LaserMaster - June 4, 2011, 3:37 pm

THIS is to show my true dedication to HackForums and the people within ^_^

Enjoy this act of stupidity/dedication

The pain was worth it

YOU CAN SEE THE SMOKE AS MY SKIN VAPORIZES!

Whattafuck are you doing man? Are you serious?

FoRePLayy. - June 4, 2011, 3:39 pm

Holy shit man. Haha, true HF whore right there. Just kidding.

LaserMaster - June 4, 2011, 3:39 pm

It's not that bad. It's just a surface scar It's not that bad. It's just a surface scar.

And it will go away after a year or two (Jun 4, 2011 03:39 PM)Hash™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Holy shit man.
Haha, true HF whore right there. Just kidding.

I dont want no fukkin rep for this lol

Im'a gangsta!

Nah, I was just bored, I love HF, and i have high powered lasers.

Dedicated a square CM of my skin to this forum

What the fuck is wrong with you? Addicted?

Ally Mac - June 4, 2011, 3:50 pm

WHAT THE HELL?! WHAT HAVE YOU BEEN SMOKING?

I might scribble HF on my hand with pen but WITH A LASER?! ARE YOU INSANE?

Wow.

~A

LaserMaster - June 4, 2011, 3:52 pm

omg i love these reactions. soo worth it ^_^

Chancelor - June 4, 2011, 3:54 pm

Why would you do that? But I do like your laser.

LaserMaster - June 4, 2011, 3:57 pm

Because it's something to do, the pain is almost nothing.. it happens so fast you barely feel it.

And i generally have no excuse.. I just wanted to. it's only a few layers of skin, heals up fine, and hey, im the only one here repping HF on the back of my hand for all to see

BigG - June 4, 2011, 3:58 pm

I'm gonna amputate one of my balls and write 'HackForums' with its juice.

maybeDeToX - June 4, 2011, 3:58 pm

HAHAHA that shits weak! I'm gonna make a video with a samurai sword...

Where can I get one of these shipped to Canada. Please PM Me.

Nice video, enjoyed your pain.

LaserMaster - June 4, 2011, 4:01 pm

good, my pain is to be enjoyed ^_^

@eye - LMAO!!! you do that

Tyrober - June 4, 2011, 4:45 pm

Youll have a good story to tell your kids one day.

eight - June 4, 2011, 4:46 pm

Don't tell me you also live in the closet and haven't seen the sun in like 10 years.<3

Healing process Updated Again. Day 3 is lookin good. redness is starting to go away.

.Astro - June 6, 2011, 9:14 am

If you did this for Qwazz, you'd win a star. Just sayin'.

LaserMaster - June 6, 2011, 9:16 am

I don't wanna whore for a star though... I'd rather earn one.

But do you think it'd have to be his name, or a star? lolz hopes it's just a star

Prince of Persia - June 6, 2011, 6:56 pm

How long does each of these last for? Do you have these orange/yellow lasers?

LaserMaster - June 6, 2011, 7:28 pm

That was actually a blu-ray laser.

And the scars last a good while.

That orange and yellow you saw was my skin vaporizing

Incorporate - June 6, 2011, 7:36 pm

That is a pretty nice scar you got there.

LaserMaster - June 6, 2011, 7:46 pm

Thanks, It'll be allot nicer when its done healing in 2-4 days. I'm taking photos daily to update.

Prince of Persia - June 7, 2011, 3:50 pm

No I was wondering do you have a orange/yellow laser?

LaserMaster - June 7, 2011, 5:36 pm

I can source one for you Prince, Just shoot me a PM. I don't have any on hand ATM

alibaba5 - June 7, 2011, 5:56 pm

I guess it's "cool" to scar yourself these days...

I like the HF thing, but in my opinion the method you used,.. Is sick.

btw, can you laser my tattoos away? hehhehehe

Cheers

White Hat - June 7, 2011, 5:57 pm

I'm so doing this. D:

I needz tu buhy ah lazoo3r!

LaserMaster - June 7, 2011, 6:14 pm

The method was MEANT to be intense, ans sickening to the weak. It was done this way to TRULY show dedication. Not some half-ass way of saying "I love HF". i guess the only way to top what I did is a real tattoo.

