Thread: My position on advertising...and PM advertising

Omniscient - April 12, 2008, 12:28 pm

I just want it CLEAR that PM spamming will get you BANNED and your URL will forever be on the censor list. I also don't allow threads or posts to advertise competing sites. However IF your linking to another site as a SOURCE for an article, tool, or something useful and relevant then I have no objections.

I will also allow members to add signature links to sites provided the text is regular size and that the site isn't in my ban list such as TRH. And don't think doing tinyurl redirects will get by me either.

Anyone breaking my policies will just get banned. I think it's fair that at HF we shouldn't be under spam attack from sites trying to create a member base. HF was built without one single email or forum spam. Everywhere I advertised HF I was allowed to.

Sites that use BS techniques to advertise don't normally last very long. Their traffic is unnatural and they quickly die as no one joins and the small group gets bored. HF has 40-50 signups EVERYDAY...more than enough fresh blood to keep this place interesting.

Do we have a lot of n00bs...absolutely. We do...you can either choose to ignore them or find a walled-garden site to join. HF doesn't give a shit if you just bought your computer yesterday. We help those we can and ignore those we can't. There are also a TON of n00bs here claiming they know something when in reality they are script-kiddies. It's the quiet members here that are the most dangerous.

Nuff said.

oreo - April 12, 2008, 12:31 pm

Looking at the member list...TRH has gotten a lot of their members from HF...that is just sad when you think about it...

Skittles- - April 12, 2008, 1:11 pm

What's this TRH anyways. And about the n00b thing, Yes there is a lot of noobs here, and more joining everyday, but I must stress to everyone, that EVERY single one of the best hackers, and hackers on this forum was noobs one day, instead of laughing at them or flaming them, we should instead praise them.. As one day they could come back and just totally fuck with you in more ways that you'd think possible.

I feel that noobs are hackers and skiddies are good for hackforums. I also think that it's about time that people start helping these noobs on this forum.. And when we do, they will post their tutorials and methods on things that they have learned.. maybe even things that we've forgotten or missed out on posting..

All hail Hackforums!

It's the best hacking forum on the net.. And as long as everyone keeps posting up good information and helps others all the time if possible.. I'm sure we could easily double our user database in the next few months.

I agree with you but just to answer ur question TRH is the rabbit hole started by TheCancerHasYou... a total and complete douchebag. lol. Who steals hackforums tuts and posts them on his own site.

zeb420 - April 12, 2008, 3:37 pm

lol. i like the edit where it says faggot instead of r488it

Omniscient - April 12, 2008, 3:47 pm

Well...he is now banned. I really don't give a shit who started what...I just know that I don't welcome spam. Anyone here like spam? Raise your hand if you do. There is a right way to do things...and a wrong way.

Skittles- - April 12, 2008, 3:49 pm

he better not of been stealing my tuts :\

zeb420 - April 12, 2008, 3:51 pm

i heard a lot of the tuts on there were stolen from HF. I'm not a member and haven't even visited the site cuz Cancer's a douche. I propose that members from HF group together to find any vulnerabilites in TRH and hack the crap out of it... oh and no i dont like spam... that's one unraised hand for me please.

Omniscient - April 12, 2008, 3:56 pm

You want to destroy TRH? Simple. Their hosting packages is based on bandwidth. If you flood them with packets and heavy bandwidth they will probably go broke and have to close the site down. Also they have to pay in advance...so let's say they have $20 in their account...About 50GB of bandwidth and their site goes down until they can pay for more.

A few botnets setup and they are ruined. :)

Not that I would do anything like that mind you. hehe

zeb420 - April 12, 2008, 4:01 pm

lol. sounds like you've been thinking about it though. can u give me link to TRH. lol. i might have to give the old HF members a view of why HF kicks TRH's a$$ just leave it.

Every one of them is called a 'hacker' there, and they all have hacker alignment, which says they are either white/black/grey hat, so I think they're pleased with that the most. ?

oreo - April 12, 2008, 5:58 pm

They're site really is boring...

i completely agree with codine about the noobs, it depends on the selection of them, the one time hacks i dont like, but some are good and here to stay. it is true we all started as noobs and i started learning about hacking not to long ago.... i read around alot before registering, registered, kept reading, kept posting.... learned ALOT from this site and got great direction as to where to learn more. just keep reading and moving forward....

Mr. Jessie Shhh!!
Don't give me ideas!!

I would only go for the Bot-netting
if I couldn't just "finger" their system.
and Hi-Jack it, then wipe it clean.
Maybe plant an O/S Leech on it.
I am pretty sure they didn't think to make a back up.
After all..they're 1337 h4xX04z..Who would mess with them?

Skiddies,,Whoring perl scripts...sooooooo degrading.

Bump as a reminder.

Recently I made a statement that PMs are not moderated..it's true but I realize I have the exception for advertising. I just didn't believe I needed to name the exception as it's common sense imho.

So to clarify the first post is still true...PM advertising will get you banned and your URL censored. This thread is 9 months old but it's still relevent today. What I won't do is be the PM police concerning flaming. You can place a member on ignore and they will be unable to PM you. PMs are private messages but spam is spam. It should be obvious that sending dozens of PMs to members isn't acceptable.

Quote:HF has 40-50 signups EVERYDAY...more than enough fresh blood to keep this place interesting.

lol...now we have about 200.

Biohazard - January 26, 2009, 2:50 pm

Why help n00bs out?

Its just too damn fun, punching them until they cry to their mom.?

Goku - January 27, 2009, 1:30 am bio, shut up, ok? really, THIS SITE IS FOR NOOBS NOT PROS!!! Pro's come here because even a pro has problems, but if you think you're so darn good that you can't lend a hand to someone else then get the heck off this board, got it? Sorry to sound like i'm all ticked off, I'm not, but note that my NUMBER ONE priority as a moderator on this site is for YOU GUYS. If you have a problem, you can trust that you can come to me and get it taken care of, you know I don't play games with people. If you think you're not being treated right, I'll be the first guy to set it strait for you, but if you treat someone else wrongly, you better bet I'll be the first to set YOU strait. As a user, you're here to learn and to teach, that's it. Can you honestly tell me that you go to a forum just to waste time and that you actually get NOTHING out of it, you NEVER have questions, and you NEVER need support, and you NEVER post to ANY thread ANSWERING a question? If you aren't doing that, then you're missing out on the entire purpose and reason of this website and I would greatly push you to learning as much as possible.

"Helping noobs" is not the way you should look at this, because unless you know EVERYTHING there is POSSIBLY to know about computers, then you're a noob, and I am willing to venture the bet that not even bill gates knows everything about computers, nor ANYONE I know. If you think you know everything there is to know about computers and don't want to offer what support you might have to those genuine members who DON'T know everything about computers, then shut your pie hole.
