Really nice contribution! ?

Magnus - June 29, 2011, 5:37 am

This will be very useful if you want to hide your executable and mask them to make it look like it's an mp3 file.

Mr. 8 - June 29, 2011, 5:38 am

Does this work on windows xp also? I only ask as xp has problems with right to left unicode.

Great share though. Thanks for giving back to the community.

WhoAml? - June 29, 2011, 5:39 am

OMFG!

If this works is all I've ever desired...? cover .exe in mp3! Fabolous!

RATCrew ftw! Keep going (free stuff..<3 it!)

Whenever I save the extention it says serverexe.txt ? :S

And it doesn't look like a text file lol.

Edit: Looked at it and now the file is called serverexetxt .. any help?

Kill?Muvz - June 29, 2011, 7:19 am serverexe.txt? change the icon to make it look like a .txt

This is just spoofing the extension not actually changing it.

* JIT Debugging ****

To enable just-in-time (JIT) debugging, the .config file for this application or computer (machine.config) must have the jitDebugging value set in the system.windows.forms section.

The application must also be compiled with debugging enabled.

For example:

<configuration>

<system.windows.forms jitDebugging="true" />

</configuration>

When JIT debugging is enabled, any unhandled exception will be sent to the JIT debugger registered on the computer rather than be handled by this dialog box.

Didn't work for me...This spoofer just adds the extension name to the name of the file. For instance when I try to change the .exe extension to .mp3 of a file called 'harmony', the name of the file changes to 'harmonymp3' and the extension doesn't change, it's still .exe.

Any help is appreciated

There's a character in the windows 7 character map that changes the order of text.

For example, if you have cool 3pm.exe, you can use it to reverse the last part to cool exe.mp3

Hey, thanks for contributing!

I do have one question, how does this tool work? Is it using any exploit?

?BlueAce™ - July 19, 2011, 12:14 am what does it actually do..?? associate mp3 files (or the specified extension) as exe..??

Torian - July 19, 2011, 12:16 am

(Jul 19, 2011 12:14 AM)BlueAce_Pragy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) what does it actually do..?? associate mp3 files (or the specified extension) as exe..??

All it really does is do the character exploit that changes the exe and the extension you're trying to change it to around. So instead of S.exe, it'd be Sexe.jpeg if you make it a jpeg. And it still executes as a program.

?BlueAce™ - July 19, 2011, 12:22 am sorry.. i got it..

actually it uses special unicode characters, that turn the characters around.. so, it makes something[unicodechars].exe look like somethingexe.[unicodechars] nice thingy..

just need to one more thing..

XP users have to enable unicode chars .. (as shown in the link provided in OP) .. so, do Vista/Win7 users get it by default..??

Edit : ..

lol.. found the answer here :P

Quote:Enabling Unicode in Windows 7/Vista

In Windows 7|Vista, Unicode support for Indian languages is enabled automatically upon installation and hence user does not need to enable any settings, as in the case of WinXP/2K

why is it showing .jpg for me and .exe for them ?Well its like this,
Your file looks like an application. Change the icon first. And second, try to keep the filename a bit long to avoid suspicion. The exe will remain before the "." and the ".jpg" extension will come after that. It will show as "exe.jpg". But if you change the icon and give it a large name, people will buy that.

Way I use it is to name your server.exe file MeS.exe when you use the spoofer it adds exe right after your name, so it would look like MeSexe and after that your extension.

I.E:

MeSexe.png

Lets say someone wants to see your picture, just hande that to them and youll have a 1+ zombie. ;)

Tell us how you guys upload the file to your vics. Uploading to a filehoster will not work, cause the file will be renamed on server-side. So the vic will see that he downloads an .exe-file. One way is to .zip the file - that's my tip.

Works great, quick question though. Since it only accepts .exe's, is it possible to spoof the extension and afterwards change the now hidden extension to .scr or something else less noticeable?

I know you can change .exe to .scr normally, but is it also okay to do it after spoofing?

Thanks!

This doesnt work for SHIT.

All it does it writes the extension backwards before the original extension, thus making it even worse and it adds some weird illegal characters to the name. WDF, i tested on every file too.

You seem that you never used before any extension spoofer.It only virtually-changes the extension a.k.a spoofs to fool the slaves.There is no way to really change an extension.If it doesn't work for you, update your net framework files and make sure to install the extra needs for xp if you have installed xp os.

it spoofs the extension for windows vista/7 and appears to be legitimate filename. you can do the same by opening charmap and find U+202E: Right to left override, which has been known for along time though.

Thanks a lot for this OP, I'm just starting out and stuff like this really helps.

Just a heads up though, this showed up as a trojan on my McAfee, you may want to scan it again.

So I just downloaded this, used it. Now my computer is fucked up. Can't click google chrome. Have to run everything as an admin to use it. My start search doesn't work, can't get into my pics, music, anything. Not sure if it was this, or not... I would assume not as Killamuvz is legit

JIT-felsökning

För att aktivera JIT-felsökning (just-in-time) måste .config-filen för det här tillämpningsprogrammet eller datorn (machine.config) ha jitDebugging-värdet angivet i avsnittet system.windows.forms. Tillämpningsprogrammet måste också vara kompilerat med felsökning aktiverat.

Till exempel:

<configuration>
  <system.windows.forms jitDebugging="true" />
</configuration>

När JIT-felsökning är aktiverad kommer alla undantag som inte hanteras att skickas till JIT-felsökaren som är registrerad på datorn snarare än att hanteras av den här dialogrutan.

mac it will not work.

Guys look at the date the thread was posted...FFS that was 4 years ago and to the people whom posted recently: why did you even post? There's at least 5 pages of other people whom haven't gotten support for there post yet. What makes you think that you're magically gunna get support? And as Defcon said, OPs last time online was 2 years ago.

Will the file be a application or a screenshot because im not sure.

Well you can always try it ? but to answer ur question, yes it's still application when you execute it. It just fakes the extension so it's still the program it was before.
