competetive Halo for a long time. I have been to LANs and Tourneys out of my country. I have and still do play with Halo pros and got a couple of Pros and Semis that I am pretty tight with.
Another one of my specialties is Graphics, I am not going to lie and say I learned by myself, I learned from my sister who is a Graphic Designer. I spend hours perfecting a photoshop job and will not quit until I find it is excellent. I always strive for the best.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
I am mostly in RatsCrew subforum or the MemberContest because I have so much extra stuff just to giveaway. But I'm always browsing through the Lounge, Gaming, Hacking and Marketplace areas aswell.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I think I deserve a chance in the Techsperts because I'm dedicated to helping out members in any way I can. I am also very active and will be highly active in the subforum no doubt about it.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join the Techsperts because I want to be part of another high quality group and contribute more to the community. I have a lot of friends that are in the group and all of them are very high quality members, it would be an honor if I could be a part of the Techsperts.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I can bring guides and tutorials to the members on monetizing and other things I know. Here is a list of all my current skills that I can bring to the group:

SQL Injection, WEP Cracking (BackTrack), RATing (Includes Setup, Spreading, Portforwarding and monetizing from vics), Social Engineering (Manipulation and E-Whoring), HTML and CSS basics, VB.NET and last but not least, monetizing.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute to the group by doing free giveaways, services and tutorials, sharing my knowledge with all the members and being a very active member of the subforum.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: The most recent tutorial I have written was a big one on decrypting passwords but it was removed during the rollback.
[TuT] How to portforward the correct way [NoobFriendly | EASY] [TuT]
How to connect to the Wraith IRC (Wraith Members only)
How to access the C: drive at school. Windows XP only.
How to hack Minecraft with Cheat Engine!
[TuT] Fix any iDevice water damage! [TuT] - Silly one.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: The areas that I am most knowledgeable in are RATing, Spreading, Monetizing and cracking WiFi connections.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: My most popular section when I joined HackForums was the lounge and the beginner hacking. Since then, I have joined a lot of groups and post 95% of my posts in the SubForums. I like to be more active in the group subforums because I can have discussions with higher quality and more mature members without being flamed and/or trolled. I rarely post in the Lounge anymore, I have realized that it is full of low quality and immature members.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be a part of the Techsperts because I am a very high quality and active member and I have done a lot of things to help the whole forum community.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have a very good knowledge of how software is created and how to use it, I have a good knowledge of computers and how they work and how software and hardware interact with each other.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: Being completely honest, I would rate my spelling and grammar a 10. I am very proud of this since English is not my first language and I have only lived in the United States for two years.
What is your current occupation: I am a student.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, I can post more than 4 posts a day. Activity is no problem for me, especially in the group Sub Forums because that is my favorite section above all.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
I love learning new stuff about anything concerning computers, the members that are in the group now seem like very knowledgeable people.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
I suppose I'm above average when it comes to Graphics design (even though I was denied into Graphics Masters...), lately I've also been fooling around a bit with SQL injection and stuff like that. I guess I'm also pretty good with Social Engineering, even though I don't post in that section.
What can you do to contribute to the group:
I'm pretty good at graphics design, so I can help with any designs you need. I can also help people who want to learn social engineering. If people have questions regarding anything else feel free to ask and I'll do my best to answer them.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
I don't have any tutorials (at the moment?) but I have contributed. I've had 2 YouTube services that offered more views, likes and subscribers to any member for free.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in:
Well as I said above I probably have the most knowledge about graphics above anything else.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
Well I'm going to be honest and say The Lounge, I got sucked in a while ago. Lately I've been trying to stay away from there though, and be more active in other sections, because quite frankly, the Lounge has begun to annoy me a more and more recently.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I feel as if I can contribute a lot to the group, I can help people with anything related to graphics and SE..ing. I can also answer any questions about anime if anyone has any. I love debating as well, there's nothing like a good debate when you're just sitting back in your computer chair enjoying a nice cup of warm coffee.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
I know quite a lot about hardware, I help out other people in my class that need a computer fixed or put together. But I like messing around with different types of software more, if I'm not on HF or doing school work I'm usually downloading new types of software and trying to figure out how some things work.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:
I wouldn't really know, I'll go for about a 7, maybe an 8. Even though English is my second language I still think I'm pretty good, I always get straight A's in school (although, that's probably because the standards for English here in Holland are lower than in countries where English is the first language).
What is your current occupation:
Student
Will you post at least 4 times a day:
Yes, of course! It would be a lot more than 4.

Thanks for reading, I hope I get accepted!

Why do you want to join Techsperts: The mystery going behind the whole Techsperts happening made me somewhat curious, of course this isn't the reason why I'm applying. Techsperts seems like an extra motivation more than anything else. Being in Techsperts would not only give me some additional goals it would also make me strive to a higher point of posting quality.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts:I'm decent at Social Engineering

I'm far above the average when it comes down to Virtual Machines or anything likely. I'm studying Informatics giving me a jump ahead.

I have my bachlor at informatic-management.

I know quite a lot about Windows 7, enviromental and in a network, ..

I'm decently skilled at White Hat hacking/Virus removal

I'm skilled at several Black Hat activities.

What can you do to contribute to the group:My current tutorials and coming tutorials written for and under the Techsperts name.

A part of my eBook collection.

Emotional support for all members requiring it.

Assistance to everyone requiring help concerning hard- software issues on their computers.

I tempt to reply on all asked questions, no matter what subject.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I have always been a solid member here. I have learned countless things, and I think this group will be a good way for me to give some knowledge back to the community. I would represent the Techsperts with HQ posts and an overall helpful mentality.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I am very experienced with hardware such as CPU, GPU, hard drives, and motherboards. I know a good amount of software, particularly video and photo editing related, however I definitely look to improve in this category.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:I I would say an 8.5. For the most part I make sure I post with good grammar. I admittedly make the occasional post with no punctuation or capitalization. However, the overwhelming majority of my posts are well constructed and clear.
What is your current occupation: I am currently a College Student, I do not have a job ATM but I definitely plan to obtain one during the summer.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Absolutely, I am on HF nearly every day. When I am on the forum, I always try to give my advice or thoughts on the thread at hand.

Thank you for considering me and I look forward to hearing back from you soon!

Country/State: I am from Lower-Saxony in Germany
Why do you want to join Techsperts: Because i want to share my Knowledge to this awesome group and help as good as i can. In addition I think this is a HQ group where we can share many things and have Fun.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:

Keyloggers: I used a lot of Keyloggers before I started Ratting and have a great knowledge about most of them.

Port Forwarding: I can Port Forward nearly each Router and helped some peole with this.

Spreading: Spreading is no problem for me. In good days i make 100+ Installs. My main method is Youtube, but i use some other Methods, too.

Cryptography: I know how to make a server FUD and also have RE-FUD public crypters.

RATs: As i said, setting up and spreading and all that stuff needed is no problem for me.

Photoshop: Basic skills, can make many good sigs, but i need time to do it.

Some VB.net: Basic Skills, as i said made public stuff FUD again and i am working on my own Keylogger at the Moment.

Removing Malware: In the past i had to to re-install my computer a few times because of some malware. That was annoying, so i decided to learn a few thing about removing it. Now, i did to re-install my computer for a year because i succesfully removed all viruses.

Computing: I am able to build my own computer and set everything up. I am working in an IT company in holidays and i am learning a lot of stuff from them.

Gaming: I am a Hardcore Gamer. I am awesome in First Person Shooters, i am playing them since i was 12 years old. I know everything about the Games "Battlefield" and all "Call of Duty" parts.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can help many members with my knowledge i collected over the years. In addition i can make some give aways for the group because i have a lot of stuff (ebooks, software/...) on my HDD. May i will publish some of my ebooks soon when i have the time to do so.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:

Crypthography
Remote Admin Tools
Keyloggers
Lounge
Gaming Section

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I think i am a High Quality member with a lot of knowledge to share and i am willing to help everybody who needs my help. I am allways working on my quality and my skills to get better.

Miscellaneous

Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I think i am knowledgeable in Hardware. I can build my own computer and build some for friends. I set them up completly myself and install every program they need for them. My Software knowledge is not as good as my Hardware knowledge. I can make some little programs and Crypters in VB, but all in all i am less knowledgeable in Software as in Hardware.

To all those that were denied acceptance into Techsperts, in 2 weeks time, you may re apply. In this time, write more tutorials and boost your skill set to increase your chances.

To all those who were accepted. You will be added to the group manually by me shortly. Read the stickies and don't make a thread unless you have to.

So now that I've added everyone to the group, recruitment is back open.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I would really like to join this group because I love learning new things and I love meeting new people.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I have some knowledge under the categories of Computing, RATs, Keyloggers, Virus Detection/Removal and can also bring care and love to the group :).
What can you do to contribute to the group: I will try to help any members who need the help and will try to offer tutorials on things regarding "Tech".
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: No, not on this forum. But, I have written some on other forums.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Computer setup/problems, RATs.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I like to look around a lot in the marketplace, I go into the Gaming section a lot, and I also go into the UB3R forum a lot.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I think I would be a good applicant in this group because I feel I would like to help people and make new friends. I can stay active in this section and hopefully provide people with things they need as well.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I know the basics of computer hardware, mostly the common sense ones plus others. I am decent in things like Photoshop and Flash. I like designing things sometimes so I can get really into them.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would rate it around an 8 or a 9. I'm saying this because I always try to look out for my spelling and grammar mistakes. But, no one is perfect and I make mistakes sometimes just like others.
What is your current occupation: I am in High School and I currently don't have a job. I will be getting a full time job when the summer comes around though.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, I will post at least 4 times a day when I am able to access HF, which is most of the time.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Programming, graphics, computer security, and social manipulation. (More so in real life, it is easier for me to manipulate people with my tones of voice and actions, than just written and typed word.)
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: The Alliance sub-forum and the Visual Basic and .Net Framework sections.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I am a high quality, kind, giving, and caring member.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I am far more versed with software than hardware as I have always been into programming, though hardware has always fascinated me. I would love to see what this group has to offer in terms of hardware knowledge.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would say an 8 or a 9. I have near perfect spelling and outstanding grammar, but I do have my moments where I am too tired to know what I am typing and so on.
What is your current occupation: Student, I start college in 4 months.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Unless I am unable to post on the entire forum, yes I will.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: The basics to advanced. I know pretty much to be honest, things where I should work on (and currently working on) are: Coding, memory (physical) and imaging.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I'd say an 8. Even though I am a foreigner and English is not my native language, I think I can manage.
What is your current occupation: Currently I follow an IT course of 4 years, and I am now in the 2nd year. As for financial support, I work in a computer store.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: That surely wouldn't be a problem.

I'd also like to add that I do not meet the 500 post requirement, but that's pretty much because of the rollback and will be up in a couple of days.

Thanks for listening and I hope you take me in consideration.

Age: Sixteen
Country/State: Tennessee, United States
Why do you want to join Techsperts: To spread my vast knowledge amongst others and to work as a team. Also to learn tips from the best of the best. I'm not going to lie, One of the reasons I want to join is to show off that I, have made it into one of the most respectful, High quality groups as well. I think it would be a complete honor to join and I will not disappoint the group. I want to join to be apart of something great, a group that has knowledge about helping each other, and have a goal to improve the quality. I want to be able to say I'm apart of that, and say I contributed to the making Techsperts the best group ever. I'm also a big fan of Tech related things.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
PhotoShop

Coding (Java, php, .css, VB, c#, C++)

RATS

Operating systems

Hardware

Applications

Websites (Forums, specifically MyBB software)

Gaming (WoW, CoD, MineCraft)

Social Engineering

General Computer Knowledge/Navigation

Linux, Ubuntu

I have very good grammar and apply it in every single one of my posts.

Server spreading

Activeness

Virus Removal

What can you do to contribute to the group: Donation by cash, HQ posting, assisting others about computer issues, Team viewing, free signatures, Free RAT set ups, Accounts, User upgrades. Also, if anyone ever needs advice or someone just to talk to, I'm there. I want to make it clear as daylight, I will always be there to help others members. No matter what; It's my number one goal and I plan on achieving it, and keeping it that way. Something that I offer that is unique would be my ability to offer wisdom, in a kind respectful manner. I'm not going to lie and tell someone that their work is better then it is, I will always offer constructive criticism, over ignorant, blind criticism. I have the ability to listen, I feel that sometimes someone just needs to vent feelings, and I can be there to just be someone to listen to what they have to say, without judging them. I put myself in ones shoes before coming to conclusions, that way I can better understand for myself for my judgement.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I have two in the making; they should be posted within the next week. I've been pretty busy lately and unable to finish them.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Computers (hardware, software, networking and programming). It's my favorite thing to do and I highly enjoy it.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Computer, Hacking, Webmasters, and Graphics. In those sections I find I can help the most users. I like to help other people a lot. I'm also very familiar with those topics and more inclined to visit them.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I know every single part of a computer inside and out. I've completely taken them apart and put them back together multiple times, for multiple computers (this includes laptops). I'm very experienced in software. I can do anything from loading new Operating Systems, installing things, coding, and virus removal.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would have to say a 9 on this one. I put forth and effort to use correct grammar and spelling in every single one of my posts. I use a spellchecker add on so all of my words are typed correctly. I barely ever make sentence fractures or run ons. I made a six on my writing test this year (My junior year in high school). A six is the highest possible score. I copied and pasted this application before I was done with it into Microsoft Word and had no major errors (a few typos, I'm human).

What is your current occupation: School and sports mainly. I've swam my whole time in high school for two teams (club and school). I'm starting baseball soon. I plan on getting a job at Best Buy for the geek squad over summer (already been accepted and work on weekends). However I remain pretty active on Hack forums.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Oh, hell yeah. I'm extremely active in all of my groups. I've never been kicked from a group due to inactivity. I enjoy being in all of my groups, but I would be proud to wear Techsperts as primary user group display.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I would like to join the techsperts because it is a very HQ group of people who believe in unity. It seems like there is brotherhood within the group, and I would like to be a part of that.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I know the following coding languages:
PHP

CSS

VB.Net

I also have knowledge of RATing, some SE'ing, and website hacking.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can be there for anyone who is in need. When someone has a problem, I will try my best to help that person out. If someone requests an account of some sort, I can look through my logs and give it to them if I have it.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I have a very nice SQL Injection tutorial which can be found here: SQL Injection Tutorial

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am most knowledgeable in the following areas:PHP

XHTML

RATing

Website Hacking

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I hang out in The Lounge, Beginner Hacking, PHP Development, and Ub3r sections.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I believe I deserve to be apart of the Techsperts because I am a very friendly member, I contribute whenever I can, and I would be a great addition to the group.

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I know enough knowledge about hardware that I can build my own computer. For software, I have an average knowledge.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would give myself a 10. I choose 10 because I was taught in 7th and 8th grade by a english college professor and I live in the USA, so grammar and spelling is very easy.

What is your current occupation: I computer program for people. I am also a hardcore gamer.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: Because I wholeheartedly feel I could help make it into something more, given the chance to so. It's also a high quality group. Which means there won't be anything LQP in there.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I'll be honest. A lot. I'm not trying to brag or anything but, if you've seen the applications I've put in before, for Black Knights, and The Alliance, then you'd see I'm not kidding. But in a nut shell, programming, software, hardware, general experience, hacking, security, methodologies. And so on.

What can you do to contribute to the group: Post high quality classes, and or guides. Or just contribute HQ post in general.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I have. However most of them are in The Alliance, so you would need access to that to be able to see them. But, here's a thread containing those links. VWBC. That's the "home room" to my webinar. I also have other guides, like my How To series, however, I don't feel as though that should be considered, given the time I made it, and the fact I'm going to rewrite it soon.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Security. Programming. Hardware. Software.

Methodologies.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Rules & Announcements. Website and Forum hacking. I like to help people. I don't care for the lounge or others.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I can't say I do deserve, then again, I can't say anyone does. I can only hope you, the applicators, believe I deserve to be a part of Techsperts. On a personal opinion though, I would like to think that I deserve it, due to my HQ post/threads. My constant helping of other members, my willingness to help others. And reasons like that.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have built my own computer and devices from ground up. I have endlessly played around with computer parts, and I have fixed a great many things in hardware relations. As for software, I can program them, break them, fix them, pen test them, critique them.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: Hmm. I'd have to say a 8.7 to a 9.5. This being because, English is my best "basic subject", however I can't say I've mastered it. It is however my native tongue and even then everyone is bound to make mistakes. I can't honestly say it's perfect.

What is your current occupation: Self Employed Game Designer, Director of WCS&R, CEO of Veteran Rescue, and freelance programming. (All proof can be shown, if you'd like. I'm not even kidding. I'm registered by state. These are all legit businesses, with EIN, Orca, 501c, and other licenses.)

Will you post at least 4 times a day: Overall on the forum? Or in the sub forum? Either way the answer is yes. I'm usually good with posting a lot. On a good day I can easily knock out 100-200 post in a day.

-Viral.

Side note: Again, I realize a 20 year old CEO and president, is hard to believe, Ergo, If the Op or other who is accepting/denying would like proof. I'm more than happy to send them a PM with the info. Or if they like, they can have the papers mailed to them.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:Design - Photoshop. Done multiple personalized Sigs for the RAT's Crew.

The Art of Social Engeneering.

Some knowledge in C++, as for my school project I'm coding a 2D platform game along with 2 friends of mine.

