This kid is obviously a retard crying over 4$ because he can't follow rules... VOUCH FOR Arron!

What is the point of vouching in a scam report?

Vouch for Aron :D btw dude I'm using proxies for my own protection when I use the booter so I might come up with a Poland IP from opera turbo :D

I went on his booter today and booted one website which was mine to see how strong it was, his booter is not strong enough to take down a server that I tried before so I combined his booter with two others and then managed to take it down.

I then told him on the live chat that I did it with two other booters and managed to take it down, he wasn't pleased with this so he said rule break ban.

Booting a website is not in your TOS, there for I did not break your rules by doing this, or was you just pissed at me because I had to use two other booters to help it along.

You keep claiming your booter is really strong but it isnt it is really weak and in your live chat even members have had problems kicking people off there xbox servers.

Just because you have been a member long before me and you have had good customers doesn't mean your not going to get one dislike (me).

You are allowed to boot websites with his booter he allowed it have a look all booters allow it.

And at the end of the day I didn't scam him, he took me off something I paid for for something stupid that I disclaim I did so I charged back I am not going to be ripped off by some little punk kid.

Not sure why you would boot websites in the first place,

You're using a udp protocol which try's to take the whole server down, it's obviously only for home connections. I hate people who use booter's to hit google offline. so fucking pointless.

Your TOS is stupid. What is the point of having a booter if you cant bring down a website edit: I side with the booter owner although I disagree with the TOS. If the tos says you lick balls when you buy and you dont lick balls, youve broken the TOS.
