Thread: Hack Forums Complaint Department

PhirewireNET - June 12, 2011, 8:48 pm

Everyone complains and no one gives a shit right? But people still like to complain weither you care or not? In order to provide services to this forum and to support omni in his ways, I decided to wip up something.

The HackForums Complaint Department

The hackforums complaint department is here to listen, and respond to your issues. All you have to do is follow the instructions below.

1. Log-on to your email.
2. Compose a new email.
3. Bitch about your problems and send the email to complaints@facts4benefit.net
4. Expect a well written and caring response in seconds.

Now, this is completely in beta and is just an example for omni and the members to test but its fully functional. Give it a try, you know you have something to bitch about!

Read after emailing \(Click to View\) The beta thing is a joke as this hole thread is. Enjoy hahaha

I see what you did there -_-

Fail. It's "too bad" not "to bad".

I think you should send that to the complaint department I'm sure they will get right on fixing it.

Not exactly a suggestion.. Let's keep this in your head, or if you must the lounge or testing section.

^ Follow the above post on how to complain about this thread.

I "Suggest" omni implements this with the actual Hackforums URL.