Basic VB6, VB.net , C#.net knowledge

Teach some SLQi, Blind SQLi , not much as I'm still a beginer with only a few months experience.

An extensive knowledge in RATing and all that it involves. Including Crypting + SE + spreading. And the best ways to cover your virus and the best tricks to cover it up.

Desinfecting Skills. As you can't be the best in RATing without being the best in knowing how to defend against it and clean yourself if infected.

Speeding up a computer's performance (not talking about OC in this case)

Overclocking [graphics + cpu + RAM]

Fixing multiple Windows problems as I consider myself an andvanced windows user. Tho I'm a rookie @ Linux, ubunto. Some knowledge on Mac OS's.

What can you do to contribute to the group: Web vuln scans.

Multiple Accounts.

Tuturials in Multiple matters.

Support, in everything I can.

Bring my Funny side.

Be active as much as I can.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in:Designing. I'm doing every single xvisceral's threads design (BlackShades Products.)

Fixing hardware, software problems.

RATing.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: The RAT's Crew Subforum and the 2nd one should be the cryptography section.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I'm trying to learn and learn, I want to be better and do better. You can't be the best if you don't learn from the best and I think that I will gain loads of knowledge if I ever join your group.
I've given my best in every single thing I've done.
I just have this huge need to learn.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Extensive knowledge in every photomanipulation software. Know what's needed to improve a computer's performance. Overclocking, yet not a crazy overclocking. I even have a small businness repairing PC's. Get about 2-5 Laptops, Desktops a week to repair, only failed once to get a computer fixed. Have been doing this for about 3 months. Have built my own rig from scratch when I was 14, all by myself. I know how mostly every hardware works, what it does and how it does. Extensive knowledge in permormace increaser softwares, tho I rather do it manual and learn more.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 8. Scored 19 on a scale of 1-20 on my school's english final exam. English is not my native language as you might have noticed.
What is your current occupation: Student.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I'm used to those minimum post rules. The RATs crew enforces a 2 posts a day rule and I've never had any difficulty following it. And in my honest opinion 4 posts isn't hard to reach in anyway. If I do not manage to use the Internet one day I shall post double the day after.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: Because I have a great interest in Computer hardware and software. My main field of interest is also the area in which Techsperts are focusing at.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: My knowledge within Computer Hardware and Software. Both Desktop and Mobile Oriented. In addition to my limited knowledge within programming, Hacking methologies and computer security.
What can you do to contribute to the group: Post high quality content in addition to assisting fellow members with possible issues in regards to Hardware / Software
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I have not written any tutorials as of yet, I mainly focus on helping others thus leaving little time to make an informative thread
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Security, Mobile Hardware and Mobile Software
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: The Lounge, White Hat Help, Computer Security
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Because I have a great interest in Hardware and Software. To sum up my interest within IT in general I read these publications daily (Merely a few of them);

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have build my own computer, I have modified my mobile hardware to improve certain areas of the device. I have a great interest in taking apart mobile hardware then reassembling them in certain cases adding a few extra components giving the gadget another area of usage.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I'd guess my grammar would be hovering around 7-7.5.
What is your current occupation: I am unemployed which are rather usual at my age where I am living. However I am constantly searching for knowledge hence reading a great deal of IT publications every day, I know a fair amount about upcoming technologies in newer gadgets from Samsung, Apple, Sony and other lesser known companies.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Depends, as of now I am rather occupied but as summer break is approaching I see no reason as to why I can't remain active however at most I could manage 3 posts a day which is rather reasonable IMHO. I tend to write longer posts then half a sentence like most others.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I would have to say coding is my most knowledgeable area, C++ specifically.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I'm usually in the marketplace discussion or .NET section.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I've been a member here on HF for over two years and have contributed a lot of useful resources to the community. I still want to help the community prosper by giving back even more to Techsperts.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I've built 2 computers from bare hardware parts before, I've also coded an application to work with a circuit board I built to turn a light on and off.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join the group because this group does not seem like a group that would accept just anyone. Yes it's a "new" group so I don't know much about it. But I would like to see for my self, as you said "If your accepted into the group, you will find out everything we do in Techsperts". You also said that Techsperts is "a group of knowledgeable members that are dedicated to giving back to HF in more positive ways than donating cash", well I haven't donated no, but something that I love doing on HF is helping other members, I spend my day in the Hacking section helping any member I can.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Depends what you mean by skills, haven't really explained much what the group does. But of course hacking, the basic things since mostly everyone on this site needs help with basic things such as RATTING, SQLi, etc. Also, SE and whatnot.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I will contribute my knowledge that I contain in this average sized brain.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Nope, sorry! There isn't really anything I could make a tutorial or guide about, everyone has already done it.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Anything with hacking, something that I like to do is malware removal. So I'm pretty much a grey hat instead. xD

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:

The Hacking section, sub-forums, Botnets, Beginner Hacking, because I love helping new members, and old ones, I treat everyone equally. I also kinda like the Electronics and Gadgets sub-forum.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be apart of Techsperts because I consider my self to be a nice, non-asshole, awesome, cool, smart, fast learning, high quality member. I don't want to join just for the userbar like some people here do.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I don't do much hardware, my dad does, well both but I never quite wanted to learn that. I guess I'm more of a software person. Coding, skills with various programs such a Photoshop, etc.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: My spelling, grammar and use of the English language from the scale of 1 to 10 is probably a 8.5 or maybe a 9; I don't like spelling anything wrong. I'm not going to say 10 like some people since I do not always make perfect spelling, this should go the same towards them.

What is your current occupation:
High School, I'm trying to earn money online. Learning different coding languages, make some programs, etc.

Will you post at least 4 times a day: Does up to 10 times a day sound good? But to answer yes, I will try to post 4 times a day, unless there isn't a thread that 1. Doesn't catch my interest (I don't want to spam), or 2. Doesn't really make sense to me cause I don't know what the person means. So I'll try to make a thread that way other people who feel the same will have some where to post. (This is common in many groups)

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I know Ratting/Spreading/Keylogging/Being friendly and listen to people if they need someone to talk to ;)/SE/Human manipulation/Selling/Ebay i have been really active on the ebay scene, earning me alot of money :).
What can you do to contribute to the group: Free stuff, being a nice person to all. Helping out if someone needs it.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: None. Since i dont have any totally unknown guides/tutorials, and i dont want to write anything that has been done before. But if i ever do i will ofcourse publish it.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Selling/Ebay - I could definitely help some out with in that area
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Market place. And the giveaway section me being the author of the threads im looking on.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I have allways been friendly towards all people, unless they did'nt deserve to be friendly against. I have never had any "enemies" no negative reps and so on. And again i would really like to be a part of your group.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: Seems like one of the very few legit groups with a true purpose and decent members. My life is about tech. I live with it, breath with it, and yes I sleep with it.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I am skilled in all major operating systems (Windows, Mac, Linux) and a few not so major operating systems (fusion os). I am skilled with networking, server administration, and building custom computers. Basic encryption is also something I do, but nothing major.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute my knowledge to help anyone to has any type of computer issue or question. (as long as it deals with tech from the 21st cent. :p)
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

I used to have some tuts, but can not find them on hf.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Computer programs, operating systems, server setup/administration, networking, and computer hardware.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I usually stay within the graphics section, web hosting, and webmaster section. However, you will sometimes locate me in the os section or hardware section if I see something neat.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I am highly skilled in the technical area and I have great skills which will allow me to assist members who need it as well as being able to tech other members of the group new things. I also have the will to learn, so if I see something I do not know, I'll be here to learn as well.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have built my own PC and help at a computer repair shop in my area. For software, I work with C++ and VB. I also run well in almost any major computer application/suite.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would have to say around 7.5-8. I try my best to make sure people understand me correctly when I type. Spelling is not really an issue, we all have spell check on our browsers.
What is your current occupation: I am currently a freelance website designer and a local networks administrator's assistant. I also run a web hosting company and might have a internship at Microsoft.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I post a lot more than that, so yes.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: As I say in most of my applications it's simply to learn more, to become a part of the more active and higher quality members, and to help whoever I can. As soon as I joined the alliance and the wraith I noticed a few members I have never seen before. I not only noticed them but I noticed their dedication to high quality posting and that they thrived to help the community. I would love to become a part of something more.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Video editing is one of them. The gold medal award I have is one of my worst edits and I somehow received it. If I knew an award would come with the video I would have put much more effort into it. Also: Virus Removal
RAT help
Healthy lifestyle and workouts
Building pc's general help
General pc knowledge.
Forum setup
Basic website set up
Etc.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I don't have much to give away right now as money as tight but I can contribute with high quality posts. I can help members with multiple computer related problems or recommendations as well as lifestyle choices. I realize it's a little irrelevant for the techsperts but I have seen a few questions like these asked in subforums.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: [Noob Friendly Tutorial] How to use Albertinos RAT. ARC [Noob Friendly Tutorial]
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Blackhat unfortunately/ custom rigs and requirements.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: The subforums of my groups/gaming section. I "lurk" the white hat help section frequently but often see the HJT team already resolving the issues.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I never post low quality. I have had the opportunity to spam the forums with "congrats on this and that" to increase my post count but very often I refuse to post in a thread that I don't feel like I can contribute to. Not only that but I have offered the community with tutorials and giveaways :
[FREE][TUT] Tutorials From LearnVisualstudio HIGH QUALITY VB.Net/C#/More![TUT][FREE]
[FREE]Demonoid Invites[FREE]
Giving away 1 license for iRtehStealer. [WE HAVE A WINNER] [FREE] Torrent-Damage Invite
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=736882

I don't post threads unless they help the community and I never leech. I've request 2-3 things tops from other members.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
I have been building and upgrading my gaming rigs for about 5 years now.
Sony Vegas
After effects
Some Photoshop Various RAT's
Various AV's.
Some c#
Previously staff/support for iRtehStealer

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I'm not an English major but I would like to say my grammar and spelling is at least an 8 or 9. The biggest reason for the 8 is because almost a third of my posts on Hack Forums are posted from my phone, while I'm at work; which means I'm driving.
What is your current occupation: Delivery Boy - In school to become EMT certified. Soon to be a firefighter.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes I do. The reason my posts show 3.52 a day right now is because a few weeks or maybe months ago now I was inactive due to personal issues. This dropped my post count from 15~ a day to less than 1. I have been posting in my subforums though and I'm in 3. So I have at least 6 posts a day plus the helpful posts I have for the alliance.

Also I have your approval. If this application is not suffice I will add to it. I just see you have a lot to go through and rather not waste your time.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: Well I'm a high quality member, that used to contribute A LOT, and I want to get back to the old days, where I used to supply the forum with good tutorials, etc. Oh, and it's run by TRRS, obviously.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Well I have skills in the following subjects:
Computers and hardware,
Software,
Virus'/Malware,
RATs,
IRC (Not so sure anymore, not set up an IRC in a while),
VB.Net,
Keyloggers/Stealers,
Different types of botnets.
What can you do to contribute to the group: Well I can supply help to anyone that needs it, and if I get enough time I could submit some good tutorials.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Yup, some of them are on my old profile, though (The one which I knew you on):
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=355730
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=229114
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=156683

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: VB.Net, computing and hardware, software, etc.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Well usually The Lounge/Xbox Section/Innuendo now because HF isn't what it used to be.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I'm a high quality member, and I do love to contribute, but I need somewhere where I can contribute all of my things to, which is where Techsperts comes in.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Well I can build a computer from scratch, I know about all hardware, and I know a lot of software that can help you succeed in your user needs.. I'm currently taking an ICT course at college where I learn about this stuff, too.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 9? I'm not sure. I got two C's in GCSE, haha.
What is your current occupation: Fast food and student (FTW).
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, I will try my hardest.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I believe I'd be a good contribute to the group.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I have an abundance of skills to which I can bring to the TechSperts group. I'm very knowledgeable when it comes to computers. I myself can help members keep their computers virus free and prevent virus' in the first place. I am now writing a tutorial on this topic, spending near two weeks on the project. I think it would be good to publish the tutorial under the TechSperts group. I'm sure it will be good enough to turn heads towards TechSperts.

What can you do to contribute to the group: Included above. I really couldn't list all of the important tasks I could accomplish.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: In the process of writing a tutorial which blows other white hat tutorials out of the water.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: All program based hacking tools, Recommendations on computer parts, Troubleshooting, network setup/port forwarding.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I enjoy all parts of the forum and try to space out my posts to various forums. I want to be most knowledgeable in all regions of computers, social engineering etc.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Simply because I'm one of the more higher quality members. I know my place and fully understand I'd be a great asset of TechSperts

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have the software skills of minor coding and a high level of skill in the areas of graphical design(Photoshop). I have replaced parts in my laptop without instructions, I learn quickly and can pick up on even some of the harder tasks.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I'd place myself at a solid 9, Their are some times I tend to "slack off" on some posts. This happens very rarely.

I doubt recruitment will be open for a month. You'll probably need to apply once they are recruiting again. I'm guessing this will be open for a couple of days tops. I'm not a leader though so I can't say but I would just wait and see. I doubt they'll allow you to apply with a warning as the black knights are strict on their warning levels.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join the Techsperts in hopes of being a member that can not only learn, but can teach some things to the other members in the goup, so I can feel like I am contributing in many ways besides one.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I can bring knowledge of Xbox 360 jtag's (mostly), and Mac OSX knowledge. I use to deal with jtags, as my friend would make them and sell them and I helped, and I know the Mac OSX fairly well as it is the only computer I use myself. I have some skills with photoshop as well. I am also a good poeple person which makes me knowledgeable in Social Engineering.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute with the things I said up there, and as well as being an extremely active member. I am one of the most active members on HF, and I am sure that I can be 100% active in this group as well.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am knowledgeable in things other that Xbox 360, and Mac OSX. I have good SE skills, and IRL I like to work on cars, my bike, and my scooter. I have many other hobbies besides just tech. But my favorite is tech. My main knowledgible thing in tech is either Xbox 360, Android OS, or MAS OSX.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I am in either the Marketplace, or Xbox 360 gaming section, they are my favorite two places.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I feel like I deserve to be part of the Techsperts because I believe myself too be an HQ member, and a fairly active person. I am also ready to teach and learn from other members here.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I am an okay person with hardware, but I do not deal with it much as I can get easily frustrated at times and break things. But I never show anger, I always keep it to myself. I am good with software, as it is easier for me to understand.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would rate my English a solid 8. I am good at typing when it comes to grammar, but at times I can type to fast and will be missign letter/flip them around, ETC.
What is your current occupation: I am still in school.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, that would be fairly easy for me, as I am a very active member, and always post when I can.

Good luck to all others who apply.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
This group seems filled with knowledgeable people and I'd like the chance to share and talk with these people. I'm trying to learn more about hardware, I'm planning on getting parts for a custom build. This group seems very High Quality and I want to be surrounded by HQ members. I love technology and I am very knowledgeable with a wide spectrum of electronics. I think being a member of the TechSperts would be good for both sides. I think this group is a perfect fit. I would share with all of you some good tutorials and will do all I can. I am applying, because I want to learn and teach.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
Majority skills in SE, RATTing, Online Money making and Gaming and minor skills in Coding and Web Developing. Also Bots, Keyloggers, Exploiters, Stealers, Booters, Web Mastering.
[*] I'm trying to learn more about hardware, I'm planning on getting parts for a custom build.
What can you do to contribute to the group:

What I will contribute to the group is my activeness, friendliness and all the knowledge I've listed above. I can write World news; share tutorials and techniques.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I wrote a few tutorials back in the day, mostly gaming related, however I deleted them so not at the moment.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in:PC building.

Hacking tools.

Web Management.

Social Engineering.

Gaming is another one of my specialities. Everyone probably says they're "amazing" at games, but I was playing competetive Halo for a long time. I have been to LANs and Tourneys out of my country.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
Almost all type of sections, except GFX.
My top three sections would beLounge

Bragging Rights

White Hat

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I think I deserve a chance in the Techsperts because I'm dedicated to helping out members in any way I can. I am also very active and will be highly active in the subforum no doubt about it. I believe I am high quality, and well respected. I have good knowledge in certain areas and I would love to spread it. I have always been a solid member here. I have learned countless things, and I think this group will be a good way for me to give some knowledge back to the community. I would represent the Techsperts with HQ posts and an overall helpful mentality.
Joining TechSperts will also enhance my knowledge.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
I mostly can work with software (because this is my speciality in my school). But 2 or 3 times ago I have repaired manually some small stuff in my hardware. I am very experienced with hardware such as CPU, GPU, hard drives, and motherboards. I know a good amount of software, particularly video and photo editing related, however I definitely look to improve in this category.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:
I'd say I have good grammar and good spelling, but not perfect.
8/10.
What is your current occupation:

I make all my money online, but I'm currently going to college.
Will you post at least 4 times a day:
I will post more than that. Guarantee it. I am on HF nearly every day. When I am on the forum, I always try to give my advice or thoughts on the thread at hand.

Thank you for considering me and I look forward to hearing back from you soon!

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute my skills and time.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Last tut I wrote was maybe sept 2010. I dont like writing tuts, I would rather help 1 or 2 people individually. I could write a tut if asked though.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Hacking WebDAVs, DDoSing, Graphic Design, and setting up RAT clients.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Lounge, Xbox, Graphics, and Marketplace.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve because I can contribute a lot to TechSperts and I have been known to not be a low quality member.

