Thread: [\[Tutorial\] Advanced Photo Retouching \(for all skill levels\)](#)

pseud0 - May 16, 2011, 4:50 pm

This is a class, NOT a tutorial.

Treat it as such, it isn't to show you ONE thing. It is a teaching tool that shows many techniques and multiple ways to accomplish effects.

This is a one hour Class, you dont need to watch it all at once, just watch it! I am going to cover a lot in this video so pay attention!

If you take the time to try these on an image please post them with a prefix of "HW - " so I know you did it after watching my vid.

If you have any trouble or questions i will be more than happy to answer them...

Here is the before and after of what we will be doing:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

and here is the original stock:

make sure you keep it as large as possible to make this easy as possible.

Next Video:

Lesson 2 - 15 minute Retouch with advanced techniques

Note: My ultimate goal is to do a complete series from basics to extremely advanced...I want everyone to learn at least ONE thing.

This is my first time doing a video so, the videos will get better as i go along, bear with me.

kahad - May 16, 2011, 5:38 pm

good tutorial for beginners. (i am one, lol)

Minus-Zero - May 16, 2011, 5:40 pm

Why is it 71 fucking minutes, shorten it a bit.

Yes - May 17, 2011, 3:54 am

Lol not even retouching can help her...

Bookmarking this page so ill come back when i have time :)

pseud0 - May 17, 2011, 9:44 am

lol, thanks man let me know if you learn anything...kind of upsetting to have this thing take so fucking long trying to help everyone and they are all lazy cunts.

s?hane - May 17, 2011, 12:13 pm

LMAO, Sorry about the music, Im going to eat a mc donald s burger! =)
Beast Video lol

What version of photoshop are you running?

kyoutu - May 17, 2011, 10:15 pm

Thanks a lot. =] I'm sure there's a lot I can learn from this. =D I shall be following

?lu? - May 22, 2011, 9:45 am

I'll bookmark this thread for later. I watch the video when I get on the computer and have time (after my half yearly exams in a few weeks). I hope to learn as much as possible from these videos. I hope to keep up with all your lessons too. Thanks for doing this to help beginners or even people who just want to improve their skill.

Minea Korosu - May 23, 2011, 12:59 am

Currently downloading :) Thanks a load! It's interesting even why it's too long so expecting to learn a lot more. This would be very helpful for beginner's like me. :) And I've watched continuous hours of tuts before, for cartooning, vectors etc. Not a bit boring. :P

So after watching the video I'll try look for a stock, edit then post it here? Is that how this class works? :P

You can post it in the Rate My graphic section so all can see it, Just mention me in the post, I follow some people closer than others and those who are taking time listening to me get special treatment... Just make sure to post a before and after so i can see what you did to it and give you good feedback!

iLee - May 23, 2011, 8:03 am

No worries, download CS5.5 Master Collection, :D Going to do it now.

I think I do need a photo for the actual photo retouching with better resolution. Can you suggest a site or a link maybe if not that's okay. I've just watched the video and will be watching again during the process. Thanks, I hope it turns out well. :)

Just honestly look anywhere for untouched portraits...it can be a task...but deviant art has them everywhere...

Yea it is as far as retouching goes without getting into manipulation...but thanks for your opinion, i see what you are trying to say.

Cherish Life - June 19, 2011, 12:39 pm

That's somewhat of a sexy voice. Watching it atm: at 20:00

Boo. - June 19, 2011, 1:16 pm

:) I'm gonna watch it now. I'll be retouching my fugly face with this tutorial. ^.- tehehehehehehe.

Usin it to get the bitches shirts off on omegle i see...hahaha.

It is great for fixing up family photos as well!

Hope you guys learn something from it!

iPixel - June 21, 2011, 2:59 am

Going to check this out.

May need to use it sooner or later. :D

Thanks.

pseud0 - June 22, 2011, 6:28 am

Do it man, I promise you will learn something.

Thanks for the interest either way!

Alligator - June 22, 2011, 1:28 pm

Thanks man, right now I was watching one of the lynda.com's retouching techniques but yeh I'll look into this. Thanks for posting it

Ovolon - June 22, 2011, 7:14 pm

Holy crap 71 minutes! I'm watching this now thanks for taking the time to help teach us noobies.

?lu? - June 23, 2011, 3:22 am

Im watching this now. The one really bad thing about this is you have turned off the curser, so half the time I have no idea what your doing. So you would be like "okay so we need to work on this area here.. you need to click this thing and now come back over to this area and we can.. change the depth.." saying all this random crap and I am trying to look around the screen to try and see anything happening.

Kinda sucks you ruined this great tutorial.. sorry, class with that. But yet apart from that, its helpful.

King Kong - June 23, 2011, 5:40 pm

I 5 stared this, and yea show ur cursor next time =P lol

pseud0 - June 23, 2011, 5:42 pm

@trigger I didn't ruin the tutorial bro...camtasia fucking bullshit did...I cant access certain tools unfortunately with the mouse cursor on, I am working on figuring something out though....

King Kong - June 23, 2011, 5:48 pm

So it wont let u click on (in camstudio)

Options

> Cursor Options

> And Click Show Cursor

pseud0 - June 23, 2011, 5:51 pm

No no no....I know that...It disables some of the tools in photoshop when i have the cursor showing...So it prevents me from teaching at all...If i could find a better recorder for Win7 x64 that compresses the files as well as camtasia i would try it....

King Kong - June 23, 2011, 6:13 pm

try opening photoshop before you open camstudio, or vice versa

pseud0 - July 29, 2011, 4:14 am

i tried that unfortunately....nothing, i am still trying to fix the issue...any other suggestions would be helpful too

DGisRIPPIN - September 22, 2011, 5:24 pm

Awesome tut!

Im a noobie noob, so this is a big help.

TheNeutron - December 1, 2011, 10:18 pm

Awsome collection man! Great!

blankpixel - June 21, 2012, 8:14 pm

sir please update the link, i can't download the file..thanks

pseud0 - June 21, 2012, 8:55 pm

I think the tutorial may be gone for good my friend...I will make another soon.
