Thread: Need eBay Sellers || \$100 a day + Proof from sellers

Tanarif - June 29, 2011, 2:01 pm

I am looking for up to 5 different sellers to list various products that I have. I will offer as much help as you require and will split the sales 50/50.

If you have any issues, I will offer a refund on my share for the products you sell. Also you can simply open a case on PayPal to get your money back if you do not trust me. I will show you previous listings my sellers have listed. Most of my products sell for around $70, and sell for at least a few a day.

I will update this thread with vouches from previous sellers who have dealt with me. Please either post/pm to get find out more.

Thanks

Vouches:

I can say this: He started me selling one item and I sold 2 of them overnight, netting around $140. This is basically no work if you have a ebay account with a ton of feedback (I have around 100) and a verified paypal. This man is very reasonable and great to work with!

What are the requirements?

I would love to be a seller.

I have a verified ebay account with a verified paypal account. You would have to ship the product first with the tracking number before I give you your cut..

Thanks greatly for the vouch, much appreciated as I don't have many people working with me from HF at the moment as I just started looking. Again, much thanks.

gbameow - August 16, 2011, 5:34 am

Selling keys are against ebay rules. Basically, he is using your ebay account to prevent his from getting banned.

Tanarif - August 19, 2011, 10:10 am

Hi guys, sorry for the lack of updates. Just returned from abroad and am looking for new sellers, and have better products now that are currently selling well. Get in touch and let me know if you have any questions!