Application Form
Name: Real Name: Andrew/HackForums name: Bauer
Link to profile: https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=179129
Age: 14 (More mature for my age than one would expect)
Country/State: California, United States
Why do you want to join Techsperts: So far, the group of people is full of people that I respect, and I want to be apart of that. Aside from the people in the group, I would like to join it because I consider myself very knowledgeable about technology. I never limit myself to one skill. Since I started programming and using computers for more than games (around 6 years ago), I have never focused all my attention on to one area. I've played games, learned programming languages (PHP, HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Lua, Java, I dabbled with Perl for a bit, ActionScript, Objective C, VB.net, and AppleScript). I don't consider myself a real expert in any of the previously mentioned languages, but I picked up skills over the years. I've also learned other skills such as After Effects editing, regular movie editing, and various types of graphic design.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Aside from the skills I mentioned in response to the previous question, I can bring my electrical skills. While working with technology, I haven't only worked with the actual computer side of things. I have interest in working with circuit boards, and combining that interest with my programming knowledge, I was able to make a basic UAV (unmanned aerial vehicle). I'm not saying I would build UAVs for the group, but if you would be doing something that would require something along those lines, I could help. I'm also knowledgeable in monetizing using CPALead and website and forum management, setup, and design.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I don't think I need to restate everything I've mentioned previously, but I can also provide team leadership if we were to be working on projects.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=853376

https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=297924
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=274658
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I'm experienced in PHP programming, circuit design, a bit in Java, website design, After Effects editing, regular film editing, CSS, HTML, and ActionScript (I'm not as good at ActionScript, I haven't done it in a while).
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I like to hang out in the lounge a bit, but I like to hang out in the Minecraft section. I often read through the threads in the Java and PHP sections and see if anything interesting has come up, and reply to the thread if I think it's interesting. Since Omniscient added the Electronic and Gadget hacking forum, I've read around in there and posted a thread, and replied to some.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Other than being able to bring my skillset to the group, I believe I deserve a spot in the Techsperts because of my responsibility and leadership abilities. If the group were to start a project, I could help it move along with my leadership ability. I also take pride in the fact that I have never given up on a programming project. I'm not a lazy person, so if I start a project, I'll finish it. Unless, of course, I decide to drop the project for legitimate reasons (for example, a while ago I started a project for a Minecraft griefing client. I got about halfway through it, but I dropped it because my code was much to messy to update for future versions of Minecraft. I quickly restarted the project with much cleaner code, and I'm almost done with it now.)

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Hardware of computers, I'm not so experienced. I mean, I can recognize a part when someone points to it, but I'm not great with making repairs or anything if that's what this question is asking.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would consider myself around a 9 or 10. A 9 probably because, like everyone else, I occasionally type too fast so I make a simple spelling mistake. I'm not walking around talking in l33t speak though, so I would consider my spelling and grammar to be above the average 14 year old's.
What is your current occupation: I'm 14, so I don't have a full time job. I do use CPALead though, so I have made a fair bit of money (for my age).
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes.

Application Form for Royal

Name: Royal

Link to profile: https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=341303

Age: I am currently 15 years of age.

Country/State: The United States of America

Why do you want to join Techsperts: TechSperts is a group that I wish to join for a few reasons. First and foremost, and I am sure this is a reason that many others users wish to join, the group is very mysterious to me. Ever since the group has gone public, I have been very intrigued about the group and what it plans to bring to HF. Furthermore, I would like to join TechSperts because I have talked with many fellow group and HF members of mine who are currently members, and they all speak highly of it. Finally, I wish to join TechSperts because it appears to me that the group will have some function of teaching and being taught, not just to fellow group members but to all of HF. Personally, I love to learn new things and I absolutely cannot stand letting a day go on without learning something valuable. Furthermore, I enjoy taking knowledge that I currently possess and doing my best to make it benefit others.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: There are many skills that I can bring to benefit TechSperts, which are:RATing, Keylogging, Spreading, and many other BlackHat related activities.

Social Engineering, I have had many companies send me free vouchers and stuff before.

Hosting and setting up websites, forums, etc.

Teaching: I will gladly take my free time and use it to benefit other members as best as I can.

Manifesting my ideas, taking them, and putting them down on paper (or in this case, a word document, HF post, etc). I have written one eBook solely for HF, and I used to write tutorials for other forums. This goes along with teaching.

Activity. Whether you consider this a skill or not, I manage being in 4 groups very effeciently and always get my daily posting done. I have always believed that activity undoubtedly improves the quality of a group in general.

I am also taking a few computer related courses next year, so I will be able to provide expertise when the time comes.

General Knowledge. Yes, this does not seem to be a great skill. However, there are many things that I know about to a certain extent that might just make a difference to someone. You can never be certain.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute all my aforementioned skills, as well as take any reasonable request or responsibility that the group needs and do my best to help or complete it. Also, I will gladly put in the time and effort required to be a quality members of TechSperts.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I have written one eBook for HF, and I am planning on writing more in the near future. I also used to write tutorials for other forums, and I plan on writing a few for HF. If you would like to see the eBook, I will gladly PM it to you.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am very knowledgeable in the following categories: Windows Operating System and troubleshooting problems with it.

I have also spent a lot of time reading and learning about various monetization techniques.

I also have a lot of knowledge about computers and such in general.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I often post in the following sections:RATs Crew Subforum

The Alliance Subforum

The Wraith Subforum

Misc. Computer Questions

I also lurk the marketplace to see what goes on there, it intrigues me.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I feel that I deserve to be a part of TechSperts because I believe that I have proven myself to be a quality member of HackForums. I do my best to always post at top-quality, I help members every single day, and I try to contribute to the best of my ability. I will apply all of these and much more to TechSperts, and that is why I feel that I should be accepted.

Miscellaneous Questions:

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I personally have a much stronger grasp on my software knowledge over my hardware knowledge. Over the course of my life, I have been given many devices that are often in sub-reliable conditions and require lots of troubleshooting on the software end. I currently have a very minimal knowledge of hardware, but I am enrolled in a course for next year that will change that.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 9.

What is your current occupation: I am currently a student, and my main occupation is to keep my grades high.

Will you post at least 4 times a day: Of course.

Also, I would just like to thank you for taking the time to read over all the appliations and I wish you luck in the selection process.

To the people reserving spots. There is no point and in fact, it's a stupid idea. If you don't do your application before I go over them and you update it later, you'll never get your application reviewed. We're not going any where for a while.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I've always wanted to be part of tech group. Ever since I was 13 I have been developing programs, testing circuits, and overclocking PC's. I have a Bachelors degree in Computer science, and am studying for a masters degree.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I have plenty of skills in hardware and software. I have experience overclocking PC's, creating circuits for custom purposes. I am knowledgeable in almost all operating systems(Windows, MAC, Linux, UNIX) except ReactOS. I know how to setup RAT's, crypters, keyloggers and web stuff like FTP programs, cpanel's, SQl Queries, MySQl databases. I am also an expert in the following programming languages: VB.NET, C#, J#, Java, JavaScript, Python, XHTML, CSS, SQL, and J2EE. I am also familiar with programming micro-processing boards.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can help people out with the above skills I have, answer questions, and generally help people out. I also make sure that I am thorough in my answers. I have 960 posts in the VB.NET section, almost all of which have been posted to help solve a problem, or contribute by posting useful source codes.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

I have also made plenty of mini-tuts in the VB section when helping members solve problems.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Programming, hardware, circuit boards, overclocking, upgrading, designing projects, and electronic components(resistors, capacitors, IC's, etc).
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Visual Basic.NET, Electronics and Gadgets, Java Language, JVM, and the JRE, Coding and Programming, Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I feel that with my skills and knowledge, I can help people out with any software or hardware related problems. I am usually the one to answer the unanswered question's that people ignore because they are to hard to answer. I am friendly and can help spread and teach people of the skills that I have. Since I helped out so many people and will continue to help people out, I feel I deserve to be part of a group that does what I do best.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I know a lot about programming(VB, C#, Java, JavaScript, Python, XHTML, CSS, SQL, MY SQL) and hardware(Overclocking, upgrading, customizing). I consider myself an expert in designing circuits.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:

I am a tech guy who likes technology and electronics, when I was 12 I had a Pentium 1 desktop that I “dissected” to find out how it works what is a ram? What is a hard disk? What is a cpu?... I remember this day just like yesterday…
Also I was a “master” in electronics in my school, I used to help my teacher in preparing the class as an example I used to calibrate oscilloscopes and prepare circuits…
I would like to expand and share my knowledge since I am always hungry for knowledge and hopefully techsperts will satisfy my curiosity.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
I have many skills some of them are of course hacking related as the basic of hacking such as doing an sql injection, xss, csrf...

I can code in cpp/c, perl, python and vb.net.
I can script in html, php, css, javascript.(Certified from w3school.)
Also I know how to use many kind of OS' : Windows, Ubuntu (backtrack, linux… - Backtrack 5 is released :D. -) and Macintosh.
Plus, I would like to join the HJT team to become a white hat hacker and also enhance my knowledge.
Adding to that, I can also build a custom pc of course, I know the basic and a bit more about electronics (such as resistance, oscilloscope, transformer, transistors in AC also in DC (how do they act in a dc/ac current.)

I love to write tutorials and help people, many may think that this isn’t a skill but it really is.

What can you do to contribute to the group:
I can help and teach also I can write many tutorials and give advices to other members regarding electronics devices and building circuits.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: yes and many:

Why do you want to join Techsperts: Sounds like a cool group to join - works with my interests
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I do a lot when it comes to Web Application hacking (everything from XSS/CSRF/SQL Injection/RFI/LFI/Exploits/Traversals/etc) I've found big security problems in larges sites ie: Mediafire.com, I also have knowledge in virus removal/most computer repair issues (mostly software but I can diagnose hardware if needed)
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can do all types of pentration tests on a very professional level. I can do the full nine yards, everything from a full port scan to check for any exploits to checking out all the POST/GET problems in websites. Something I may be useful to bring is my know-how when it comes to repairing virus related issues etc. I can also troubleshoot and solve technical problems efficiently and often don't need help unless I cannot find it from checking online resources. Probably something that would really be of value is my ability to write web bots to automate things like account creation or message board postings etc.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I hang out in Shopping deals to check if I can abuse a free giveaway via web scripting / Every part of this forum really except the lounge shivers

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I think I'd be qualified to fit this group as I think my knowledge of hacking goes far and beyond most members of this site.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Lots of software know-how but my hardware skills are amateur mostly, I know how to diagnose simple problems with hardware though.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 7 - Average, but I don't try to be sloppy about it.

What is your current occupation: Part time computer repair technician - hacking is my hobby and hopefully my future job.

Will you post at least 4 times a day: Sure, I'd love to contribute to this group (hopefully all the members are HQ!)

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: The Lounge currently.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I can help people, share my knowledge, and much, much more. It's hard to keep it to words, it's best shown in actions.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I built my own computer when I was 12 without any hardware problems. I started using Linux (forgot distro) when I was 13, installed it myself without a guide, had an error because I burned a disk and picked up the laptop, scratched it, and then it had an error on installation and caused a kernel screw up, so I just installed DSL (damn small linux) to replace my kernel and go back on windows.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 8, I mess up once in awhile with starting of sentences, like using "And" to start it off.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Graphics, Vb.net, and I'm just pretty much computer savy all around.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Unfortunately, lately the Lounge. I'm not on my computer so I'm not able to participate in a lot of things I'd like to be doing right now...like programming, and graphics. But that will be fixed soon enough when I get my laptop fixed. (:

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I think I am a fairly knowledgeable person, and I only wish to help others in whatever difficulty they may be experiencing. I can bring an open-minded positive attitude and I overall I believe that accepting me to the group will be beneficial - for both myself, and the group.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I'm more of a software guy to be honest. Hardware interests me, but I don't know deep down how they work. I know how to rebuild a computer and all that nonsense, but if you were to actually want me to break things down in to how they function...we'd have a problem. In regard to my software knowledge though, as stated above I'm into graphics and programming. I'm good with working on computers when they have issues, and repairing problems that persist.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: Honestly, I'd rate myself at an 8. I try to use correct grammar and spelling whenever possible, but I know I'm no english guru. Mistakes are made by me, but I think I have acceptable grammar and I would have to say excellent spelling. I've always had a knack for spelling, as I like to read and I'm an avid reader.
What is your current occupation: I work at wendys. I'm 17. I plan to do something related to pen testing/programming/graphic/ceh work in the future.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join because this looks like a great, alive group with many knowledgeable members like myself. I'm not one of the members who comes to Hack Forums and buys fame, I like posting and supplying HF with good posts.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: My knowledge of computer hardware and software, as well as my accurate grammar.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute great, high quality posts with actual meaning. Not "Hurr cool thread bro." Also I am very read in many subjects, so I can provide information on many topics.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: No, sorry.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Technology, mainly computer programs and coding.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I try to avoid the lounge as much as possible, but it always sucks me back in. My main sections would have to be Minecraft and marketplace.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I have a very clean reputation, HQ posts, and no scam reports. Ever.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Not so much in hardware... But I am great with software.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would have to say 9.6
What is your current occupation: I'm in college for network analysis.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, I will do my best to post at least 4 times a day.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join Techsperts because I love the goal this group is aiming for. Most people go around loud and proud with "Donated: $78/00 (excluding upgrades.)" in their signatures, or something similar to that. Besides that, what else have they done? I'm not against donating, I'm just saying, tutorials and programs would help more than donating.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Graphics mainly, I can also bring some VB.NET coding although I'm not that great at it, I can also help with disinfecting computers even though I'm still an amateur at it. I can also do giveaways as well as private programs.

What can you do to contribute to the group: Mainly giveaways and free graphics now and then.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: What i look for on HF is a group whom i can associate with, this group must have knowledge on everything that has to do with computers hardware and software-wise, i believe Techsperts is the perfect group and that is why i'd like to join, I don't want a group who calls themselves hackers just because it sounds good, i want to join a group that knows there stuff inside-out and whom i can share and exchange knowledge with as well as learn more from.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Well I'm really good at monetizing,i also do E-whoring, RATs, Spreading, Gaming, Prank-Calling, Social Engineering, Technical Support, translating, Assembling Computers, Marketing & Promotions, and black-hat activities...also i am soon to be achieving my MS Desktop Support certification not sure if that means much, i also do a bit of web-design and HTML.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I will do anything and everything to assists members and if i don't know it i will learn it, whether it is monetary help, technical or moral support... I am here to help!
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Yes, i have written many guides unfortunately not on HF reason being that some of the stuff written are sort of grey-hat methods and i wouldn't want to violate any of HF's rules. Sorry, however if you'd still need a link I'm more than happy to provide it.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am knowledgeable on pretty much anything that has to do with monetizing,SQLi, XSS social engineering, website building, assembling computers, white-hat support... Am also a fairly quick learner so if i don't know it, i will learn it... Believe that!
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I'm mostly on the SE section i also spend sometime on the Gamers section and Hacking (but mainly reading tuts).
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be apart of your group because i am a good user who's very active on the forum, been on HF for a little more than a year and although I've applied for a few groups in the past for some odd reason I've never been accepted and i simply don't see the reason why, i posses skills which can be of great use within the group and i am a member whom simply tries to help people as much as possible while learning in the process. Also if i was to be accepted i will reserve FREE copies of my E-Book when i am finish writing it, but only for group members. =)

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Well i know enough to get me by, Pick out parts and successfully assemble a computer without having it catch on fire :P, Also when it comes to software i would say I'm pretty knowledgeable whether is fixing an issue that a client is experiencing with there networking or removing a virus, etc. I'm pretty comfortable doing it. However i am always learning more and more about computers so hopefully someday i can become the best.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 10... I would have to say that i have OCD when it comes to grammar, i usually try to write everything perfectly and on-point.
What is your current occupation: I have two jobs one is working for a management & promotions company the other is at Taco Bell as a cashier on the weekends hehe as well as when i have spare time i try to do some online side gigs until i start school again.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Of course i will... You can count on me.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
In order to expand my skills as i plan to go into computing when i'm older however since i am not entirely sure which area of computing i thought it best to try and be the best at everything.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
I'm a fairly competent virus remover/system fixer and charge a small fee to fix peoples laptops/computers here and there with about a 95% success rate.
I am also pretty good at making small electronic circuits to do various things,working on an ambient light based off a tutorial on here at the moment but with significant modifications to make it look overall more badass.

What can you do to contribute to the group:
I can create tutorial videos for all sorts of things,I particularly enjoy making gaming videos which ussually are quite entertaining and not just another dry "Watch me get sand" video.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
How To Install Zombe Flymod for MC

What areas are you most knowledgeable in:
Software mostly,I do dabble in hardware however.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
Gaming ,Computing and the SRRP/News and happenings sections.

Why do you deserve to be a part of Techsperts:
I will be able to bring my skill-set,sense of humour and overall my attitude to the group and feel that i would be able to make a positive contribution to the community.

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
As for hardware i could with a bit of time reassemble a computer that had been taken apart down to the motherboard being stripped out quite easily and think the hardest part would not be losing my grip when i have to screw in the many screws used to hold the mobo in place.
For software i do a small amount of LUA coding on the side and am starting to learn C#.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:
Quite honestly I would have to rate myself a 9.5.

What is your current occupation:
Officially unemployed but i make a bit of cash doing things on the side such as repairing stuff,buying and selling consumables(Yes,i buy sweets and then sell them for about 4x the cost).

