

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Adblock Plus - Annoyance free web surfing

iLesboHD - May 22, 2011, 4:46 pm

[img]http://profile.ak.fbcdn.net/hprofile-ak-snc4/195814_157634214278007_5642246_n.jpg[/img]

About Adblock Plus

Are you annoyed by internet advertising? Are you concerned about advertising companies like Google and Facebook spying on you? Then get Adblock and surf the web in peace! You can easily disable all banners, popups, layer advertisements and video-ads as well as tracking codes, Facebook like-buttons and much more.

Adblock Plus is a free browser extension that blocks any unwanted element (such as advertisements) from websites. You can either select these elements on your own or you can select one of many free filter lists. By subscribing to a list, all elements defined in this list will be blocked from loading when you visit a website. After the installation you will be automatically subscribed to EasyList which removes all advertisements from the internet for you.

Adblock Plus can do much more than blocking ads: Whatever annoys you on the web, you can just disable it and forget about it. For example, by subscribing to a free privacy protection filter list you can easily disable all tracking codes such as Google Analytics that is spying on your click behaviour and using this information to better target ads to you based on your interests. If you dont want companies to profile you that way, just install Adblock Plus and deactivate all tracking.

Download Adblock Plus

Adblock for Chrome: <http://adblockplus.org/en/>

Adblock for Firefox: <http://adblockplus.org/en/firefox>

Adblock Facebook page: <http://www.facebook.com/adblockplus>

Nov - May 22, 2011, 4:47 pm

This is a must for every internet user. I have been using it since it came out.

Excalibur - May 22, 2011, 4:48 pm

adblock + flashblock = Win

Morse Code - May 22, 2011, 4:49 pm

I use adblock on my Google Chrome and it is professional

Beauty - May 22, 2011, 4:50 pm

I thought everybody knew about this.

iLesboHD - May 22, 2011, 4:52 pm

(May 22, 2011 04:50 PM)Cute Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I thought everybody knew about this.

You never know who does and doesnt. But for those who dont know about it, they do kno.(: