Thread: [\[C++\] Bitcoin FTP Stealer - 9KB Server](#)

JuryBen - July 2, 2011, 6:49 am

Hey, since I saw people selling .NET Bitcoin stealers I decided to throw together a builder and release mine for free. I used the same source I made that Symantec blogged on their site and tons of others except I added a builder.

Anyways the stub is only 9kb. You may wanna pack it because I was too lazy to encrypt anything.

The payload renames the wallet.dat folder to a random integer so you need to rename the file to get the coins.

A scan isn't enough.. It could be a FUD malware..

bot_kill - July 5, 2011, 10:14 am so its working? anyone? please give review.. :)

Reticulum - July 5, 2011, 8:34 pm

It's not infected, I ran it sand boxed. I scanned it. I have not tested it, do to the fact that I haven't any slaves to run it on.

anyone in here know a good ftp host to use with this?

krazedkat - July 6, 2011, 6:42 pm

I should definitely try this out ;) thanks.