Will you post at least 4 times a day:
If this means on HF in general then most certainly however if this means in the Techsperts section then the answer is still 'Most Certainly'.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I am very knowledgeable in technology, and can efficiently answer tech-related questions and help with said problems. I love the userbar and think it fits me and me skill-set appropriately. I like the general idea of the group and think I would be a great addition to the group.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I have had a long run of experience with technology since a very young age, and believe that this experience can lead to my ability to help members with whatever problems they may experience.
What can you do to contribute to the group: Help users, post HQ posts/threads in all appropriate sections, and answer questions members may have through PM's.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Windows computing. I have used many laptops and desktops, owning one of each myself. I built my computer giving me knowledge of not only software, but many hardware components as well.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Computer Overclocking/hardware, Windows 7/XP/Vista, Miscellaneous Computer Talk.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Due to my extensive knowledge in technology and ability to help members, and be overall beneficial to a tech-related group.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have built my own gaming PC so I understand all components necessary for a build, and what components to purchase for what budgets, component compatibility, etc. In terms of software, I cannot code software but I can troubleshoot almost all types of software, as well as help setup through text instructions or providing help over a screen-sharing program such as 'TeamViewer'.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 9. The only thing that stops me from giving myself a 10 would be the odd punctuation error, or occasional misuse of certain words.
What is your current occupation: I am working over the summer for my father on an assembly line, assembling beer valves.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: That's an incredible understatement. I could see myself posting a bare minimum of 25 times per day in tech related sections.

Note: I realize that my current warning level is above 0%, but the warnings are for lqp lounge posts that I don't think I was rightfully warned for, as you can see all the threads those posts were in were junked...

Why do you want to join Techsperts: It seems like a great group, and I meet all the requirements.
What skills can you bring to Techsperts: I can help users in lots of topics, mainly the ones stated in "What areas are you most knowledgeable in" below. I wil also be very active in the groups subforum
What can you do to contribute to the group: I will help other members in every way I can, especially in topics I stated above in skills.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Not here at HF, I do make helpful youtube videos though.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Programming (Python, C, HTML), Linux, Penetration Testing, Graphics (Photoshop + Web Design), ALso RATS (I guess most people have skills here though)
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Currently, the linux sub section and all the graphics one.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I have double the required posts, I have a warning level of 0, I am not a spammer nor a low quality poster, my grammar is good, i have never had a scam report filed against me, I am dedicated and have a good attitude, the only negative reputation I have is from a long time ago when I shared version 1 of somebody's crypter for free and he was selling version 4 currently (I was led to believe it was no longer for sale this forum, so saw no problem sharing. Turns out I was wrong)

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: At school I am currently doing a course that involves both these subjects. I code, so i know all about making software and how it functions. And hardware wise I am able to identify lots of hardware parts (small or big), And know how they function. I have made numerous computers buying all parts individually and assembling by my self so I know lots about hardware and its compatibility.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would say about a 7, I do well In english class and I always re read over my posts before posting them checking for grammatical errors.

What is your current occupation: In m country, you must be 15 to acquire a job. I am 15 in a few weeks time. Will probably try and get a job at the local technology store understanding how the computer are working. I have a lot of knowledge when you are talking about Windows problem. And I can contribute a lot more.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Definitely, I will try and post more than that.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: None here. I did some on a French forums but they have been deleted.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Hardware and various software problems resolution. Vb.net also but I don't feel really proud about that... If you understand what I mean.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Microsoft Windows, XP, Vista and Windows 7, Miscellaneous Computer Talk and Visual Basic and .NET Framework.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be apart the Techsperts team because I am a member that have a lot of knowledge and that I could be taken more seriously if I was in that group. I know that I don't have a lot of post but I have been online on Hackforums for a straight 2 week and 5 days since I subscribed in February 2009. I read a lot but I answer only when I know that my post will be a quality one.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I know how the computer works from part A to part Z. I know how to work with a lot of operating system like Windows XP, Vista and Seven, MacOs, Linux, Android and iOS. I have a lot of experience in network management, how to setup and manage a network.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 8 because I usualy speak French.
What is your current occupation: Student in network management at the university
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I can make that effort because I know that my post will be more usefull that they used to. I will be motivated to do so.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: There is a very high signal-to-noise ratio at HF. I see all these skiddie discussions around and I'd really like to be part of a group where I can discuss at a high level.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I am pretty good at reverse-engineering, Python, Windows API internals and anti-malware and pattern detection (look at my signature)
What can you do to contribute to the group: I have lots of new ideas and generalized views that I would like to share with you. I have pretty good skills about crypters and how to defeat them, and about malware in general.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: A Windows 7 tutorial: https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=262942
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Well, anti-malware, reverse engineering and hardware engineering (and Python of course, but I consider this to be a tool, not an area of knowledge). I like building hardware-software appliances (I can switch off the lights in my room using keyboard shortcuts!) and I guess that I have pretty good problem solving skills. (Arduino, C/ASM level programming,...)
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: the Python section, and some others where there aren't many skiddies around Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I don't think that it's me who decides if I deserve to be apart of this group, but a reason could be that there is some knowdledge that I would like to share, that I'm white-hat and that I don't post low quality. (by the way, I hate having to "brag" about my skills, so just figure it out yourself :)).

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I guess I answered this above ;-).
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 8, I speak French and German too
What is your current occupation: Software Engineer at a well-known job platform
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I expect the discussions to be so interesting that I won't even notice that I post more than four times a day.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I love everything that is related to technology. Currently i'm going to college and major is Computer Science and Information Technology. So i think i can bring some information to this group. Another reason is that this is a very HQ group and only HQ members join this. I know i'm pretty HQ member, i help out everyone who needs help. I would really like to join this group and earn more respect.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I have pretty good knowledge about RATs, Keyloggers, Iphone support, (always updated with whats going on, when the new update is coming, unlock, jailbreak etc) Technical problems with computers. I'm a gamer also, so i know a lot of gaming as well.

What can you do to contribute to the group: Helping out other people is my main goal and it always has been. Give out information that i have knowledge about.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: No not yet

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Computers, Cell phones (especially Iphones), General knowledge about electronics, anything that is related to Physics. Took physics I and II in college.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Gaming, VIP group, Hacking section

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Well like i already have mentioned that i love to help out people who need help. I am a very HQ member, no one ever had any problems with me on Hackforums. I really want to earn more and more respect by joining this HQ group where all the other HQ members are. I would also like to learn more from other existing members from this group because everyone in this group has pretty good knowledge. I see my future days on Hackforums more brighter after joining this group. :)

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I build computers and mess around with softwares all day long. I just recently built 7 computers for my friends and including myself. I can also Mod softwares, crack them.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would say 8 because English is not my first language but i try my best to make a grammar sound perfect

What is your current occupation: Full time Student in college, majoring in Computer Science/Networking and Information Technology.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
The reason I want to join is one simple word; others. I would like to join to help others to achieve the knowledge I have. I like to dedicate a whole lot of my time helping less knowledgeable members with tasks on Hack Forums and in real life..

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
I could help members that are ESL (English Second Language) and help them with grammar and spelling.

I have a pretty vast knowledge of VB.net.

I do a lot of computer work. (Repairs)

Internet and Computer Security.

I learned my security knowledge from my dad who is A+, Security+, and Network+ certified and has worked on government confidential computers for 23 years.

Xbox 360 and PS3 modifications. (Physical and Software)

What can you do to contribute to the group:
My contributions would go hand in hand with my skills.
I could help members that are ESL (English Second Language) and help them with grammar and spelling.

VB.net knowledge to members.

Internet and Computer Security.

Various game and console modding information. (Minecraft, Xbox 360, PS3, etc)

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

Internet Security

The American-English language.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
Lounge, Anime Adventures, Rules, Announcements, News and Feedback, Human Manipulation and Social Engineering, PS3, and Visual Basic and .NET Framework

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I have been a very (I think) high-quality member of Hack Forums for almost 2 years now and decided I should join a group for once. Whenever a new member has a question, he/she almost always gets flamed; I actually help them. No matter how annoying some members can be, you just need to learn to deal with them, who knows, maybe you will someday need their help.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
My hardware knowledge is a little more advanced than "general". My strongest point is software. I have never attempted to learn MacOS or Linux so the only operating systems I am strong in are Windows and iOS.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:
Spelling: 10
Grammar: 9.5

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I can take apart a Computer/Xbox and put it back together without any tutorials/books/videos.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I rate my grammar and spelling (English language) about a 8-10. I try my hardest to type as well as I can, capitalizing every "I" and starting every sentence with a capital. I don't rush through applications like I do IMs. So my grammar is most definitely good.

What is your current occupation: I am currently 15 and can not do much at this age, I am volunteering at the YMCA in Vegas (where I live) over the summer, until I turn 16 and can get a job at Best Buy on the Geek Squad.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I post 5 times as much as that now a days.

Thanks for taking the time to read this.

Age: 16

Country/State: Australia - New South Wales.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I believe Techsperts is a group that I will not only enjoy being in, but a group to which I can offer a positive contribution through my knowledge. I also believe it is a great place where I can further extend my knowledge and develop new skills. I am what one would call a tech-freak. I love technology and everything to do with it, especially the hardware aspects to things. My house is filled with the latest technologies and I have greatly influenced many of those items being here. I built my own computer from parts in November, last year, and I know almost everything to do with the hardware side of it. In the software aspects, I know a lot, and am confident with Pawn and C++ scripting, but I hope to learn Javascript soon.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I can code, as stated above, and am familiar with a lot of topics regarding technology, specifically computers. I can put forth my hard-working nature and help the group by showing these skills.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can be a helpful and willing person to all fellow members of the group, providing help whenever and wherever needed. My knowledge of various topics is generally wide, and I have wide interests, so I don't believe that I would have any trouble addressing issues of fellow Techsperts.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I have.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am most knowledgeable in the hardware and software aspects of computers (PC). I do know a little bit about MACs, although the basis of my knowledge comes from PC's.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Computer Hardware and Overclocking, Counter-Strike and Steam, and recently The Alliance.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I'm going to start off by providing the most common and generic answer that will arise from being asked this question. I am High-Quality. I am definitely a member who is always willing to help, and I have strong social skills. I believe that with my knowledge and attitude towards helping others in the group, I would be a great and unregretted addition to the Techsperts.

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have an extensive knowledge in terms of the hardware and software aspects of computers. I have built my own PC and I know much about how software works and how programs are made through my coding experience. My life revolves around technology, to say the least, so I can safely say I know a lot about computers, and their hardware and software. Being specific, I know the assembly and function of the components of a computer, and I have a wide knowledge on specific parts, for example specific processors or graphics cards. I think I have talked about my knowledge of C++ and Pawn enough.

I just have this huge need to learn.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Extensive knowledge in every photomanipulation software. Know what's needed to improve a computer's performance. Overclocking, yet not a crazy overclocking. I even have a small businness repairing PC's. Get about 2-5 Laptops, Desktops a week to repair, only failed once to get a computer fixed. Have been doing this for about 3 months. Have built my own rig from scratch when I was 14, all by myself. I know how mostly every hardware works, what it does and how it does. Extensive knowledge in permormace increaser softwares, tho I rather do it manual and learn more.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 8. Scored 19 on a scale of 1-20 on my school's english final exam. English is not my native language as you might have noticed.
What is your current occupation: Student.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I'm used to those minimum post rules. The RATs crew enforces a 2 posts a day rule and I've never had any difficulty following it. And in my honest opinion 4 posts isn't hard to reach in anyway. If I do not manage to use the Internet one day I shall post double the day after.

Since this ain't closed.
I that means it is.

Edit: If yes, then I will edit this when I apply.
Since you couldn't correctly deduce that we're still recruiting, even though I never posted saying we're not and after 2 weeks the recruitment thread has been re-opened, you need not apply. You don't have the brain power to make it in this group.

I am curious, are we allowed to reapply if we were denied? If so, what is the wait time in-between applications? I believe I was denied as I applied with a warning level, or at least I am assuming that is why, I could be completely mistaken, and my warning levels have cleared up, so I would like to reapply, if allowed to.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I believe that this group consists of very dedicated, skilled, sincere and honest members intent upon giving something back to the HF community. It is a privilege to be in this group along with the responsibility of dedicating something to the community and also doing something substantial. It is the core ideology of the group that has enticed me the most, which is giving back to HF in more ways than donating cash. This is very, very appealing to me and I believe that being a part of the group can improve my character and personality as a whole as well as inducing a positive atmosphere in today's hectic HF environment. Also being a part of a group comprising of people wielding expertise in some technical field or another such as but not restricted to Gaming, Networking, Database Management , Servers, Web Development definitely piques my interest.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I work for Cisco Systems and hence am very knowledgeable in the field of Network Security and Routing / Switch Protocols. I also have extensive experience in RAT'ing, DDoSing, Linux, php, Perl, Python. I have coded several Android Apps as part of my Grad School Programs and hence have indulged myself in Java programming as well. I can help around with Databases, MySQL, Microsoft SQL, Web Development. I have handled several phpbb, vBulletin forums before and do have some skills in handling such large forums as well.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can help other members / users of HF overcome their inhibitions in entering the world of coding and programming, help them out with programs, code snippets, algorithms. Mostly to assist and aid them in anyway possible as long as my experience allows it.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: No.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Network Protocols, Linux Kernel Development, VANETs, iDevice Jailbreaking, Cisco Router / Switch / Bridge Setup
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: MarketPlace, Buyer's Bay, Bit of Anime Section and Gaming
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Well, I assume that this esteemed group embodies the spirit of the spread of knowledge and hence, I would most definitely love to spread whatever knowledge I have, to aid people in whatever field I can and also during the same process, learn what I can, when I can from those members since after all, life is a learning process and we learn something new everyday. I believe that being a part of Techsperts would aid me in this endeavor which I have been working on for quite sometime now.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Software - Pretty much everything involving Networking and Protocol design. For example, JIST (a tool used in development and simulation of cross layer protocol for VANET).
Also very knowledgeable in OS Kernels, Process Management, Schedulers, general day to day Win apps
Hardware - I have completely disassembled and reassembled a PC as part of my Undergrad project, so I have experience in the various parts and inner workings of a PC. Also involved a bit in Hard modding
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 10

Name: Conor or InfectedCoding, whatever you prefer.
Link to profile: https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=764235
Age: 15
Country/State: Wisconsin, United States
Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join The TechSperts to help better our Hackforums community, by learning from other Techsperts and teaching those around me. I am very determined and will bring a positive attitude and a desire to help others to the Techsperts. I also want to be part of the Techspert community, being able to communicate with others who have the same passion and hobbies as me is something I truly dream of. I am very social and cooperative and will make a great addition to the already wonderful group of The Techsperts. I will constantly work to not only better our group but the entire Hackforums gaming and technological community.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I can bring multiple skills and beneficial traits that I posses to The Techsperts such as:
An advanced knowledge of computer hardware and software. Allowing me to be helpful to most members who are facing computer problems.

Advanced knowledge of Xbox 360 hardware, and accessories (such as internet connectivity and set-up)

Intermediate knowledge of Visual Basics, C#, and C++ (have been working with these three languages for the last 3 months.)

Proficient in all Adobe products (Illustrator, Photoshop, After Effects, Dreamweaver, Fireworks, Flash, etc.)

Advanced knowledge of video editing with Sony Vegas and audio editing with Sound Forge.

Ability to interact with others in the workplace and casually.

Sense of humor that makes stressful work more enjoyable and relaxing.

Great Grammar (Well most of the time.)

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can be constantly active, therefore being able to answer questions that the community seeks answers to. I also can consistently contribute to The Techsperts and will always make time for the group I care so deeply about. I also can bring previous knowledge with me to The Techsperts and the desire to learn to make me more intelligent when it comes to tech related things. I will also contribute leadership and sociability, with these combined traits I can get past differences and effectively work with each individual member. I will always stride to finish what I have started and will not settle for second best.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Yes I have, well more reviews on games, but I am constantly answering questions. I feel as if I reach out to members rather than making a thread that says "Do this, Don't do that". If I work with members individually I can better understand their problems to ultimately solve their problems. I will provide the link to my review that I created, because I believe it benefited many members. Although I have not created any direct threads that may "guide" you to a tech related aspect, don't be in dismay. I know what I am talking about.

