Pm if you want to buy the source code you kidding us? u can easy go on google and do it for free.

Milopeach - May 10, 2011, 5:40 am

There's like 5 of these already on here and it would take like another 4 seconds to create.

Anyway, there is room for improvement on this, Good luck with it.

It's more that people work hard and release it to help others and then someone just goes a tries to sell it.

!Root - May 10, 2011, 6:41 am

I would love the source code since i'm into programming translators. I don't want to buy it though, would appreciate it a lot if you would share.

?Demon - May 10, 2011, 6:43 am

I assume you can't read right?

learn to code or quit it... "HACKER" - lold

MalwareMop - May 10, 2011, 7:10 am

This is really classic, I bet you can't code for anything. Your grammar is terrible and I assume that you're not English. You have been caught 'Leeching' Content, and trying to sell it, and the best thing you can say is 'From next time' which is grammaticality incorrect. I'm glad all you know how to do is change the 'Text' of a Label. Keep it up, and I assure you, your Goal will never come.

gandy3451 - May 10, 2011, 7:58 am

Lol another noob got owned.. classic

Xylon - May 10, 2011, 8:04 am

Hmm... How could it this be advance? why not using google translate just as it is? no better improvements is available :P

And my grammar is better than u..."From next time" is a correct grammar, go google it...and i know much more about vb 2008...and i maked some programs myself...without leeching...and u said that "my goal will never come" so i don't care about it coz my goal is already completed and by the way u said that "my goal will never come" is a grammatical mistake... goals never come they are completed...

and u said "and the best thing you can say is 'From next time' which is 'grammaticality' incorrect." By the way there is again a grammatical mistake the spelling is "Grammatically" not "grammaticality"...

So don't say my grammar is poor...I think ur grammar is poor :P

Why do you always type with bold on, and so many dots? It's really annoying man :)

Errors:

- 1) From next time : Next time I will
- 2) "is a correct grammar" : is correct grammar
- 3) "and i maked" : and I have made
- 4) "coz my goal" : because my goal

Flaws:

You are not American, and or English so you have no right to correct me with your terrible spelling, grammar, and punctuation. You are from a third world country, and can't program. I would suggest that you take your time to learn the 'English' language and how it is used.

I will agree I 'Mistyped' the word 'grammaticality' I meant to use 'grammatically'.

These errors are correct from ur side but different countries have their different grammar.

Errors:

- 1) From next time : Next time I will
- 2) "is a correct grammar" : is correct grammar
- 3) "and i maked" : and I have made
- 4) "coz my goal" : because my goal

and From my side they are not grammatical mistakes, they all are correct and the last point u wrote ("coz my goal" : because my goal) is not a grammatical mistake i wrote it in a short form...

and lets stop this topic here and we should become friends now... :)

So don't say my grammar is poor...I think ur grammar is poor :P

1. U is not a word, it is a letter. The proper spelling is you.
2. ... is not a correct way to end a sentence unless you are using it to trail off in a speech or to create a dramatic pause, which I can ensure you were not doing.
3. ... is not used in the middle of sentences nor paragraphs, it marks the end of a paragraph when used.
4. Coz is not a word either, cause and because are, though cause is not to be used to substitute because, they have two different meanings.
5. When using quotations marks, you are to start it with a comma, then move into the quotation marks. If you would like an example;
Johnny came up to me and said, "Hello."
6. You said that him having said, "my goal will never come" is a grammatical error, that, and I quote, "goals never come they are completed..." That is not a grammatical error as grammatical errors are when words are misspelled or punctuation is incorrect, not when word usage is incorrect.
7. Ur is not a word, it is a misconstrued, improper spelling of the words your and you're.

Next time you try to insult someone's grammar, don't make an ass of yourself.

Uhm, Quote:That is not a grammatical error as grammatical errors are when words are misspelled or punctuation is incorrect, not when word usage is incorrect.

Wrong. Grammatical errors are when words are used incorrectly.

idb. - May 10, 2011, 12:10 pm

4 pages of flaming and correcting grammar? Really? No one has anything better to do right now I'm guessing? Someone PLEASE close this thread so people can stop ing it. Also can everyone please give it a rest with the "your grammar sucks" reply posts? It's corny as hell (especially when most of the people who are correcting also have shit grammar). This is the internet, people need to lighten up. The 'titles' on this site are L33t and Ub3r for christ sakes. No one should be saying ANYTHING about grammar.

That being said... dude fucked up, and got called out on it. Let it go and move onto more important things.
