FULL SCHOLARSHIP!

As I started to take a shower earlier, I received a knock at the door with the words, "You have a letter from your college".

Upon asking what professor it was from, I got very excited.

Since I keep most of my personal life a little secret, I've been waiting for a month on word for a scholarship from my college for my work in the honors department!

I open the letter and what is it? A congratulatory letter giving me a scholarship for full tuition and fees.

I'm still completely ecstatic! I already receive a state scholarship that pays for my rent and some help from my grandmother every month as well.

This puts me in FANTASTIC shape and I am simply overcome with joy right now...

Getting this took some doing as I hadn't heard from them for a while, but with a kind and very detailed letter, she was much more encouraged to give me one of the four remaining scholarships.

So it also goes to show you that getting in touch on a personal level about things like this certainly does help.

Things I did in my first year as an honor student:

Worked in a Biochem lab with one of the greatest professors at my school.

Got my name on a poster for helping a graduate student with his thesis.

Did surgeries on mice for the study of inflammation at a Medical College.

Wow Congrats on the Scholarship, Wolves.

That's very good for you, I hope to get one myself.

As it would be nice for my Parents to save the money, got brothers, So it would be very helpful if I got one. ^^

Congratulations buddy, I know you were really hoping for this.

VeLo - July 5, 2011, 1:30 pm

Now THAT is an accomplishment. Nice job man. :)

Thanks all. =)

It's the least they can do since I have to write a thesis my senior year, something unique to my program. xP

No wonder your so liked on this forum.

It's because your going to be amazing in real life too.
Wolves remember don't ever slow down for anyone.

That's great. Now you don't have to worry about HUGE student loans that will leave you in debt for 10+ years after you graduate. I had to join the Army to get free college :(

That's what you call .

The best thing to brag about.

iMario - July 6, 2011, 11:03 am

Great accomplishment indeed. Congratulation!

Wolves - July 6, 2011, 11:30 am

Thanks guys. ^_^

To celebrate, I made a donation to HF as I promised I would when applying for Red Lions.

ManUnited - July 6, 2011, 11:50 pm

Congratulations to you buddy. You are going to go far in life.

Tha Sneak - July 7, 2011, 12:01 am

Congratulations! Sorry I didn't notice this. Normally you would say something like this to me, but I never got word. Huge accomplishment! Now I know you're probably smarter than me. :P

ComputerNerd - July 7, 2011, 10:03 am

Congratulations! I hope as you go off to college everything goes well and you pursue what it is you want to do!

Luminon - July 7, 2011, 8:21 pm

Wow lucky. I want a door in my shower...

Zyzz - July 7, 2011, 10:08 pm

Damn this kid is a HQ in real life :p

Wolves - July 7, 2011, 10:17 pm

Thanks for all the kind words guys.

Truth is, I lack a lot of discipline and dedication, something I hope to change especially with such a generous offer.

Never give up guys, always strive even when things seem quite doubtful.

I was the only person in my program to get a new scholarship.

Zetas - July 11, 2011, 12:06 am

Congrats Wolves! That's great!

How much is the scholarship worth?