Link to Review: https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1312059
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am most knowledgeable in computer software/hardware repair (WiFi routers to setting up operating systems) and the repair of gaming consoles (Xbox 360, PS3, Wii). I have worked with the Xbox 360 for close to a year now and have gotten a excellent idea of the overall construction process and each individual part. I am recently working on multiple RROD Xbox's and reselling them to HF members who can't afford them new. Hopefully I can take this forward with me to continue to help members who need help with their own console. As I mentioned previously I also am knowledgeable in computer software/hardware repair. I am knowledgeable in this field because of past encounters with these two. Hopefully I can learn from other members and become more knowledgeable in these two fields.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Gaming section, hands down. If there is something to do with gaming I will be there. Most recently I have been working on answering questions rather then participating in discussion. I know both are important, but there are questions that are being unanswered and I feel as if it is my duty to answer these. So far I have been very successful, helping multiple members. As the months go on I hope to become more aware and more knowledgeable on the gaming field so I can better help members who seek answers.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Why do I deserve to be a Techspert? Well I can think of only one reason why I want to be a Techspert and that is to help out HackForums members. I want to give back to this community as much as I can. Everyday so many questions go unanswered and many users are left in the dark. I want to turn the tables and bring light into their world. I joined HackForums not to "hack" but to become more intelligent and to work to give back to this community that has been so accepting and welcoming to me. I want others to feel the same way I did when I first joined. I'm sure you feel the same way as I do, and with the help of the Techsperts I can continue learning and teach other members and help out whoever I possibly can. I know it may not be the most logical reason, but it is the reason I want to be a Techspert.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I believe computer software and hardware is one of my most knowledgeable areas. Although I am not classified as genius I can fix most problems related to these. Whether it be a malfunctioning program or removing a virus from your computer. Or on the flip side installing RAM in your desktop. I admit that I could learn a lot more, and that is also why I want to join The Techsperts but for right now I believe I have this area under my belt.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I believe my grammatical abilities and use of English can be rated at around an 7 or 8. I do make many grammatical errors, and my spelling needs improvement. But overall I can have understandable conversations and the reader will not be distracted by these minor grammatical flaws/errors.
What is your current occupation: Education, I am still in school and am constantly learning. As I mentioned earlier I am repairing RROD Xbox's to resell for a reasonable price.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I will post as much as I can and be very active, but I will not post Low Quality threads/posts. I believe quantity is more important than quality. If The Techsperts can show how intelligent each and every member is the they will truly be a team of teachers and question answerer's.

Thank you for reading my application, hopefully I can be one of the lucky few that is chosen to be a Techspert.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: To start off, Techsperts is a highly respected group among HackForums and being a part of it would be a great honor. I absolutely love everything to do with technology, technology plays a major part in society today and is needed to stay educated. Computers, gaming consoles, software, etc. It is all essential and I believe I have a good amount of knowledge throughout the technology field.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I see myself as having a wide variety of knowledge in technology. I can bring certain software engineering skills. I also am fairly knowledgeable when it comes to social engineering (Human Manipulation). I am educated in modifying gaming consoles, flashing, being able to Jtag consoles. BotNet's, VPS's, IRC's, PuTTY, and other software clients I can assist with.
What can you do to contribute to the group: Contributing to the group that you are a part of is essential. Helping out your fellow group members is something that is very important, if a group member is in need of assistance, it is our job as a group to help support this person. I believe I can contribute my knowledge with the skills i have listed above to provide help to my fellow group members. I can help members with electronic issues such as gaming consoles, computers, software, etc.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I have written a few eBook's and a successful thread on how to successfully use coupons.

https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1304795

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Hardware modding, gaming consoles, and BotNet's, IRC's, and other clients. General electronic knowledge, iPod's, phones, basically any electronic device I can assist you with.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Generally the marketplace, gaming, and some Computing when help is needed.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I feel that I can bring essential knowledge to the group that other members can benefit from. I plan to major in software engineering and instrumentation, so I can provide helpful post's and topics. This group is all about spreading knowledge from one to another if I am correct, and I feel that it will be something I am able to do.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I see myself as having a great deal amount of knowledge with fixing computer's or Xbox's. In the past I have repaired a tremendous amount of Xbox 360's, whether it was a modified Xbox needing to be re-flowed, or a normal 360 needing a simple re-soldering.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I could honestly see me as a 9, I rarely do make grammatical errors. But usually when these mistakes occur, they do not alter how you are reading or the content you are reading.
What is your current occupation: Student full time (High School Senior)
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I will easily be active in the sub-forums, It is needed to be a loyal member to your group.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
It is a goal of mine to join a great group and contribute more to hackforums than I have in the past. This group seems to have very high quality members and I would like to have a chance to be around more of them.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
My biggest skill would have to be iDevices. I am VERY knowledgable when it comes to them and have helped very many members in the iPhone and iPod section. I've dealt with HTML, PHP, a bit of MySQL, and currently learning Obj - C. I know my way around Macs and PCs enough to help other members if they are stuck on something or are learning about a different operating system. Programs I've handled in the past and could help out in would be RATs, KeyLoggers, Worms, and crypters.

What can you do to contribute to the group:
I believe I can contribute my past experiences with iDevices and computers in general. I've had many problems in my lifetime and have learned from each of those. Which would help when it comes to troubleshooting questions other members have.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I believe that this group consists of very dedicated, skilled, sincere and honest members intent upon giving something back to the HF community. It is a privilege to be in this group along with the responsibility of dedicating something to the community and also doing something substantial. It is the core ideology of the group that has enticed me the most, which is giving back to HF in more ways than donating cash. This is very, very appealing to me and I believe that being a part of the group can improve my character and personality as a whole as well as inducing a positive atmosphere in today's hectic HF environment. Also being a part of a group comprising of people wielding expertise in some technical field or another such as but not restricted to Gaming, Networking, Database Management , Servers, Web Development definitely piques my interest.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I work for Cisco Systems and hence am very knowledgeable in the field of Network Security and Routing / Switch Protocols. I also have extensive experience in RAT'ing, DDoSing, Linux, php, Perl, Python. I have coded several Android Apps as part of my Grad School Programs and hence have indulged myself in Java programming as well. I can help around with Databases, MySQL, Microsoft SQL, Web Development. I have handled several phpbb, vBulletin forums before and do have some skills in handling such large forums as well.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can help other members / users of HF overcome their inhibitions in entering the world of coding and programming, help them out with programs, code snippets, algorithms. Mostly to assist and aid them in anyway possible as long as my experience allows it.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: No.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Network Protocols, Linux Kernel Development, VANETs, iDevice Jailbreaking, Cisco Router / Switch / Bridge Setup
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: MarketPlace, Buyer's Bay, Bit of Anime Section and Gaming
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Well, I assume that this esteemed group embodies the spirit of the spread of knowledge and hence, I would most definitely love to spread whatever knowledge I have, to aid people in whatever field I can and also during the same process, learn what I can, when I can from those members since after all, life is a learning process and we learn something new everyday. I believe that being a part of Techsperts would aid me in this endeavor which I have been working on for quite sometime now.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Software - Pretty much everything involving Networking and Protocol design. For example, JIST (a tool used in development and simulation of cross layer protocol for VANET).
Also very knowledgeable in OS Kernels, Process Management, Schedulers, general day to day Win apps
Hardware - I have completely disassembled and reassembled a PC as part of my Undergrad project, so I have experience in the various parts and inner workings of a PC. Also involved a bit in Hard modding
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 10
What is your current occupation: Networking Specialist in Cisco
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, I surely will.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I love everything that is technical, i have multiple PC's, ipod's everything, because i've basically devoted my whole life to tech, i got my first computer when i was 7 and i had taken it apart and looked at the inside when i was 8. I also got an iPod touch in 2007 and had jailrboken it within an hour, i love to tinker with everything i have to make it better or to fix it. Those are the reasons i'd like to be in this group. I also own my own hosting business (lycus hosting) and give hosting packages to any user who asks for it.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I'm experienced in all OS's (not all linux distros though, only ubuntu, backtrack, red hat and centos), i have taken apart and customized my PC many times, i took advanced higher computing which has meant that i can program, set up networks, troubleshoot networking errors, i know the parts of a processor and how a computer can be sped up. I also replaced the digitizer on my iPod touch when it smashed so i have a lot of general knowledge about technology and hardware.
What can you do to contribute to the group: If anybody has a problem relating to hardware or tech in general i'll be happy to help, and happy to always be giving people guides on how to speed up their PC or utilize it in the best possible way.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I unfortunately haven't written any guides yet.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Hardware modification, programming, networks in general and everything to do with iDevices (they're what started my passion for tech)
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Computing mainly, but also gaming, lounge and ipod/iphone section.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I found that learning about the hardware inside the computer and how to modify it, and learning about networking, was one of the most fun things I've done and I'd like to share the opportunity to everyone. I also have experience with setting up RAT's and botnets and i know that a lot of people on this site use RAT's, keyloggers and botnets so i think my skills would be greatly needed by the community.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have extensive knowledge in hardware, having studied processors and also having modified my own PC, however I am better with software and networking, such as setting up packet switching networks and using various operating systems.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 9 because i tend to type so quickly I occasionally don't capitalize my I's and make small mistakes.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I would like to believe that I am one of the most HQ newer members around. I found this place by chance, and once grabbing the ropes, I've soared at helping people with gaming, their computers, or certain products. I feel I could contribute to the group with great posts and spread my knowledge. I feel that I would be a great asset to the entire Techsperts community. Although I'd be a member of yet another group, my quality in each of them would only get better.

Miscellaneous Questions

Country/State: USA (I'll personally tell you the state if your really that interested just shoot me a PM)
Why do you want to join Techsperts: I've always admired the group itself and I've learned that the group was about tech things like helping with computer problems for example and I would say I'm pretty computer savvy and I know I could help out a lot of members.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I could bring a lot of computer knowledge, some html/php knowledge, RATs, and virus removal. I'm sure there is more I could possibly do to since I'm always learning new stuff.

What can you do to contribute to the group: Well I can do giveaways and give my personal help. (see answer above)
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I never really tried to write a tutorial since you can pretty much find all the tutorials you need with the search button.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I'd have to say computer problems, and RATs.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: The RATs section and the freebies area but thats cause I give a lot of free stuff.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be apart of Techsperts because I'm a member that gives back to the HF community and I would like to give more of my help around here and within Techsperts. I'm currently in Malvager group and to be honest they are really not active in the sub forums and I would like to join a group that is active and is respectful to everyone. I don't meet the 500 post requirement but I don't go around answering threads that have been answered already, and I try my best to not post low quality at all which keeps me from posting useless posts. If I had a group that is active I think my post count will get over 500 in no time so I hope you can look over my post count. I deserve to be apart of Techsperts because I could share my knowledge and maybe someone could learn from me as I do from others.
Thanks for taking the time to read over my application.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Not sure if I understand what you mean with this but software I'm pretty knowledgeable in Nortons, Malware Bytes, Sandboxie, Photoshop (I'm not a artist though), Blackshades, Cybergate, Darkcomet, FileZilla, and uTorrent as for hardware I have no clue what you mean.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I'd have to say 7
What is your current occupation: Unemployed for now.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Programming and literature are my strong points.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: The Delphi section is my most popular section by far.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I am always trying to help people out, whether that be anwsering a question or releasing another tutorial in Delphi, if it helps people I strive to do it. I tend to type with good grammar, I make mistakes every now and then but I am only human; good grammar makes HackForums a more high quality place. I have been on HackForums since '09 so I have watched it grow, personally I believe we are becoming a little more low quality and I believe as a member of HackForums it is my duty to try and reverse this effect. I want to see HackForums become a more quality and entertaining place again, and this group is a perfect way to start.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have been programming for 2 years, and I know Assembly (MASM) which requires an intense knowledge of your machine.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would go a 9, if it was on effort I would rate myself a 10 but I make mistakes every now and then.
What is your current occupation: I am volunteering at a local hospital as an intern, it looks good when applying for medical school.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: More than most likely even more than 4 posts, I want to contribute.

Age: I am fifteen.
Country/State: I reside in the United States of America.
Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to be in this group because I want to be apart of a mature and active community. I also feel that I can contribute a lot to this group. I also enjoy anything to do with technology and gaming.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I am decent in graphics and graphic design. I am fluent coding in C# and can decently code in Visual Basic. I'm experienced flashing, jtagging, and hardware modifying the Xbox 360. I can putt custom firmware on the PSP and iPod. I can help people troubleshoot problems with their internet, PC, or gaming console. I am good at setting up RATs and botnets. I'm very experienced with setting up websites with MyBB and vBulletin. I can also crack almost any program on HackForums, apart from Faffafy's protection. I almost did though, I just had to have a MySQL database to trick the protection into thinking I was in there.
What can you do to contribute to the group: Write tutorials on basically anything. From iPods to PC's I can write a guide on it. Whether it's how to burn a Xbox 360 game or put custom firmware on a PSP I can do it.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Yes, they are here: http://pastebin.com/raw.php?i=hMKABn2M .
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I'm very knowledgeable in cracking programs, putting custom firmware on anything, and everything to do with Xbox 360.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I usually hang out in the Xbox 360 section. A few others I like to browse are the PC gaming forum, the Visual Basic and .net section, and the computer overclocking and hardware forum.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be apart of the Techsperts because I am mature enough, intelligent enough, and am high quality enough to be apart of this group.
Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I know the ins and outs of it. I have and am currently coding it, I have cracked it, and I have downloaded, installed, and used it.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: Ten, and to make sure of this you can go through my posts.
What is your current occupation: I am a student. In the summer, I work at a local golf course and I also cut lawns.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, I will make sure of it.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:

Since the day I was born, I had a natural attraction to technology (mainly computers). I took apart 2 PC’s, sold one, and put the other one back together at the age of 12. My Technical Education teacher told me that I should follow a career in technology. I feel like this group is calling me. I feel that this group was made for me. Almost like… destiny. :P

I have always been HQ. I have had some rough times here in HF, but I have always made it in the end. I think before I act. Moreover, I can handle pressure. I am on HF every day, usually 10+ hours. If you don't believe me check out my Time Spent Online via my Profile. Additionally, I always have top-notch spelling, grammar, and punctuation. I am kind. I am honest. Additionally, I never swear or troll/flame anyone. I help members in any way possible. When I get negative reputation, I ignore it. If someone flames me, I try my best to make friends with them. Furthermore, I have contributed greatly to HF. Also, I have done many giveaways. It is my dream to join this honourable group.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:

? Website Design
? Website Coding
? Forum Setup
? Malware Removal
? Graphics Design
? Networking
? Programming
? Security (I have made a program for my school that stops hackers from remotely shutting down computers)
? FTP Upload Help
? Computer Repair (I run a service in my town)

What can you do to contribute to the group:

I can contribute to the group in every way possible! I can donate money (I am currently releasing a long awaited eBook for $5). I will defiantly write any tutorial or guide that I can in correspondence to my skills and knowledge. I can help answer questions that are quite hard to answer as well. I want to help this group in any way possible! Also, I will be making programs and software in the name of the Techsperts. I am pretty sure no other member has done this yet, and I like to stand out. I like to be unique. ?

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I personally love computers, I've been obsessed with them since I was 10. I absolutely love messing/tampering with devices/computer/systems to make them function differently. I could not live without technology basically. I use it absolutely every single day and I'm online at least 10 hours. This group looks like its full of knowledge and people just like me!

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I'm great with macintosh systems and windows! I have 3 macs(iMac, Macbook, and Macbook Air) and 2 Windows computers. I can help remove malware and viruses on either one and make them alot faster. I'm also good with website hacking, Cell phone hacking(Apple&Android), Security, Dedicated servers, RATS, Botnets, IRC setups, Setting up cpanels/websites, Keyloggers, Worms, Stealers, crypting, E-books,cracking, all that stuff im familiar with.
What can you do to contribute to the group: Basically setup anything I listed above, Help people achieve what they are attempting to modify/hack.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: To be honest, the name is sick! And of course I'ma Techspert myself, so why not be apart of the group? I have such a huge passion for technology..I wish I was born a little bit earlier so I could be there for the VERY beginning.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: A lot. I'm very familiar with a lot of software and can learn new ones in around two hours. I am also good at hardware (built the computer I'm using) and I use to jtag exploitable xboxes.
What can you do to contribute to the group: Ideas to make it more efficient, beneficial to Hack Forums, and make accepting (and denying) new users easier. Also, on the application you should add "What OS do you use?" That tells a lot about a person; maybe under misc questions? Oh, and common sense :)

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I've written many tutorials/guides; but most of them are not relevant to this group. Sadly. How to be a Good Member on Hack Forums eBook - How to Create a Successful Forum
How to Upload Files via FTP
How to Make a Directory and Database Backup of Your Website
[Halo Reach]ALL Weapon Locations on EVERY Map
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Web construction, xboxes/jtags, and computer hardware.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Website Construction + Miscellaneous Computer Talk + Lounge
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I probably don't, but hopefully you look past that and see me for who I am. A great possible asset, I just need an opportunity from you guys. I've run many websites in my time and learned a lot about dealing with people.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: As I said above I can work my way around new software in a good 2 hours depending on the program. I'm familiar with Photoshop, Sony Vegas, After Effects; currently. I've also built computers and jtagged exploitable xboxes. I'm also very good at fixing someone's infected computer.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I'd have to say Graphic Designing, JTAG modding Xbox consoles, custom firmwares for PSPs, and spreading a server on Youtube.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I would have to say Xbox 360 and Live Gaming or Remote Administration Tools.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I believe I can deliver high quality knowledge, as well as content to the members of Techsperts. I'm looking forward to learn and to teach people things. Whether it's a good ol' Jailbreak on the Windows 7 Phone or a simple fix on a processor, I have your back.
Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I've had many problems with my Xbox when I first started to hard mod. I'd have random motherboards laying on the ground, not knowing which one was which. I believe I have now mastered it to the point where if you asked me, I'm perfectly capable of answering your question in that specific area. In regards to software, I don't know too much about programming, although I am taking two classes when school starts back up in a couple of weeks, going to be trying that out - and eventually mastering me some programming!
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: A perfect 10. I don't know why, but simply put, I hate people who can't type to save their lives.
What is your current occupation: I am a Administrative Clerk working for USAF. Only being 17, I think being paid $32,000 a year based on a salary is pretty good, don't you think?
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I think you meant 10 - right? If not, 4 will be fine. ;)

Thanks.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: A techspert is what I have always considered myself. To have a formal group to be a part of in this niche would mean a lot to me.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I am pretty well with helping in the Windows section of the forum. I also add tid bits of information to other sections, but my base knowledge is with Windows.
What can you do to contribute to the group: Help in the Windows section in the Techspert name. Any other things that may have to be done.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: No tutorials. I don't know what to write about, but definitely don't have any objection to trying to write some.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Windows
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: A couple of the computing sections and the Innuendo section.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Because I feel like I identify with this group very well. I would be a great fit.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have above average knowledge with most software and an adequate knowledge regarding hardware.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: 10 usually.
What is your current occupation: Lifeguard and student.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I shall.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join Techsperts because first of all the name is quite funny. Obviously this is not the only reason. I think to myself that I'm actually quite a knowledgeable in technical things. :) Not just technical as in like computer hardware and things but like technical support. So like if a member needs help understanding something about the forum. They could feel free to PM me or if I come across the thread I could post there as I'm always helping various people around this fellow site.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: To keep it short, what skills don't I have? :) The only thing I'm not too good at is like coding and website development. I can do preety much everything else.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can help people with various issues with there computer regarding software. Since I'm really quite good in the software side of things. I am quite good with virus removal too so if someone has a problem and thinks they have issues. I can help out quite easily.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I've written one, but in no way I don't think it could help my application but what the heck I'll post it.
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1413405
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I'm most skilled in E-whoring and Social Engineering in general. I'm quite nifty with Graphics but nothing too amazing.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Lounge Whore. But I do post pretty much all over.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: :) Because when I do some new tutorials and possibly eBooks. Or if I help anyone I can wear that Techsperts userbar with pride. Giving you a good image.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
This group seems filled with knowledgeable people and I'd like the chance to share and talk with these people. I'm trying to learn more about hardware, I'm planning on getting parts for a custom build. This group seems very High Quality and I want to be surrounded by HQ members. I love technology and I am very knowledgeable with a wide spectrum of electronics. I think being a member of the TechSperts would be good for both sides. I think this group is a perfect fit. I would share with all of you some good tutorials and will do all I can. I am applying, because I want to learn and teach.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Majority skills in SE, RATTing, Online Money making and Gaming and minor skills in Coding and Web Developing. Also Bots, Keyloggers, Exploiters, Stealers, Booters, Web Mastering.
[*] I'm trying to learn more about hardware, I'm planning on getting parts for a custom build.
What can you do to contribute to the group: What I will contribute to the group is my activeness, friendliness and all the knowledge I've listed above. I can write World news; share tutorials and techniques.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
I wrote a few tutorials back in the day, mostly gaming related, however I deleted them so not at the moment.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in:PC building.

