People never seem to leave it behind. Come on, really. And heartless comments are just fucking stupid.

skitzofrantic616 - June 20, 2011, 4:58 pm

He did do this to himself. But it really is sad. Pray for you dude.

CarpKing - June 20, 2011, 5:08 pm

I know he's just another person, but he was a really funny guy and he seemed to be a nice person as well.

If you actually read the thread, you'd know he was trying to prove that it wasn't a hoax..

According to the released autopsy an accident reconstruction team determined the car to be moving at approximately 130 mph when it collided with a quadrail.

I am not sorry at all. One, because many people I have never met, both better and worse, die everyday why cry because he is famous? Two, he brought this upon himself and his passenger (the one no one seems to be boo-hooing over).

I'm just happy he didn't wreck with another vehicle while he was showing such poor judgement and self control. Rent a day on a racetrack you rich fuck -_-

.Astro - June 21, 2011, 9:20 pm

I'm not sad about his death, but then again, I'm not happy.
I'm neutral about it.

Things happen, but they only happen from a cause.
If he was more responsible, this wouldn't have happened.
But when something happens, you can't just change it. Especially if it's something serious like this.

But for the people who honestly think that it's not true, well you guys need to move on. He can't come back from the dead, so I think you guys should get over it before you do something stupid that probably would endanger your life, as well as others.

Airex - June 21, 2011, 11:33 pm

Jackass members already approved this. He died in action he should be proud.

You might as well say that obama is a ghost...
