I am not going to be like all these other booter salesmen I am going to be straight up and get straight to the point and not waste your time.

DoSbox has been alive for over a year while regular booters usually have a life of 1 month.

DoSbox has made a positive name for itself over the months.

DoSbox is coded 100% from scratch.

DoSbox is located offshore on it's own server, not some shitty reseller.

Do you want something that works or just a piece of shit tool that will only last a few weeks. Let's do the math 20$ (our lifetime cost) /5$ (their lifetime cost) = 4.

You can pay 5$ once every month for 4 months to get to the cost of my 20$ booter. It's logical just to buy for life and actually have a working program after a few months.

Plans

Monthly - $5.00

Lifetime - $20.00

Carbon would not lead you astray.

This looks like a good product as much as I dislike booters.