Hacking tools.

Web Management.

Social Engineering.

Gaming is another one of my specialities. Everyone probably says they're "amazing" at games, but I was playing competetive Halo for a long time. I have been to LANs and Tourneys out of my country.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
Almost all type of sections, except GFX.

White Hat

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I think I deserve a chance in the Techsperts because I'm dedicated to helping out members in any way I can. I am also very active and will be highly active in the subforum no doubt about it. I believe

I am high quality, and well respected. I have good knowledge in certain areas and I would love to spread it. I have always been a solid member here. I have learned countless things, and I think this group will be a good way for me to give some knowledge back to the community. I would represent the Techsperts with HQ posts and an overall helpful mentality.
Joining TechSperts will also enhance my knowledge.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
I mostly can work with software (because this is my speciality in my school). But 2 or 3 times ago I have repaired manually some small stuff in my hardware. I am very experienced with hardware such as CPU, GPU, hard drives, and motherboards. I know a good amount of software, particularly video and photo editing related, however I definitely look to improve in this category.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:
I'd say I have good grammar and good spelling, but not perfect.
8/10.
What is your current occupation:
I make all my money online, but I'm currently going to college.
Will you post at least 4 times a day:
I will post more than that. Guarantee it. I am on HF nearly every day. When I am on the forum, I always try to give my advice or thoughts on the thread at hand.

Thank you for considering me and I look forward to hearing back from you soon!

Application Form:
Name: Nathan (Cymraeg)

Link to profile: https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=806185

Age: I am fourteen years of age.

Country/State: I currently live in Wales, UK.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join the Techsperts because I see it as an elite group on HF. I think it'd be an interesting group to be part of, where I can share my knowledge with others and them enlighten me with theirs.
If I were to be accepted I think it would be an amazing opportunity to socialise with members and make new friends.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
My current skills are:Basic C# knowledge,

Basic Java knowledge,

Intermediate knowledge about RATs,

How keyloggers function,

Cryptography,

What can you do to contribute to the group: There are many ways I can contribute to the group. Making tutorials specifically for the group and in dedication to it. I'd obviously be able to answer any question a user has about cryptography as I have extensive knowledge in that subject.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1475765
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1342379
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1507156
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1483669

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I would say I am most knowledgeable RATs, cryptography and malware removal. If I'm going to be specific I know a lot more about cryptography than the other two subjects.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I mostly hang out in the lounge, market place, coding and hacking sections of HF. The two sections I spend most of my time in would be both the lounge and the beginner hacking section.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I couldn't really say I deserve to be a part of the Techsperts more than anyone else since everyone is unique and have different specialities. What I can say though is that I'm very generous, helpful and dedicated. I believe I would possibly be an asset to the group, as my knowledge in cryptography is quite advanced somewhat and it is not a topic people have a lot of knowledge in. I think some members would benefit from me being in the group, making threads cryptography, enlightening them.

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: In relation to hardware I'm not very experienced but have read a few books regarding how components interact with each other and function. I'm learning C# and Java so am gaining more knowledge on software daily and I'm really enjoying.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I really don't believe somebody can rate themselves 10 because it's impossible to not make a grammatical or spelling mistake. Therefore I rate myself 6-7 because although I generally have quite good grammar and spelling I still make mistakes and I still have more to learn.

What is your current occupation: I'm currently a student in a comprehensive school. I also work in my uncle's restaurant every fortnight on the weekends as an assistant.

Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, more than likely much more than four times again if I find the topics discussed interesting in the sub-forum.

I'd like to thank you so much for reading my application.

Best regards,
Cymraeg.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I have been through when it comes to computers. I learned web coding my self, along with taking the CompTIA Strata test and passing it. Having past the Strata shows that I am certified to be an IT and I think I would know a lot when it comes to hardware for computers and fixing the problems hardware causes. I am wanting to join because I'd like to share with others the knowledge I know and I'd also like to gain any that I don't and the Techsperts offer that.
What skills can you bring to Techsperts: CompTIA Strata certified in hardware (can send proof)

Advanced Web coding
-XHTML
-HTML
-CSS
-JavaScript

Good chi to the group. Also, all of my knowledge in MyBB forum software along with everything else I know.

What can you do to contribute to the group: Tutorials on hardware, what you should and shouldn't do to help your computer last as long as it can. Web based coding experience, and all around good knowledge.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I have not written any for HF
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I would say I am most knowledgeable in, installing hardware/software for computers and fixing any problems or issues as well.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Webmasters,Computing,Coding would be the main three and in order from left to right would have to be the ones I'm in most.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I'm only 18 and I've interned at a world wide computer company, have taken IT classes and am IT certified along with self taught web coding experience. I would think I have achieved a lot, and know a lot when it comes to computers. I have also build my own computer if that helps at all.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Taken an IT class for 2 years, studied and taken and passed the CompTIA Strata test and preparing for the CompTIA A+. I have advanced knowledge in hardware and software.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I am somewhere around a 7 or 8, I could type the actual numbers out, but it's so much easier not to on a computer. I also make mistakes here and their, but not much and I know the difference between there & their like most words that are pronounced the same but have different meanings.
What is your current occupation: IT specialist, (personally ask if you want to know where)
Will you post at least 4 times a day:I am willing to post at least 15 times a day if I can, but yes more than 4.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join TechSperts again because I am now active more and I believe I will be able to do some good for the group, helping people and having the chance to learn and grow with the group. The idea behind the group, when I was in it was actually very interesting and something to work for. Has it's own unique idea within the group and I would like to be a part of it.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I can bring various skills, not as much in the computing area, but I do have the ability to SQli, DDoS, great organization, grammar, leadership, support of all kinds and the will to learn and help.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute tutorials, support, active member, edit tutorials.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Yes, I have made a couple tutorials and guides.

- https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=998514

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Staying anonymous, gaming, support, music and basic hacking.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Music section, Rules, All my groups, Hacking.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Well, I won't say I deserve to be in anything, everything, one should earn. But I can say however, if given the chance I will be a good member, that helps and contributes in anyway I can with the skills listed above.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I'm good with trouble shooting computers, problem solving, etc. I have knowledge with most Microsoft programs, GIMP and PS.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I'd rate my grammar about an 8. No one is perfect but I'm not awful.
What is your current occupation: I currently work part time in a Hardware Store, as well as in the Canadian Forces.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, I will be able to post 4 times a day, that won't be an issue.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: Because I wholeheartedly feel I could help make it into something more, given the chance to so. It's also a high quality group. Which means there won't be anything LQP in there.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I'll be honest. A lot. I'm not trying to brag or anything but, if you've seen the applications I've put in before, for Black Knights, and The Alliance, then you'd see I'm not kidding. But in a nut shell, programming, software, hardware, general experience, hacking, security, methodologies. And so on.

What can you do to contribute to the group: Post high quality classes, and or guides. Or just contribute HQ post in general.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I have. However most of them are in The Alliance, so you would need access to that to be able to see them. But, here's a thread containing those links. VWBC. That's the "home room" to my webinar. I also have other guides, like my How To series, however, I don't feel as though that should be considered, given the time I made it, and the fact I'm going to rewrite it soon.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Security. Programming. Hardware. Software. Methodologies.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Rules & Announcements. Website and Forum hacking. Innuendo. And WHH (soon to be HJT as well). I like to help people.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I can't say I do deserve, then again, I can't say anyone does. I can only hope you, the applicators, believe I deserve to be a part of Techsperts. On a personal opinion though, I would like to think that I deserve it, due to my HQ post/threads. My constant helping of other members, my willingness to help others. And reasons like that.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have built my own computer and devices from ground up. I have endlessly played around with computer parts, and I have fixed a great many things in hardware relations. As for software, I can program them, break them, fix them, pen test them, critique them.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: Hmm. I'd have to say a 8.7 to a 9.5. This being because, English is my best "basic subject", however I can't say I've mastered it. It is however my native tongue and even then everyone is bound to make mistakes. I can't honestly say it's perfect. If it helps I'm on the Reviewers.

What is your current occupation: Self Employed Game Designer, Director of WCS&R, CEO of Veteran Rescue, and freelance programming. (All proof can be shown, if you'd like. I'm not even kidding. I'm registered by state. These are all legit businesses, with EIN, Orca, 501c, and other licenses. Most of it self owned or family operated.)

Will you post at least 4 times a day: Overall on the forum? Or in the sub forum? Either way the answer is yes. I'm usually good with posting a lot. On a good day I can easily knock out 100-200 post in a day.

What can you do to contribute to the group:
To contribute to the group , I can start by sharing what I have like my knowledge and ebooks , I write a few tweaking , configuring and formatting tutorials . I will write also tutorials and guides about malware removal and computer and network penetration testing . If there is any member in need of help and support with his RAT/Keylogger/Stealer I am there for him/her anytime ! If a member is stuck and needs help with one of the coding languages I know , I am always there for him/her and will help him as much as possible ! If my monetizing techniques are good enough since I am still a beginner in monetizing then I will share them with the rest of the group . I often write ebooks but do not sell any , I can give my fellow techsperts a few of my ebooks for free ! I am knowledgeable in several operating systems like linux and microsoft windows so if there is any error or something else that should be fixed I am the man you should contact !

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
I currently teach HTML in the Eminence sub-forum . You can check a lot of my work there .Here's a thread that includes all of my HTML lessons :Prominent's HTML Lessons[Index&Reference]

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I deserve to be a part of Techsperts I am always ready to help everyone at anytime with everything I know ! I am an active and dedicated member of this community . I am able to post in the sub-forum daily and make sure my posts are high quality posts . I am ready to share all my knowledge with the group and I respect it's rules and do not disobey them ! I am a respectful member of this community , I respect myself and everyone else . I am great at several subjects like computing , I honestly think that Techsperts is a place where I can progress , learn more , discuss and share all of my thoughts and knowledge . Another thing I want to add , I have always wanted to be a techspert as I lookup to other techsperts members , I hope that you can give a chance to prove who I am and what I am capable of doing !

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
I built my own computer , helped a few of my friends build theirs . I usually mess around with my computer's hardware and try to figure out new stuff and learn from it .
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:
I rate my spelling on a language of 1 - 10 a 9 , I have a pretty good English but sometimes I do make mistakes like everyone else .
What is your current occupation:
Student
Will you post at least 4 times a day:
I sure will and maybe more than 4 times !

Why do you want to join Techsperts: Because it looks like a great group that I've always admired. I don't know a lot about the group in general, but I do see a lot of high quality members in it.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Basic knowledge of nearly everything. I know a good bit about several operating systems (Basically everything except for Mac). I do know quite a bit about several hacking techniques as well, but this seems more of just a general technology group, so I won't go into that. My grammar is decent, and I'm great at troubleshooting errors.
What can you do to contribute to the group: Tutorials, all of my knowledge, ebooks, tips & tricks, and if I get some money, maybe ever a giveaway/upgrade contest.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I would like to be apart of the Techsperts because I would like to contribute towards the group and learn from it as much as I possibly can. I am a very active member here at Hackforums, I am home-schooled which means I only have an hour of school a day and that leaves me more time to stay active within the group and contribute. I am a very knowledgeable member and I can dedicate myself towards the group without hesitation. I can help out in the group as much as possible as long as they are within my skills. I have a lot of skills that I will list, and I can use them to make tutorials and guides within the group which I think could be a big help towards it. I would like to join this group because it is a high quality group and I see it is tech related from just looking at it, and I am familiar with tech stuff and I can do whatever it takes to help out the Techsperts.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts:Helping

Reverse Engineering

YouTube Boosting

R.A.T's

Gaming

Human Manipulation

Graphics

Spreading

Coding

Malware Removal

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can do a ton of things to contribute towards the group. For example I can create tutorials that are related towards my skills. I am highly skilled in all of my skills I listed above, and I would gladly be able to create a clear and detailed tutorial without hesitation. I can also do E-Book writing and group projects to help contribute towards the group. I have created multiple E-Books and will be glad to write an E-book as a group or as a member. I can do services and give out free stuff when I get cool things. I can do a ton more to contribute towards the group.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Yes, I have written an E-Book which was a Monetizing guide and I have also helped my friend out writing another E-Book that we have given out.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am most knowledgeable in the Computing section. I am very active in the Microsoft, Security, and White hat help section. I am most active there because those are one of the places where people need the most help and I am gladly able to help out. I am also active in the Gaming section because I am a very good gamer and can easily help out others that are in need of any type of help as long as they are within my skills I have listed.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I usually hang out in my group sub-forums and the Computing section the most.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Because I am a really nice and good member of this forum, and I love to help members out. I have created E-books and have helped a lot of people out by creating services, helping out in the requests section, and basically in any section that I have the knowledge of helping the members in. I want to be apart of a group that does stuff that I love doing and I want to be a part of a group that is high quality and contributes a lot. I can already tell you guys contribute to the forum a lot, and I also want to contribute with the group members. I also want to join because I have a high amount of knowledge in my skills I listed above and will easily be able to help any member that needs help without hesitation. I can dedicate my time towards other members that are in need of anything that they need help with or anything that I have the knowledge of, and work hard to help them with what they need and to help them succeed and reach their goals. I help members as much as I can on this forum and try to keep this forum clean by being high quality.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be part of this amazing group because I feel I'm more than competent enough to be an excellent member. I know that I will not let this group down. I will do my best to help any member in need even if it's not one from the group itself. I also know that I can represent this group well (along with its members). I would also like to be able to share different ideas I may have, with he rest of the members. I can share the knowledge I have on various topic with members that need help. The IT field is going to be a huge part of my future career, so I am confident I can be a good helping hand in this group. When it comes to being part of a group, I take it very seriously and will not fool around. I will strive for "high-quality", and nothing less.

Name: Corey
Link to profile: https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=168299
Age: 14
Country/State: United States of America / New York
Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join the group "Techsperts" because I wish to join a high quality group on HackForums. I want to join "Techsperts" because I want to be among other high quality, and respectable members who's aim is to improve Hackforums without money donations. I want to join "Techsperts" because I love technology and I feel it would be fun to talk to other members of the "Techsperts" group, as well as participate in whatever activities the "Techsperts" group may do. I want to join because I feel I am a high quality user on HackForums, and I often help other members, and I feel that's what the "Techsperts" group is all about, helping people. I also want to join the "Techsperts" group because I have a LOT of knowledge in technology based things, that I can share with the group, so I can feed the group information, as well as soak up information that (if accepted) my fellow group mates can share with me.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Coding (I am a advanced Visual Basic 2010 coder, I also am currently learning C# because I just got my XNA developer license so I can finally start developing games for Xbox Live Indie Games, and for PC. The only program I have currently released on HackForums is my Minecraft Premium Account checker, but I have at LEAST 40 WIP's that I plan on finishing and uploading to share with the HackForums community. I also am a website developer which ties in to both this skill, and the skill that is stated below, since I design my own website templates, as well as code them. I am fluent in HTML, CSS, and I am okay at PHP, but as time progresses I am still learning to code in PHP. I would absolutely say that my best language is Visual Basic 2010, or HTML.)