And i can remove your tattoos... but not they way you WANT them removed ^_^ heh heh

And laser scarring isn't as bad as it sounds. Instead of blades and needles. one uses concentrated Light to do the trick ^_^ removes the pigment, the scars don't RAISE UP like traditional scarring does. This simply blisters, and kills pigment in the skin, leaving perfect uniform scars. :)

Say what you will, everyone is different. This is my way of expression, at least im not putting things under my skin, installing horns, and forking my tongue lmao!

glad you guys like it though. This is for your pure/sick enjoyment, and my personal satisfaction only.

~LM

LaserMaster - June 7, 2011, 7:04 pm

Updated with day 4 healing photo. Lookin good, most of redness is gone, about 4 more days i predict until the perfect scar is revealed ^_^

Warhawk - June 7, 2011, 10:06 pm

I can't believe someone would do that, lol. You've been here for a month, slow down a bit.

SIM-524734 - June 7, 2011, 10:09 pm

You are so gonna regret this when time passes by...

LaserMaster - June 7, 2011, 10:51 pm

I regret nothing. I live life to the fullest. A small marking on my hand is the least of my worries. plus, in time it goes away. wouldn't even notice it unless you really looked.

And I had nothing to gain by doing this. I simply did it. That's all there is to it :)

But EVERYONE deserves an opinion. Keep them coming ;) I do not judge.

So far I've gotten very mixed reactions. And it's proven quite interesting to say the least.

Jeimuzu - June 7, 2011, 11:10 pm

(Jun 11, 2011 07:10 PM)xofogox Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You should get that covered with glow in the dark ink from a tattoo parlor.

Ya know I've actually tried that, But the laser just destroys the ink, now smearing it into the open blisters will work.

But I mite add it isn't the funnest way to add ink to a cut...

Far more efficient coloring with a real needle gun.

For now, Lasers are just for scarring. I could have rubbed like blue glitter into it, and it would have healed into the wound for a while, but it just pushes itself out over time naturally. that's why i didn't add anything to it.

Jaykk - June 19, 2011, 10:34 pm

How many watts is yours?

I have a 1.3W 445 that I got off LPF for about $200.

Just saying, 445nm radiation is known to cause cancer if you are exposed to it long enough, so I would never recommend found this, as the long-term effects could be serious.

LaserMaster - June 19, 2011, 10:37 pm

Not long exposure, obviously.

Bet that 1.3W puppy kicks huh?

And I have many Lasers, including a 2W (it's ub3r big tho, I didn't go all out on it.)

Jaykk - June 20, 2011, 12:35 am

Yeah I use it for engraving wood :D

I also tried using it for astronomy, but the beam is much too bright.

Is your 2W handheld, and what kinds of runtimes do you get on it?

LaserMaster - June 20, 2011, 12:51 am

Of course it's handheld, takes two 18650's for about 2 hour runtime. Maybe not even that actually, never truly timed it as it is in cycles, not all at once

I try to do the best I can, HF is so fun for me, and has given me an outlet to be around people I like,

and sell my lasers, as well as give back to the community :)

I'm still insane though ?

Kink - June 24, 2011, 8:16 pm

Is the scar still there? :P idk about people selling these, might get some 12 year old who burns his eyes and blames it on you, should get their age first. :P

YTMS - June 24, 2011, 8:24 pm

Yo dude, this is CRAZY!! how strong is the lazer?

LaserMaster - June 24, 2011, 8:56 pm

The laser I used to do the scarring was only 400mW's!!!

I sell up to 2WATTS

And yeah dude above above, the scar is permanent lol

nope, it's a perfect scar now :) PM "error" he has seen it in person (he's the only one whos seen it in person as a matter of fact) (Sep 11, 2011 10:32 AM)Backspacez Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You have some balls for doing that lol. Good job.

Thanks man, I did it for HF, my way of giving back, people ask me "hey man wtf is that "HF" scar on your hand?" and then that opens the door to talking about HF and my lasers, = sales and more members!

Can we see what it looks like now?

"Final Update" type thing?

I'm going to go over it once more and let it heal again, as it has since caught a bit of a tan, and is kind of hard to see/

Error has seen it though

i'll do this as soon as i have a few days off work (cuz theil be like.... wtf dude!) lol
