Did you base this color scheme off of your teeth?

Looks alright, but it also looks like you blasted it with piss.

Align the main window text better

The text can easily be centered within the theme code, it's not hard to find if you know where to look.

I'm British, so it doesn't really matter.
I'm just saying I'm not like what people stereotype us for.

i know I already know how to make themes with aeon's base, but I am saying people that use your theme aren't gonna feel like go through to change it and plus it'll look better anyways

Wow, nice theme Perplexity! Although in my opinion I believe the title should stick out a little bit more. Everything looks AWESOME!!

Thanks :P

I don't really release themes anymore, I just make them and leave them :3

Well that works too, I guess. That is how I was at first, but now it seems to be what I am good at, so I do it and release them instead of the 9000 other booters, stealers, crypters, and loggers that are all C+P's of one another.

In regards to the theme, the top bar could be a little bigger in order to compensate for a bigger general form.

Other than that, nice job. The colors work well. I like it.

Thanks but this thread is kind of old now :L

Maybe I'll learn how to make better themes and release them.

Do so. It is always nice to have a nice variety of themes to choose from for applications, and lord knows there aren't enough of them that are kept around. (My other 8 were forgotten already. ?)