Graphics (I started doing computer based graphic design when I was only 7 years old, I have since carried that skill with me 7 years, and I am still a avid Photoshop user, although I have stopped using it as much as I want to because I now am a coder as well. I can design free thread templates for users in the "Techsperts" group for products, or even just a free program they are sharing if requested. I would have no problems designing anything for any (if accepted) fellow group mates. I also design website templates in Photoshop, and other Adobe related products such as Flash, and Illustrator.)

Gaming (I have been gaming since the age of 5 years old on Halo 1 for my original Xbox, I have since played on over 20 "top page" teams on Major League Gaming's Gamebattles for the Halo series, and Call of Duty series, I would consider myself higher than the average gamer skill wise, and I myself and my friends play around the skill of Semi Professional for Halo, and I have played with professional gamers on Call of Duty such as FoRePLaYY nV, FeaR ViXeN, SE Jaydenn, SE LazR (My old teammate<3), and FeaR Moho. I am both a competitive as well as casual gamer, but now I mostly just play Minecraft and relax and don't take video games as seriously as I use to. But I would love to play video games (Xbox, PS3, PC) with any of (if accepted) my fellow "Techsperts". I do not get angry easily, and am just a chilled back person to hang out with and game.)

Malware Removal (I am excellent at removing all forms of Malware, I am very good with handling viruses, so say (if accepted) a fellow "Techsperts" member got infected, I could walk them through the steps to dis-infect themselves with ease. I have gained a LOT of skill in removal of malware over the course of the 10 years I have had a Windows PC. I have had less than 100 viruses in the past two years.)

Social Engineering & Human Manipulation (I would rate myself 7/10 on the subject of Social Engineering. I am good at both "real life" social engineering since I have been in plenty of situations which required me to social engineer myself from getting in trouble, or starting trouble. I am very good at lying in "real life" and I am very good at pursuading. I am also good at social engineering products and creating private methods to social engineer products. I would go in to more detail on this subject / matter with (if accepted) with a fellow "Techspert" but I am not going to go in to detail on this on a public post which anybody could view.)

Botnets (I have 2 years of experience in IRC Botnets, as well as client based botnets such as Remote Administration Tools, and DDoS clients. The most bots online I have ever had is 1,000 at once and I use my own private methods that I found to spread, that I would love to share with fellow (if accepted) "Techsperts".)

Assisting Users (I am constantly helping members all over Hackforums who are in need of help. I have 250+ PM's of me just going back and forth helping users with problems such as Remote Administration Tools, Port Forwarding, Visual Basic 2010, and a ton of other subjects that I am asked about.

Remote Administration Tools (I have experience with all most every, if not every remote administration tool that can be found on HackForums. I know all the uses and functions of such tools like the back of my hand. Remote Administration Tools are my favorite form of "hacking" and I love them so.)

Jail Breaking (I can jailbreak iPod's and iPhone's and I have done so for over 20 of my "in real life" friends. I have never jailbroken a iPad before because I have never been presented with the opportunity to.

Operating Systems (I know my way around the Windows 95 - 98, Windows XP, Windows Vista, Windows 7, Linux Ubuntu, and Mac OSX operating system, I know where to find all of the tools and features I need. I have over 10 years experience with all different forms of operating systems.)

DDOS (I have the tools, and abilities needed to launch Distributed Denial of Service attacks, I own my own private shell booter, a decent sized botnet which allows me to perform UDP Flood, Slowloris Flood, and SYN flood. As well as I have a putty booter, but I prefer the good old botnet with bots over shells or putty.)

Grammar & Spelling (One of my proudest features about my self If I do say so my self, is my grammar and spelling.)

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute 10 years worth of knowledge in all of the skills I provided above and more. I can contribute private methods that I have created to achieve things such as Social Engineering, and obtaining free items, as well as virus spreading for those who are in this group run botnets, or use botnet clients (like me.) I can feed members of this group information that they are curious about, as well as assist them with any problems they may have, wheither it be about "real life" situations, or online related issues.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1659535
I know it's only one at the moment, but I am currently writing tutorials for almost all of the public Remote Administration Tools, and DDoS Clients. I also am working on a tutorial specifically that covers port forwarding.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am most knowledgeable in the topics I listed above under my skills, those are the topics, or areas that I am most knowledgeable in.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I am usually in; The Lounge; Basic Hacking; Premium Sellers; Remote Administration Tools; Coding sections.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be apart of the group the "Techsperts" because I am a high quality poster. I deserve to be apart of the group the "Techsperts" because I have only had one warning in the whole year (and almost 2 years) I have been on hackforums, and it was only 10%, and it was over 6 months ago. I deserve to be part of the "Techsperts" because I have posted a extremely high quality tutorial, and I am currently working on other high quality tutorials. I deserve to be apart of the group the "Techsperts" because I enjoy helping people, and that is my favorite part of my job on here is to help people, and is that not the main idea of the "Techsperts" (beside Technology) is to help fellow members? I deserve to be apart of the group the "Techsperts" because I am very knowledgeable person, and I am willing to "feed" the other fellow members knowledge that I have, and share it with them. I deserve to be part of the "Techsperts" because I can help you guys with any kind of graphical or coding assistance that you guys may need, I am the right guy for the job. I deserve to be part of the "Techsperts" because I am a mature user, I rarely flame, and I act older then a normal person my age would to try and "up" the standards of Hackforums, and make this place look rather high quality, then how most people think we are all low quality, and cannot hack, and just ask for people to help us hack the local bullies Facebooks account because he took your lunch money. And overall I am just a fun, chill person to talk to, and inviting me to join you guys in the group the "Techsperts" is not something that you would regret doing at all.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have knowledge in computer hardware, as well as video game console hardware knowledge, I can build, dissemble, or fix a computer, Xbox, PS3, Wii, etc.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I could honestly rate my spelling, grammar, and use of English at around 8-9/10. I feel I am very good in English, and in school it is my best subject.
What is your current occupation: I currently do not have a occupation, unless you count coding programs for money, and selling things on HackForums a job. :)
Will you post at least 4 times a day: I can without a doubt post more than 4 times a day, I will mostly likely try to post 10 posts or so a day.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I want to join Techsperts to learn more from people who are professionals in their respective fields, gain a good understanding and a plethora of skills. I'd also love to teach other techsperts crew members in areas where I am more knowledgeable in, so that we could develop a very good and a healthy discussions and a fun filled learning process.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: I can to the group and to the whole of HackForums in help account cracking, help them in any way possible and also guide them appropriately in the art of cracking. I can also contribute to the group in the field of Black hat Hypnosis, which is quite frankly not known by many, this being said it will help users to even up their ante in social engineering because Social engineering is the subtle art of manipulation whose traits has congruence towards Black Hat Hypnosis. Other than the aforementioned skills of mine, I can also teach others on how to protect from themselves when they are hacking larger targets, Educating them in the field of Web Daemons that log when a user attacks a webserver etc.,

What can you do to contribute to the group: My contributions will vary from what new comers want to learn from me, I'll assist them personally in any manner possible and make it sure they are rid of any false idea's or knowledge which might impede their growth here on HF. I'll share all that I have to others so that they enjoy the benefit of what I have. I'll educate people on the art of SEO, its Do's and Don'ts, What works and what doesn't, and basically any queries if what may arise on SEO. I'll bring forth my other talent which is Hynpnosis and a little ground basics on NLP, which would basically enable them to learn more and manipulate others minds. Rather than these I would also make their stay comfortable here on HF and their time spent here worthwhile by guiding them around here.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: N/A.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: SEO, Account cracking, Hypnosis.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Any section where other members need my help.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be a Techspert because, I feel that I can in a very positive way emulate the performance, hard working, grit iron determination that this group posses and make myself helpful to all the user here and guide them to their goals in an amicable way as possible. The Techsperts group consists of the most knowledgeable and greatest people on HF if not, the most HQ'est member group on HF, I would also make use of my efforts to learn from such HQ users so that I may emulate their HQ attitude in a creative and positive manner to serve that HQ'ness to other users who are in need of it.

Age: 17

Country/State: America, New England (I wish to keep my exact state disclosed, although the information can be provided if needed.)

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I am quite the nerd about Mac OS X and virtual machines, plus gaming consoles audio devices, gaming controllers. ALthough on HF I'm known for my human manipulation. I feel like in Techsperts, I could not only find a great community and meet great new people, but I could also help many people with technologic problems, and my information could be more valued due to my "reputation" with technology!

What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Social Engineering!

Human Manipulation (Hypnotism, Lucid dreams, Deceit tricks, etc.)

Basic Java Skills / information.

Advanced knowledge in audio devices like headphones, computers, sound systems, radios.

What can you do to contribute to the group: My vast amount of knowledge on several topics, such as the ones above. I am in love with writing tutorials, and I am in the process of writing an E-book!

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Well I'd like to say, I have very advanced knowledge in the human mind, etc. So all my tutorials are in the Human manipulation section.

- Lucid dreaming: https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1646577

- Astral Projection: https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1643030

- OBE: https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1639133

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Human Manipulation and Social Engineering. I've studied the human mind / brain, signs of deceit, common brain trances, the working of the mind, phycology, hypnotism, and many other things around the subject of the brain.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: A bit repetitive here, but Human Manipulation and Social Engineering (post wise), but I frequently look at the Minecraft, Xbox, and Ps3 sections.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I've been an active, HQ member for all my time being here. I've always strived to do my best for Hackforums, and I believe I should be granted with a title such as this.

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: Mac OS X. All knowledge, from Bootcamp and good software, to games and Mac safe mode.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: Nine. I sometimes forget silly things like double quotes, and sometimes I put spaces in between parentheses for organization and neatness purposes.

What is your current occupation: Well, I'm 17, so I don't have a job other than studying my ass off.

Will you post at least 4 times a day: Of course. I am on this site 24/7 after school 4 posts is not a big thing for me. I will probably post more. . .

Why do you want to join Techsperts: I've always had a passion for technology, no matter about what kind of technology we're talking about. I really want to be apart of a group in which I can talk about new technology, and I'm an active member.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: Well, I'm skilled in the area of phone modification such as rooting Android devices, flashing new ROMs to it, flash a new recovery, radio and so on. If anyone needs help with their Android devices, I'd be more than happy to help members out.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute by offering my help to other members in the group in the phone modification area. I can also help with other Computer related stuff.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Well, I've not written any tutorials which would relate to technology, but I may do it in the near future if required.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I'm most knowledgeable in the areas of gaming, graphic designing, phone modification(Android OS only), and webmastering.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Private forum sub-sections, Ebook Bazaar, and the Rules, Announcements, News and Feedback section.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I think I deserve to be apart of Techsperts because I simply love technology, and I'm also an active Hack Forums members, and I'm willing to contribute in any way possible.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I've got knowledge when it comes to either software or hardware. I usually tend to built my own Computer as we know that the already built ones usually had one or more parts which are 'outdated'.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: Honestly? I'd say around 8.5.
What is your current occupation: Student

I also have experience with Macs. I know a lot about both OS X and Windows. I have had some minor exposure to botnets, particularly booters. I hope to gain more through being in a group with people that have more experience with them than I do.
What can you do to contribute to the group: I have been wanting to start a Youtube Series where I show how to install several PC components. I also plan on doing some GPU
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: I wrote a few tutorials back in the day, mostly gaming related, however I deleted them so N/A.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Gaming, PC building.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Mostly the gaming section, I also spend time in the computing section, as well as The Lounge.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I have always been a solid member here. I have learned countless things, and I think this group will be a good way for me to give some knowledge back to the community. I would represent the Techsperts with HQ posts and an overall helpful mentality.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I am very experienced with hardware such as CPU, GPU, hard drives, and motherboards. I know a good amount of software, particularly video and photo editing related, however I definitely look to improve in this category.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:I I would say an 8.5. For the most part I make sure I post with good grammar. I admittedly make the occasional post with no punctuation or capitalization. However, the overwhelming majority of my posts are well constructed and clear.
What is your current occupation: I am currently a Student, I do not have a job ATM but I definitely plan to obtain one during the summer.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Absolutely, I am on HF nearly every day. When I am on the forum, I always try to give my advice or thoughts on the thread at hand.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
Techsperts has been a group I have wanted to join ever since arrival here at HackForums. It is a group which is dedicated to the most important aspect in my life; technology. The sheer quality of this group is tremendous, and is most definitely a positive influence on the forum as a whole. It has been my mission to apply for TechSperts since my registration, but this is the first time I have had the opportunity. I believe this is one of the best groups on HackForums, and I believe I could gain an outstanding amount of knowledge from being a member, and having access to the sub-forum and TechSpert members.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
Coding SkillsHTML

CSS

PHP

Java

C++

C#

Python (Currently learning)

RealBasic (OS X version of VB.net)

MonetizingMarketing Strategies

Financial Management

Investment Options

Methods

Hardware ExpertiseXbox CustomizationsJTAGs: Sold over 1,000 consoles last summer.

Controllers: Learned to mod a controller when I was 14, which was 3 years ago.

Visual Enhancements: Creating customized xbox 360's. Window cases, fan mods, light systems etc.

Computer ExpertiseI completed my own custom computer a few days ago. My thread I posted upon completion can be found here.

I am incredibly knowledgeable in the world of Apple hardware and OS X. I am currently on an internship, registered through Apple where I am the IT for a school which has a total of 147 iPads and 25 iMacs in the school.

I can troubleshoot a load of problems, whether they are on an Apple computer, or on a Windows system. If a user is having issues, I most likely have a solution.

Web DevelopmentI currently run a gaming forum, MLDxGAMING, which has over 4,000 members and is an extremely active community. I have learnt a lot from running a forum, ranging from people skills, down to simple necessities of helping users with any issues they encounter.

I have had to deal with server issues, forum crashing and the endless amounts of problems and bugs someone would encounter running a forum.

The vast experience I have in coding languages contribute to my internet interest.

I have a lot of experience with mySQL and mySQLi server's, which is another helpful trait in case anyone ever needs assistance with some server issues.

People SkillsHelpful: I didn't gain a 4,000 member database on my forum from being a douche. I welcome members with open arms, and help them in any way I can.

Patient: If a user is frustrated at a hardware meltdown, or the same crash keeps going on, I serve as a calm middleman and help resolve the problem within a short span of time.

Outgoing: If I set out to help a fellow user with a problem, I will persevere until it is solved, or until I can seek outside guidance on how to resolve it. I have always been the type of person to do thing's right, and spend time doing them. Teaching other people in a way teaches me, because I always learn more when explaining concepts to others.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I contribute as much as I can to all of the groups I am in. It is my mission to be active in each and every sub-forum I am accepted into, because I believe it is a privilege to have access to them. If you look into my history of posts, you will see the activity I provide group sub-forums with. I have only recently been accepted into a few groups, so my dedication and activity isn't quite evident just yet. I constructed over 50 coding and hardware tutorials on my own forum for upgraded members to refer to, and I would be happy to share them in the groups sub-forum. I believe my contributions would be vast if I were to be accepted into this group, and I know for a fact that you would never regret my acceptance into TechSperts.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
I have created a load of tutorials on my own forum, but I haven't yet transferred them over to here. I am a little hesitant on doing so, because the upgrade section on my forum is known for the lengthy tutorials and helpful threads. Once I become a little more comfortable in the current groups I am in/wish to be in, I will be releasing them to the said groups.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in:Coding/Programming

OS X

Computer Optimization

iOS

Marketing

Gaming

Hardware CustomizationSoldering

Installation

Troubleshooting

Music

Sports

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
Mostly group sub-forums, but you will see my activity evident in sections such as; OS X, Mobile Devices, Marketplace, Music, Gaming, Computer Optimization & Customization. I frequent HackForums often, and post whenever I find a thread that I find helpful or has a potential instruction opportunity.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I think I could be an extremely valuable asset to the group due to my knowledge in a vast amount of areas. I believe that I could learn a lot from the group sub-forum, and teach others as much as I can. Sharing knowledge is the only way anyone will ever learn. I find brainstorming and heated debates to the be best, because you learn political correctness, and gain information on other member's views and opinions. All our opinions are gathered from what we read, hear and see. The more you read, listen and watch, the more valuable and analytical your opinions become. I truly believe I could be of great assistance to this group, and I would be able to leave a changed mind. All the members I have seen which are currently a part of this group are all knowledgeable in their fields, and I would like to perceived as such.

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
I have a vast amount of knowledge when it comes to hardware and software. This knowledge includes an extensive experience in the world of OS X, iOS and Windows. I have created applications for all those systems, and I know them all extremely well. As for the hardware aspect, I linked my post detailing my completion of building my own custom PC. On top of assembly of a computer, I can dismantle, fix and rebuild an xbox 360 in minutes. I know lots of hardware systems inside and out, so if anyone ever needs help, I'm one post away.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:
I believe my spelling and grammar is somewhat impeccable. I have an extensive background in English and French, English being my primary language. I currently hold a 92% in my senior level English class, which demonstrates my execution and usage of vocabulary and grammar.

What is your current occupation:
I actually resigned from my job at the start of the school year, because I was making around $1,000 a month from the internet. I also wanted to focus on academics, which are going great. Currently I hold a GPA of 3.9, so I will be getting my job at the local snowboard and bike shop back this week. I have worked since the day I turned 13 at this shop, and I will continue to do so through University, if I choose to attend the local and highly regarded institution in my city.

Will you post at least 4 times a day:
Of course, 4 posts would be the bare minimum of activity in the group's sub-forum.

Something I want to add:
I would like to join the Techsperts to learn as much as I can about computers. I am extremely interested and capable of learning. When I was young I remember my parents buying a computer and putting it in my room because they didn't have a place to put it. I taught myself almost everything. At a young age I knew more about computers than most adults. This trend continues today, younger generations are surpassing us in the world of technology.

Code https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=91776
Age:
17 Years of Age.

Country/State:
Perth, Western Australia.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
I have a very good knowledge of computers and a lot of the devices that are available to present day consumers. I have built my own computers, build friends computers, and enjoy helping numerous people build computers on a regular basis. I have a good knowledge of components and software and believe I would be suitable for the group.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
My extensive knowledge of the components and software of the computers is almost a passion. Passing this knowledge onto other members would be a fantastic privilege that I would love to possess.

What can you do to contribute to the group:
I can be as active a member as I can in the private forums, as well as be active within the public tech forums of HF.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
I have not really wrote any tutorials at all. Especially not on the technical side of computers. I mainly just write on the spot help for members requesting help. The help is specialised to suit them.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in:
I have most of my knowledge within the areas of Hardware and Software. When it comes to coding and the sort, I am not quite as good. Off-topic; I am quite informed on Web-Server Administration, Hosting and Community Management(I personally manage a community already).

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
I tend to have hung out in the Lounge a lot lately. But post in the gaming and tech sections whenever I see something that does interest me.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I don't deserve to be a member, it's a privilege. And I think I should have the privilege to join due to the help I can give, and the activity that I do possess.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
Most of my knowledge with computers is within the Hardware of them. I have good knowledge of software as well. Mainly my hardware knowledge is just components used to suit different people, and the building of computers for different uses.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:
I always work my best to be as literate as possible. I absolutely hate the use of "L33T SP34K", and it just makes me angry when people use it. I rate my spelling and grammar at a solid 9.5/10.

What is your current occupation:
I currently work as an IT Retail Sales Executive at Harvey Norman.

Will you post at least 4 times a day:
Definitely, some days when I have time; I am racking out a good number of posts.

Lately I have been slightly inactive due to exams. All of that comes to an end within the next few weeks; and I will be back to full activity by the end of next week.

Kind Regards,
Kotadiatu

Why do you want to join Techsperts:

I'd like to join a nice group of people who share the same beliefs as me and have common interest. I'd also like to join this group because it is a group that has a lot of HQ member.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:

I can bring coding skills as I am currently learning C++ so I can design mini lessons to help other learn as I am learning. Along with some shopping deals on tech and or things nerds love :)

What can you do to contribute to the group:

I can host giveaways in the private form and some for the remaining users of HF. I can also help anyone with any problems they encounter. If your in the group or not.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

No, I haven't written any so far, but I will be writing some on different programming languages and also how to acquire free things by social engineering.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in:

I'm most knowledgeable in the areas of coding and exploiting. As of now, these are the things that interest me most. I like to grow so I don't like to be limited to what I can learn.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:

I don't hangout in any section in particular. I always click View New Post so I can be up to date on everything that goes on. I usually post or PM anyone I can help from there.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:

I deserve to be apart of the Techsperts because I know a lot about tech, I love learning more about the new kinds of software and how it all works. When I was younger I used to take things apart and see how they operate and I sure that most members of the Techsperts think the same!

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:

I have a lot of knowledge with hardware, currently I am picking out parts for my new computer and I am investing in my own security company. That involves security cams, trackers, etc. As for software. I like to see how things operate as I stated above and finding out how to implement software and hardware has always brought much joy and excitement.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:

I think my spelling, grammar and my use of the English language would have to be 8 according to your rating scale, after all we are all human and all make mistakes. I'm in Honors English 10 if any of you were wondering, and if I can't spell something I always have spell check enabled.

What is your current occupation:

Currently, I am learning C++ and finally beginning to process some of my ideas and turn them into programs. I am also involved in a new security company.

Will you post at least 4 times a day:

Yes, I will post 4 or more times a day on the private sub forum and seeing as I'm always on the computer I'm always available via PM or you can contact me on MSN: Impuhlsive@live.com

Thanks for taking the time to read through my application.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute almost anything besides cash since I'm a bit on the low end with money at the moment. I will be proud to do anything for the group and show my hard work and show full dedication to the group and group projects if we have any.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: No, I haven't written and tutorials as yet for the community. Most of my help, is done through PMs or simple posts to help out the OP or another member. It is quicker to do so. I usually help other members over Team Viewer when I can.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in:Computer Hardware

Networking

Graphics

Web Development & Designing

Internet Marketing & Monetizing

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Remote Administration Tools, The Lounge, Microsoft Windows, XP, Vista and Windows 7 and Beginner Hacking when I'm helping out new members.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I think I fit in pretty well and deserve a chance to show the group and it's members & leaders what I am capable of and how much I can provide to help build the group stronger along with my hard work and dedication as a great member. It will be great to work along side everyone and be a great member. My family and I run a business called ' IDL '. It's a internet company run in St. Maarten and his been around for quite a while now. My family are the owners of the company and that is where I get my knowledge from (mostly.)

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I basically know my computer inside and out and how it needs to run. I have 2 custom built computers that I have made along with 1 other which my dad helped me make when I was younger. He showed me most of the computer basics. I have a great knowledge in software like things that either help keep your computer safe to things that will increase the performance of your computer.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I'll give it an 8. I do like to have proper grammar but at times I type to much and don't pay attention to what I am typing on-screen.
What is your current occupation: I'm currently working alongside my family at IDL.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, Since I'm not in any other groups I can post more then 4 times a day.

Why do you want to join Techsperts: There are a couple reasons I want to join techsperts. One of the primary reasons i'd love to join techsperts is because technology has a huge influence and role in my daily life, and i'm nearly an expert. I love to share and converse about all tech. related topics relating to anything from a range of hardware to software. Another reason i'd love to be in the techsperts is because it's one of the most high-quality groups on the forum. Also, i'm currently only in one group, and sadly, the forum I post most in is the lounge - a waste of time. I'd love to devote some more time to helping other members, and what a way to join a group.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:

Suhinder's skill set - Tech. and non-tech. related Hardware modification

Computer construction

Overclocking

Mobile computing

iOS

Windows

Linux

Grammar

Basic computing skills

Virus removal and awarness

Etc.

What can you do to contribute to the group: I love to contribute to HF not only in forms of cash. I have contributed virtual goods, hosting, tutorials to teach people, and iv'e donated my own, valued time to help out members, mostly all for free. I will try my best to release tutorials and teach others in techsperts.

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1762595
Releasing a Vertex PHP RAT tutorial set-up soon, maybe under techspert's name.

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I'm most knowledgeable in blackhat activies and hardware.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I'm usually lurking in the Botnets, IRC, and zombies section, and helping out, or in the lounge, or eminence sub-forum.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I deserve to be in techsperts because I am willing to donate my time and effort to put quality into the group and put forth time into assisting members. I will abide by all of the rules and exceed them, and put others in front of myself.

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I have knowledge in the construction of computers and overclocking. Also knowledge of every single component of a computer. I know a lot about software, and coding. I know PHP and VB.Net. Iv'e created multiple applications and coded many scripts.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:
8.5

What is your current occupation: Full time student in High School.

Will you post at least 4 times a day: Of course, and even more than that.

Some Coding (Java, PHP, CSS, HTML)

As you can tell from my profile, I am a very HQ member, for the most part. I, in the future, will be posting several tutorials in the Social Engineering section, which will help many people.

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:

I usually chill around the market section, general section, and the computing section.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:

I love technology, and I would enjoy sharing my spirit, and opinions with all the other members. I'm overall a HQ member, that can provide HQ tutorials and snippets in the future.

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:

I know some coding, as I owned my own RSPS. Java, CSS, PHP, JS, and HTML. I usually get all my software from torrent sites. I am knowledgeable in visual styles, and windows customization. To be honest, I have built my own computer, so that speaks for itself on the hardware part.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:

I would rate my grammar at a nine, because nobody's perfect.

What is your current occupation:

I don't have an occupation, as I'm fifteen, but I sometimes social engineer, for cash.

Will you post at least 4 times a day:

Definitely, yes.

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: Many people list 'iPhone jailbreaking' or related activities as a skill they have. All that they think jailbreaking of is just hitting a button and letting a program do everything for them. It's more complicated than that, and I'm one of the few people on HF who knows how jailbreaking works, as in to say how a program such as redsn0w, limera1n or JailbreakMe, works and operates on the device, and how you can enhance the features of your iDevice by installing apps, themes and amazing tweaks that not many people know about.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:PC construction

Hardware customization

Computer safety and health

Good grammar (HF needs a lot more of that)

Visual Basic 2010

Technical support and troubleshooting

What can you do to contribute to the group: I love to share my skills with people in need of help. I can help people construct their own PCs and customize their hardware. I will be writing tutorials on various subjects to contribute to the community and express my severe dedication to the group.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1857466
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1886281

What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am most knowledgeable in the areas of PC construction/hardware, good grammar, and Visual Basic 2010.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: Most of the time I'm browsing the Computer Overclocking, Customizing and Hardware section. Sometimes I like to check the bragging rights section and the shopping deals section too.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I think I deserve to be a part of techsperts because first of all, I can supply a great and unique support for users in need of help with their PC. Secondly, I consider myself a pretty friendly guy. I always conclude arguments benevolently, never flame at users, never insult users, and always maintain a positive attitude.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I know all about how to build computers, select parts, utilize software, and create my own software in Visual Basic. I have constructed a total of 3 computers and helped many friends with many both software and hardware issues. For graphics I am also decent with photoshop.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: Honestly, I rate myself with a 10. I got in the 99th percentile on the United States SAT grammar and English tests. I also noticed two grammatical errors in the Application Form format. ?
What is your current occupation: High school student and worker at File-Ice LLC
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Definitely. I will probably be posting even more than 4 times a day.

I would like to see a new side of the community of HF and this group fits me quite well.
What skills can you bring to TechSperts: The knowledge of iDevices. (I know quite a lot)
Graphics- I can help with many users.
I can bring a lot of knowledge on basic RATs and SQLi.
I can bring knowledge of basically anything iDevice related. It's quite a broad range.
iPod Nanos 1 G custom firmware 6th gen can jailbreak.
That's just an example and most people haven't even heard of a jailbroken nano.
What can you do to contribute to the group:
I can contribute a lot.
One I can do many GFX requests.
I can do many ideas and knowledge to the group.
Mostly about iDevices, but I can assure you that I am able to help out 95% of iDevice issues.
I can help with basic RAT/port forwarding questions as well.
I can organise threads if any one ever needs help.
I can make sure I will always use high quality in my posts and decent grammar

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: Yes I believe I have three or four out there. They are as detailed as can be for a specific subject. [will update when I am not on my ipod] I do tips as well so that's a simple thread I close, but aware other users of whatever the subject is.

Why do you want to join Techsperts:
I feel the group suits me perfectly, my dad owns a computer store, therefore I'm kind of techy, and I like to discuss and debate on technology (i.e. debating which graphics card is better) and also I am willing to post exclusive tutorials for the Tech Sperts group!

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
I am very knowledgeable (IMO) with technology, mainly computers and whatnot but I can have a full on debate on which graphics card is for gaming, which memory brand is best for storage, ect!!

What can you do to contribute to the group:
I will post tutorials, original ones though, not any copy/paste tutorials from other sites! Also I will share methods on how to make your system run faster, or other system type things like that!

Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

A few are:

https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1767332
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1907728

What areas are you most knowledgeable in:
I know more about which graphic cards are best, which memory is best, all that type stuff! More on the recommendation side, or "assisting" somebody on making a choice for which graphics card would be best, with a 300 dollar budget (that kind of thing)

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
Gaming/Social Engineering (Only because, I don't publicly release tutorials, for it may help, but I only help people out when they need it! Rarely do I release stuff about tech, because it'll just get passed around without any credit going to me, and I like to be proud and know that somebody appreciates ME, and not some skid whom copy/pastes!

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I am motivated and I contribute, I'm not Low Quality and nor am I a douche bag. For me, those are the essence of a great member, I am usually nice to all members of whom are nice back, there would be some dickheads here and there, but I still stand strong for who I am, and I do not let anybody take that away!

What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
•Social Engineering
•Marketplace/Sellers section, buyers bay, deal disputes
•Free Service and Giveaway section

Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:

I think i deserve to be apart of the Techsperts because i am a very nice and HQ member. I love to do giveaways, and help members. Whenever i have spare time i help as many users as i can, and i usually answer all of their questions. I just like to help people and i also learn from many people i help. I am able to post very helpful answers in the sub forum each and every day. I would be able to post around 50 post per day in the sub forum.

Miscellaneous Questions

What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software:
I have used various operating systems and special tools on them such as injections and many more. I have a great vast of knowledge of hardware with electronic items.

Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest:

My grammar is not very good, but it could be worse. I would say its around 7-8, as i try every post i make, to look it over for mistakes.

What is your current occupation: My current occupation is a part-time job at circle K. I make around $11 a hour their.

Will you post at least 4 times a day:
I will be able to post around 20-50 times each day, depending on which day and what time. Usually it will be around 40 post per day, and they will be HQ and helpful post's.

I would have to say programming. While I have a pretty much complete knowledge in rats and how they work, the amount of knowledge I have in programming is much more, and I still have much more to learn.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?:
I tend to hang out in the VB.Net section, the minecraft section, and lounge a lot.
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts:
I think I deserve to be a Techspert because I have a lot to offer, I am a very kind person, and I would give as much to this group as I possibly can. I am hoping to become a large part of this group, and I am definitely looking forward to it.

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I think I have a pretty general knowledge in this subject so it would be a little hard to point out specifics. I know a little bit of everything about hardware, and a little bit about software. I also have things I'm particularly knowledgeable about.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would give my self a seven, because I wouldn't say I'm perfect, but I definitely put effort into making myself grammatically correct. If you look at any of my post you would see that I type for the most part grammatically correct.
What is your current occupation: I am a student in high-school.

What skills can you bring to TechSperts:
Computer building / Tweaking / Fixing / Upgrading

Software skills

ex RAT user (getting back into it)

Misc hacking (phones, ipods, radios, xbox's PS3's)

I can jtag xbox 360's

All this other stuff too, but they aren't the main things

What can you do to contribute to the group: I can contribute my time to help members who need help with issues about computers.
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links: None, I am not a tutorial person to be honest because a tutorial can't fix every issue a user has. Lets say someone gets a BSOD error, there are TONS of different BSOD errors out there and I would have to create 100's of tutorials on how to fix all of them. Rather then doing that I like to get my hands dirty and work with the person having the issue and help them through the process 1 on 1 rather them reading my tutorial and having to ask all the questions on the thread that might not be answered for a few hours.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: Computer building, Computer cleaning, Computer fixing, Computer upgrading, Computer tweaking
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: I hang out in the RAT section the most but if you

PC Repair, Maintnence, and Upgrades

What can you do to contribute to the group: If I am accepted into the Techsperts, I could share the knowledge and experience I have acquired in my time hacking and coding. I could help out fellow Techsperts with anything they require assistance with and I would do my best to enrich the group with useful information. Any products I release after joining the group will be offered at a very generous discount to Techsperts and I will allow techsperts to beta test the products free of charge (Note: Currently working on a C++ crypter, more information to be posted soon.)
Have you written any tutorials/guides, if so, provide links:

I had quite a few Social Engineering threads but I removed them when call-ins were banned. Don't really like the coding section on HF, I prefer MSDN.
What areas are you most knowledgeable in: I am very knowledgeable in social engineering free products and coding in C/C++. I know a decent amount about monetizing (Marketer for life) and advertising.
What sections of HF do you hang out in the most?: The Marketplace, Hacking Tutorials, and Electronics and Gadgets
Why do you deserve to be apart of Techsperts: I have wanted to be in The Techsperts to be a part of their seemingly wonderful community. I have been on hack forums for almost 2 years now and I try to be helpful and make high quality posts every day. I have never scammed anyone and I would love to be apart of this high quality group that appears to be making this forum a better place. If I was accepted I would actively post useful information in the sub-forum and always put fellow Techsperts (and Marketers) before anyone else on HF..

Miscellaneous Questions
What Knowledge do you have in regards to hardware and software: I run a local side business that specializes serving and upgrading computers out of my garage. I am well versed in hardware and OS upgrades and all around computer repair and data recovery.
Rate your spelling, grammar and use of the English language on a scale of 1 - 10. 1 being the worst and 10 being the best, be honest: I would say my spelling and grammar is a solid 9. I'm not a child who just entered high school.

What is your current occupation: College Student, as well as freelance coding and my computer business on the side.
Will you post at least 4 times a day: Yes, I will do my best to stay as active as possible in the sub-forum.

All members were still over-looked even though you did not meet the requirements.
If you were denied because of "No tutorials written." it is because to be in a group that's soul purpose is writing tutorials, we want people that are good at it. The only way we can determine that is by looking over some recent tutorials that you have written for the public.
Also, all new recruits because they met the standards. Nothing was done unfairly.
So please don't post "awwh, you picked him because your friends with him".
I definitely do not do that. I am friends with most of the people on this list, and almost all of them were denied.

It's more of a compilation, you weren't just denied because of that your application obviously didn't meet the standards or you didn't write enough tutorials.

Also, lrn2spell.
